Parade-Loving City Turned Out to Watch Till Eyeballs Ached

By LESLIE MILLIN

With a toot on the flute and a blang on the big bass drum, the Victoria Day grand parade showed 100,000 sidewalk-squatters Monday that this city can still get worked up about its namesake's birthday.

The 120-entry, 31-band parade was the climax to a week-end of sport, socializing and annual whooping it up.

Featuring a new only-two-turns route and some new faces, the parade also offered:

Better weather (mostly sunny) than expected;

Some shatteringly good precision marching;

More dogs than anyone ever expected;

More bands than anyone ever thought existed;

And more gaps than ever, despite the new route and the walkie-talkie system parade officials said would be used.

Sidewalks were lined hours before the parade was due to start, and police had the route from the Mayfair shopping centre to the Empress cleared off well in advance.

Stand Filled

By 9:30, the reviewing stand in front of the City Hall was filled—with Lieutenant Governor George Pearkes and his wife, some city aldermen, officials of RCMP, the navy, the army and a few others.

From a vantage point above the reviewing stand, this is the way the parade looked:

Clomping over the hill with ensigns fluttering, band playing at full bore and a flash of drawn swords came Commander Eugene Gosh, parade commander, and what looked like most of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Traditionally, they lead the parade.

Lieut.-Gov. Pearkes, immaculate in tails and grey Ascot top hat, sprang to his feet to take the first of many, many salutes.

Color party, band, color guard, two platoons of matelots—they all went thumping past.

QORs Halted

As the last naval "eyes-front" was bawled, the newcomer Queen's Own Rifles could be seen stopping for a moment right behind.

Then with a bugle blast and rattling drums, they clipped past the reviewing stand in a close-formation quick march—obviously their secret weapon, because everyone stopped looking at the sailors.

Three platoons of them went past, followed quickly and rather shyly by the RCAF Station Comox band, which was being shouted down by the vigorous strains of the British Grenadiers delivered by the 5th Independent Medium Battery band in their white pith helmets.

They in their turn were drowned out by the skirl of pipes playing All the Blue Bonnets Are Over the Border—the Canadian Scottish were descending in force.

For the next half hour, in fact, the military rumbled past, with the reviewing stand occupants bouncing up and down like mad to keep up with the salutes.

Band followed band, bugle followed bagpipe, kilt followed skirt followed neatly-pressed pants as airmen, seamen, officers and assorted cadets turned their eyes right, then front, and marched away.

Civilians Next

Leading off for the civilians was the Esquimalt Boys' Pipe Band, flanked by two small girls carrying two enormous naked swords, obviously a military influence from up front.

The Royal Canadian Legion color party went by—but no Red Ensign was in evidence—followed by Mayor R. B. Wilson in one open car, and J. D. Watts, Greater Victoria Celebrations Association chairman, in another.

Then came the greatest.

Bewilderingly enormous, dazzlingly arrayed, with the shiniest of instruments and the smilingest of majorettes, the Pasadena City College Lancer Band strode majestically by.

Some majorettes were waving flags, some were spinning batons, all were lovely—and the crowds just gasped.

While the spectators looked at the Lancers' retreating backs, Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt and reluctant Reeve Stanley Murphy of Saanich waved by in official cars.

U.S. TAKES FIRM STAND

Laos Situation Critical

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman said today the United States is "not ruling out" any measures—possibly including military moves—which it may find necessary "to preserve the neutrality and independence of Laos."

That was the answer given when the state department's press officer was asked at a press conference whether the United States might send troops into Thailand as was done in a period of crisis in Laos two years ago.

Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said the latest reports to the state department show that Communist Pathet Lao attacks are continuing in the Plaine des Jarres against forces loyal to the neutralist government of Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

Other officials said the attacks could result in destroying the neutralist forces under Gen. Kong Le and wrecking the whole internationally agreed neutralization program in Laos.

BACKED BY REDS

McCloskey declared the Pathet Lao attacks, which officials say is supported by battle-hardened elements from Communist North Viet Nam "have seriously threatened Souvanna Phouma's government and the fabric of the Geneva agreement's neutralizing laos in 1962."

So far, McCloskey said, United States activity has been concentrated on diplomatic efforts to stop the fighting. The U.S. has asked its Southeast Asia Treaty Organization allies to be on alert, appealed to Britain and Russia for co-operation and asked Britain, France and Pakistan to intercede with Communist China.

Meanwhile in Laos Kong Le set up a command post at Ban Khong, six miles southwest of Muong Pahnh, his former headquarters, which he was forced to abandon when neuralist positions on the Plaine des Jarres in central Laos were overrun Sunday.

Reports here have said the Pathet Lao gave Kong Le until today to surrender.

300 DEAD

A western officer, who flew back from a visit to Ban Khong, said Le's headquarters reported that neuralist forces had to leave 300 dead and wounded behind in their retreat from the plain.

He also said he saw about 130 badly wounded soldiers at Bang Khong airstrip awaiting evacuation.

ALBERNI MILL HIT BY STRIKE

PORT ALBERNI — An office workers' strike today threatened complete shutdown of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. pulp and paper operations here.

About 1,000 workers honored the picket lines of 60 office employees, including a number of women, who went on strike this morning.

The tie-up at MB & PR resulted from a stalemate in negotiating the first contract for Local 15 of the Office Employees International Union (CLC).

About 85 per cent of the pulp and paper operations is controlled by the pulp and sulphite union. Its members, together with another 200 workers of construction unions, refused to cross the picket lines.

The office employees, seeking what they called salary parity with pulp and paper mill workers in eastern Canada, are asking wage increases averaging $75. Existing salaries range between $205 and $450.

Earlier, the union rejected a majority conciliation board recommendation for a five-per-cent salary increase in a one-year contract.

Child Run Over On Her Birthday

By DESMOND BILL

A teen-ager and a tot were killed on Greater Victoria streets over the Victoria Day holiday as thousands of other Victorians were enjoying the first long week-end of summer.

Dead are:

Terri Ann Verpe, 3, of 2534 Graham.

Della Mae Hoegi, 19, of 3016 Donald.

TERRI ANN VERPE
. . . darted out

DELLA MAE HOEGI
. . . died in car

Terri was fatally injured Saturday afternoon when she ran across Kings Road in front of a car. It was her third birthday and her mother was frosting a cake at the time for a small family party to celebrate the event.

Terri had been playing in the garden of her home minutes before the accident. She left there to follow her 11-year-old sister, Denise, who had gone for a message to a nearby drug store.

When Mrs. Verpe noticed the child missing she went looking for her and saw a police ambulance at an accident scene. When she got there she found the victim was her own child. Mrs. Verpe rode with her daughter to the hospital.

Police said the little girl had darted out from the sidewalk into the path of a car driven by a 16-year-old boy.

The child clung to life through Saturday and Sunday and then died at 8.45 am., Monday.

Miss Hoegi was killed in what appears to have been an almost head-on collision on Douglas Street early Sunday morning. There were seat belts in the car in which she was riding but it appears she wasn't wearing them.

Miss Hoegi was at a wedding and reception Saturday night accompanied by her boy friend, Walter Allison, 22, of 631 Kenneth. The two had been going together 18 months and intended to become engaged, relatives said.

The accident occurred shortly after 1:30 a.m. as they drove north on Douglas and started to make a left turn on to Kenneth.

Their vehicle was in collision with a 1964 model car driven south on Douglas by Leslie Perry of the Queen's Own Rifles, Work Point Barracks.

CAR "EXPLODED"

Allison's car was thrown back 50 feet from the point of impact and a policeman at the scene said it looked as if it had "exploded."

Pieces were scattered for 60 feet around. Both Allison and Miss Hoegi stayed in the car although their seats were thrown out and were picked up 12 feet from the wreck.

Perry was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital and later transferred to Naden Hospital. It was expected he would be discharged today. Allison is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Miss Hoegi graduated from Esquimalt High School. She was a native Victorian and for the past year had been employed as a clerk-typist at B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

Funeral arrangements have not been made for either of the victims until a decision is made on inquests. McCall Bros. Ltd. is in charge in both cases.

Miss Hoegi is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hoegi, one sister, Mrs. D. Anderson of Victoria; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sutcliff of Victoria.

Terri is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Verpe; two sisters, and relatives in Saskatchewan.

Violent Deaths Total 15

By The Canadian Press

People died in near record numbers in British Columbia as they celebrated the first holiday weekend of the spring and summer season.

Traffic jams reaching record proportions heralded the end of the three-day weekend which saw at least 15 persons die—most of them on traffic-clogged highways, including two Victorians.

The highway death toll across Canada over the holiday was the highest on record. Sixty-four persons died, topping a record of 61 set in 1960. At least 94 persons were killed in all types of accidents.

The end of the weekend turned into a nightmare for traffic authorities and customs officials at Blaine, on the Washington-British Columbia border.

About 68,000 people crossed into the U.S. at Blaine during the weekend and most picked the same time Monday night to return. A customs official said the traffic, lined up as much as five miles at one point, was the worst in his memory.

KILLED IN CARS

The death count showed 12 persons killed in car crashes, two persons drowned and one burned to death.

The worst accident left three youths dead after their convertible plunged down a 50-foot cliff near Nelson. Alan James Nadeau, 19, of Nelson and Einar Anthony Lynn, 18, of

Victoria Majority Favors Red Ensign

By JOHN MIKA

Victoria lived up to its "little bit of olde England" image today—as far as waving the Union Jack is concerned anyway.

A small sampling of civic and community leaders showed most in favor of keeping the Red Ensign — or at the very least incorporating the Union Jack in any new version.

Only Mayor R. B. Wilson bucked the trend head-on and came out in favor of a distinctively Canadian flag — although some indicated they would go along with such a development if it won majority support across the nation.

Esquimalt Reve A. C. Wurtle was the most vehement defender of the traditional Red Ensign.

"This is my Canada and this is my flag and, God help me, I would be very disappointed if they took it away from me," he said.

He said he was reluctant to criticize Prime Minister Pearson's suggestion that the Red Ensign should be replaced by a new emblem "but I must admit he disappointed me very much.

"It was established by our forefathers and it is truly representative of our nation."

Mayor Wilson said it would be heart-wrenching to see the Red Ensign or Union Jack no longer used "but we must be realistic.

"I would favor a new and distinctive design, not because I

3 Designs Will Go To House

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson challenged the opposition today to propose a non-confidence motion next Monday if it wants to condemn the government's moves towards picking a distinctive Canadian flag.

(See Also Page 5)

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said today his cabinet has decided to replace the Red Ensign with a flag designed with maple leaves and plans to place its choice of a specific design before Parliament on Thursday.

He told reporters after a three-hour cabinet meeting that the question of procedure on the flag issue has yet to be settled but he hopes the parliamentary debate would take place before the two Houses take a summer recess.

Mr. Pearson said the design discussions in cabinet today were all variations of the maple leaf. He indicated they were:

1. Three maple leaves on a white background.
2. Three maple leaves on a white background with blue bars at each end.
3. Three maple leaves on a light blue background.

The prime minister was asked what would become of the Red Ensign.

"We haven't got into that yet," he said.

However, the prime minister noted that the Liberal party platform has said that the Union Jack would be flown in Canada as the symbol of Canada's membership in the Commonwealth and its position under the Crown.

MUCH TO BE DECIDED

He mentioned that there is a "great deal" yet to be decided in procedure and protocol.

Mr. Pearson indicated that the government attaches high priority to its proposal for a distinctive Canadian flag. He said he hopes the legislation would be passed by parliament "as quickly as possible" to enable debate on other high priority government legislation.

On the question of whether the government will stand or fall on the issue, Mr. Pearson said a new flag has been part of Liberal policy for two years.

"It will be close to confidence in that sense," he said.

He said each member of the Liberal party in the Commons will vote as his conscience dictates.

He added that there would be no problem for the government in this respect because the Liberal party already is "practically unanimous."

'KNOW DETAILS'

Mr. Pearson said he would make an announcement to the House later on the procedure in dealing with the flag question.

After the cabinet reached its decision Thursday, a resolution would be placed on the Commons order paper as quickly as possible.

In this way MPs and the public would "know the details of the action we are going to recommend."

The resolution then would become a matter of priority legislation in the Commons.

Mr. Pearson noted that in listing other priority measures in the Commons last week he reserved the right to insert other important measures as they arose.

Mr. Pearson had said entering the cabinet meeting that the flag issue had to be "straightened up" within the party before going before parliament.

THE FATHERS OF CONFEDERATION

W. A. Henry

William Alexander Henry married two wives and two political parties.

The first 16 years of his political life were spent in the ranks of the Liberal party.

But in 1857 he switched sides and joined the ranks of the Tories.

Henry was born at Halifax Dec. 30, 1816. He was educated at Halifax high school and eventually became a lawyer, being called to the Nova Scotia bar in 1840. The following year he got married for the first time—to Sophia McDonald—and was elected to the Nova Scotia Assembly, representing Antigonish as a Liberal. He stayed in that party until 1857 when he made his switch of political allegiance. In the meantime his first wife had died in 1845 and he had remarried in 1850—to Christiana McDonald.

After the London Confederation conference in 1866, Henry was credited with being one of the two men who drew up the actual wording of the British North America Act. On his return to Canada, he was defeated in the general election of 1867—largely because of his pro-Confederation work—and he returned to his law practice. Eventually, however, in 1875, he was named to the Supreme Court of Canada and held the post until he died at Halifax May 3, 1888.

84 ROAD DEATHS, 200 RIOTERS JAILED

Violence Rocks U.K. on Holiday

LONDON (AP) — Britons went back to work today from the three-day Whitsun weekend with 84 dead on the crowded roads and 200 arrested for teen-age violence.

The traffic deaths were twice last year's figure. The teen-age battles were the worst the country has seen.

Thousands of youngsters in the garb of Mods and Rockers, rival cults, battled on the beaches of resorts along the southern coast.

RESORT FIGHTS BACK

Reinforced police arrested them by the dozen. At Bournemouth, a resort normally inhabited by retired colonels and aged widows, more than 40 were arrested.

Thus was celebrated the Festival of Pentecost, commemorating the descent of the Holy Spirit on the apostles.

The Rockers ride powerful motorbikes and wear leather packets, jeans and cowboy boots. The Mods, aggressors in every battle this weekend, dress expensively and ride motor scooters.

Many male Mods use eyebrow pencil, eye shadow, transparent lipstick and even rouge. Hairstyles change every week.

On weekend they get "purped up" on purple heart tablets, an amphetamine stimulant which enables them to go without food and sleep. The government is drafting a law to outlaw possession of the pills without a prescription.

The first Mods versus Rockers battle broke out, largely by accident, at Clacton, an east coast resort, at Easter.

This time the word went round London's teen-age grapevine that Margate was to be the scene.

Margate police got tough and arrested 50 youngsters. The main battleground shifted to Brighton, where 76 were jailed Monday night.

Norwegian Skipper Slain With Axe; Crewman Held

HONOLULU (AP)—An unidentified crew member is under lock and key aboard ship and police say he is a suspect in the axe killing of the Norwegian skipper of a Liberian flag freighter with an international crew.

With flags at half mast, and Capt. Jacob Natvig, 51, lying dead in his cabin, the 10,500-ton freighter Pomona arrived in Honolulu Monday.

Natvig's body was discovered last Friday as the 443-foot-long vessel steamed 600 miles east of Hawaii en route from Los Angeles to Formosa with a cargo of 9,500 tons of scrap metal. Natvig was from Lillensand, Norway.

Honolulu police, who were asked by Norwegian Consul Torkel Westly to investigate the killing, said first mate Alf Olsen, 35, found the body and ordered the ship diverted to Hawaii.

Olsen said Natvig's office next to his quarters was a shambles. A desk chair was overturned and papers were scattered about. Olsen said the captain had been chopped behind the right ear by an axe apparently taken from the bulkhead just outside the cabin.

Police said the crew of 25 men include Norwegians, Spaniards, Finns, Swedes, Columbians, a Dutchman and an Argentinian.

. . . 3 DESIGNS

On Friday he told the House in referring to the design with blue bars:

"I certainly would not wish to take any responsibility, either personally or on behalf of the government for some of the designs that have been appearing or indeed for the drawing that appeared in the newspaper this morning.

HANKERED FOR BARS

But in a press conference Monday, Mr. Pearson said he had a "hankering" for the design with blue bars.

His press conference followed the rough treatment he received Sunday night at the Royal Canadian Legion convention in Winnipeg.

Entering cabinet today, Mr. Pearson said it was the first time the cabinet as such had debated the flag issue but cabinet members attended previous party discussions of the matter.

He was asked about the Legion's proposal for a flag referendum.

"I don't think that decision would be very practical," he replied.

Mr. Pearson noted that when the Legion changed its own official badge, the executive drew up a design, then submitted it to a convention. The convention approved it.

The inference was that the government, as the executive, would follow the same course in Parliament.

. . . FLAG

Red Ensign but in the interests of the unity of our country,

3—R—

BEST SOLUTION

"I think we've reached the stage in our development as a country where a flag that is symbolic of Canada is perhaps the best solution."

Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy said he personally would prefer to keep the Red Ensign "because it is the only flag I'm familiar with."

Oak Bay Reeve Allan Cox said he hasn't seen the mooted new design embodying three red maple leaves with a single stem on a white background and has not yet made up his own mind on the question.

But he did point out that the Red Ensign (a copy of the British merchant marine symbol) was not a Canadian flag as such "but that doesn't mean I would be against making it the Canadian flag."

NOSTALGIC LIKING

"I have a nostalgic liking for the Red Ensign," said Chamber of Commerce president E. E. Pearlman. "But if the powers-that-be can come up with a design that is satisfactory to all of Canada then certainly I would not say no—I would support any design that helped achieve unity."

Mr. Pearlman added that most comment he has heard among acquaintances here "definitely" favors the Red Ensign.

Victoria Labor Council secretary-manager Ald. A. W. Toone said his personal preference was for the Red Ensign, possibly with the addition of a maple leaf in the fly.

"It's the flag under which Canada was built and, indeed, under which Canadians fought and were buried."

NOT MUCH TALK

However, he said he had not noticed much talk about the flag issue among unionists.

The same is true for students, according to the estimate of Mrs. Olivia Barr, president of the Alma Mater Society and Students Council at the University of Victoria.

"I haven't heard much discussion of the topic among students," she said. "We have other things that we feel strongly about—the need for more scholarships for instance.

"Strictly as my own opinion, I think this glag issue is a great deal of bother about something that doesn't need it.

"Our flag is perfectly all right and I don't see any reason to get excited about a new design. It's just a political issue."

. . . DEATHS

Kaslo, died in the crash Saturday night. John Ernest Drummond-Cox, 20, of Nelson, died Sunday in hospital.

Two more youths were killed and a third injured Monday when the car in which they were riding slammed into a bridge near Falkland, 40 miles east of Kamloops. Police withheld names.

Dr. Evelyn McConnel Lofflar, 47, died Saturday in a two-car collision on the Trans-Canada Highway near Lytton.

Darrel Crawford, 19, was killed Saturday when his car hit a soft shoulder, sheared off a power pole and landed on its roof in a field.

Gerald Edward Mahoney, 60, of Prince George, died in the wreckage of his car after it left the Cariboo Highway 18 miles south of the city and rolled over.

YOUNG RACER HIT

A father watched in horror as his son Ronald New, 12, Prince George, was killed by a pickup truck on the Hart Highway. The youngster lost control of the soap box racer and drove in front of the truck.

Alan Collins of Vancouver died Sunday of injuries suffered when his car hit a utility pole in the city.

A skindiver, Jack Grant Denny, 28, of North Kamloops, drowned in Adams Lake, 35 miles northeast of Kamloops, and Keith King, 10, of Chilliwack, died in a slough near his home.

John Kazza of Penticton was burned to death in a bunkhouse fire Saturday near Spences Bridge.

CONGO REBELS CUT OFF COMMANDOS

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — UN aircraft airlifted ammunition today to two Congolese commando companies cut off by Communist-backed rebels rampaging through Kiwilu Province.

Rebel warriors led by Pierre Mulele, Peking-trained former Congo education minister, besieged the commandos south of Gungu and burned more than 100 houses in Idiofa, both centres of bitter fighting when the revolt broke out last January.

The Congolese army claimed it ahd driven the rebels from Idiofa and killed 30 of them.

Mulele has the support of a "national liberation committee" of exiled Congolese politicians based in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo.

SMALL GIRL, big strut—even the littlest majorettes pounded the hard pavement for miles without showing signs of fatigue, twirling all the way in Victoria Day parade here Monday.

PARKSVILLE OUT

Gov't Won't Budge On Jail Decision

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the government has not changed its mind about rejecting Parksville as a new jail site.

Parksville residents protested last week when the government decided to build the jail between Victoria and Nanaimo instead of at the resort town.

Mr. Bonner said he spoke to a delegation from Parksville last week.

There were two reasons for rejecting Parksville, he said.

One was that a prison would harm the reputation of the popular resort area.

The other reason—the main one, Mr. Bonner said—was that Parksville would be an inconvenient site from an administrative point of view.

He said the town is too far from the courts in Victoria and Nanaimo which will handle most of the prisoners sent to the new jail.

"slow" gin:

What it is, and what it isn't.

"Slow" gin is a London Dry Gin—not a Sloe Gin. Most unlike Sloe Gin—which is flavoured with sloes instead of juniper berries—our "slow" gin is very, very dry.

Its listed name is Burnett's Sterling.

We call it "slow" because we make it slowly.

Most gins on the market are mass-produced. They run from modern, mammoth stills in oceans. But our Sterling is distilled in small, unhurried batches. What limits the amount—and sets the pace—is our little old copper Pot Stills.

The one you see on the right is more than 100 years old. We brought it from England in the 1920s—when we imported Burnett's complete distillery.

By today's standards, our old Pot Stills are miniatures—and slowpokes. But the men who mind them know them as a good cook knows her seasoned pots and pans. Watching, sipping, tasting, they let Sterling take its time. They believe that nothing excellent was ever turned out in a hurry.

We'd save money, of course, by switching to mass-producing equipment. But our Sterling Gin would cease to be a "slow" gin.

And it wouldn't taste the same.

Philippines Terms Refused By Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR—Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman has turned down a Philippine compromise formula for a second summit meeting with Indonesia but has modified his own terms for negotiations, an authoritative source said today.

Salvador Lopez, the Philippines' new UN ambassador, was to carry the Tunku's proposal to President Sukarno in Jakarta today.

The source said Tunku Abdul had pulled back from his demand for complete withdrawal of Indonesian guerrillas from Malaysian Borneo and would settle for a withdrawal "sufficient" to make clear that the Indonesian government sincerely wants a peaceful solution to the 16-month dispute.

Mayalsia also would insist that any withdrawal be verified by neutral nations or some world organization.

"It is very difficult to say whether President Sukarno will accept," said a source who is closely involved with the negotiations for a summit. "There are some very ticklish points. Not only the withdrawal but the linking of ministerial talks to a summit."

Peace River Power Co. Studies Suit

Peace River Power Development Co. is considering an appeal to the courts for more money from the provincial government.

The company was paid $8,000,000 after the government took over its plans and surveys for the Peace River power project in August 1961.

Vancouver lawyer F. H. Bonnell said today new legislation passed in March has wiped out the suit which Peace River Power Development Co. launched against the government last year.

The company was asking the B.C. Supreme Court to declare the takeover unconstitutional and was also seeking unspecified damages.

The constitutional question was dealt with in a judgement for the former owners of the B.C. Electric Co., B.C. Power Corp., issued last July by Chief Justice Sherwood Lett.

The BCE was taken over at the same time as Peace River Power Development Co.

Mr. Bonnell said the new legislation gives the company until June 20—three months after it was passed—to file a new appeal.

The appeal would be for money only, he said.

"We are considering it," Mr. Bonnell added.

Grenade Explodes Near U.K. Troops

NICOSIA (Reuters) — A spokesman for United Nations mediator Sakari Tuomioja today denied Athens reports that the Finnish diplomat would attend a meeting of the Security Council next month to discuss the Cyprus situation.

The denial came after the report of another incident involving UN troops.

A hand grenade exploded Monday night near two British soldiers of the UN peace force in the vicinity of the "Green Line" dividing the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities in Nicosia's old walled city. The soldiers escaped injury.

The Athens reports on Tuomioja suggested the mediator could take part in Security Counncil talks June 4 on whether the UN forces mandate in Cyprus should be extended beyond the initial three-month period expiring June 27.

Two weeks ago UN Secretary-General U Thant asked members of the Security Council to "devote their attention" to the question and a meeting will have to be called soon if the mandate is to be extended.

Bomb Discovered On Quebec Span

MONTREAL (CP) — A home-made bomb was found early today on the Victoria Bridge spanning the St. Lawrence River—a sinister climax to a series of incidents which marked the Victoria Day holiday here.

Det.-Sgt. Leo Plouffe, the Montreal police department's bomb disposal expert, dropped the device into the river. The bomb was discovered several hours after an anonymous telephone caller warned the bridge was in danger.

The bomb episode came in the wake of separatist-inspired manifestations Monday in the centre of the city.

General mayhem developed during the demonstrations, resulting in at least 85 arrests. Thugs carrying switch-blade knives were reported to have joined the street marches.

However, no one was severely hurt and there were no reports of major damage.

MADE FROM CASING

Sgt. Plouffe said the bomb was inside a plastic bag and was made from a Second World War shell casing apparently filled with an explosive.

Train and vehicular traffic was allowed back onto the bridge at 2:40 a.m. after it had been closed for five hours while the bomb hunt went on.

Following the separatist demonstrations, many of the persons picked up by police were released after a cooling-out period. The remainder were expected to appear in court today on counts of disturbing the peace and public mischief.

The affair started out as a protest — as announced some time ago—against the Victoria Day holiday by anti-confederationists promoting recognition of a Quebec holiday in honor of Dollard des Ormeaux, the hero of the Long Sault.

Dollard and a small band of patriots are said to have intercepted an Indian war party en route to attack Montreal after the city was founded in 1642. The settlers gave up their lives to the man but they fought so fiercely the Indians were dissuaded from placing the settlement under siege.

Police Chief J. Adrien Robert described the doings Monday as "a major disturbance."

USE ROADBLOCKS

His men threw up roadblocks to keep things under control at various points and some constables patrolled on horseback to disperse knots of demonstrators.

Underscoring the situation was the fear of recurrence of the 1955 St. Patrick's Day riot —an episode arising from the suspension of hockey great Maurice (Rocket) Richard—and the streetcar riots the following year, sparked by a student protest against the cost of tram fares.

Monday, as in the 1955 and 1956 outbursts, the hoodlum element jumped into the act. But sharp police action—the force was obviously better geared to deal with such trouble—prevented things from flaring out of hand.

The separatists marched from Lafontaine Park in the east-central belt of the city—a monument to Dollard was the assembly point—to the Place Ville Marie showplace in the downtown area.

About 150 youths took part in the march. The mob became unruly downtown and 14 were arrested. The youths shouted "gestapo" as police moved in to break it up.

Other arrests were made later in the day at various points downtown and in the east-end.

PLACE A WREATH

A wreath-placing ceremony took place meanwhile in the shadown of the Jacques-Cartier Bridge at a monument erected to 12 men executed on that spot after the Quebec Rebellion of 1837-38. The wreath was placed by Richard Bizier, member of a self-styled band of suicide commandos broken up last spring. He served four months in jail for planting a bomb at the RCAF building.

At Jacques-Cartier on the shore, the Red Ensign was burned by a group of French-speaking high school students. Classes were cancelled in observance of Victoria Day but about 30 students showed up anyway, burned the Ensign and unfurled a flag with a red star.

One student said the star was a symbol of "the call of the revolution."

The painted initials ALQ—denoting l'Armee de Liberation Quebecois — were found meanwhile after someone cut 11 wires strung alongside the CPR tracks near St. Lazare, Que., 40 miles west of Montreal.

It claimed the increase was not in line with salaries paid to similar workers in other parts of the country.

Company officials claimed last Tuesday it offered increases of $25 to $60, more than the five-per-cent increase recommended by the conciliation board, but the workers next day voted 46-14 to strike anyway.

But Bill Lowe, International vice-president of the union, said today the company at no time made the wage offer to the negotiating committee of the union.

Instead, he said, each employee was given an envelope marked confidential. In the envelope was a letter stating that the company's offer was retroactive to Feb. 1 and that the back money was deposited into the employees' individual bank accounts.

"This action was unethical," said Mr. Lowe. "It was an attempt to buy the employees off."

He added the salary issue was not the only obstacle in reching an agreement.

The company, he claimed, refused to consider employee protection, such as seniority, discharge, layoff and recall.

"The employer also refused to include any clause in the agreement stating that the present sick leave, welfare and pension plan will remain in effect," added Mr. Lowe.

The Wide Prairie Horizon

IT IS PERHAPS A MEASURE of the limited achievement of 20 years of socialist government in Saskatchewan that a new Liberal administration can take over and find few policies or undertakings that it must change. Time and economics have had their inexorable effects on the state-owned industrial projects into which the CCF-NDP government ventured; the social programs of the regime have been largely absorbed, during the past two decades, by the other political parties.

Confirmed by last week's recount, Mr. Thatcher will thus take office with few if any major changes in prospect, although he had been forced, for campaign purposes, into a platform somewhat farther right than current Liberal policies embrace.

Although Mr. Thatcher won with a workable margin of eight seats, he had a smaller total vote than the losers. The Liberals gained some 30,000 votes over the 1960 election; the CCF lost a little less than 20,000 votes. A total of 85,000 "others" votes in 1960 dwindled almost to nothing this year—more than 40,000 of them may be accounted for as not having voted at all. There has therefore been no significant revolution in the thinking of Saskatchewan voters—it is the distribution of their votes that has made the difference.

Mr. Thatcher must find cabinet material from supporters without experience in governing, as he is without experience in leading a government, and he must create an administration that will be acceptable to a province at least half of whose people are still socialist in their political outlook.

Mr. Thatcher's victory was won with little or no support from federal Liberals, who cannot forget that he was once a CCF member himself. It appears that in his efforts to govern, at least at first, he will likewise be very much on his own. It must be recognized, however, that the federal-provincial picture has changed greatly even in the short space of time since the Saskatchewan election.

The decentralization of financial arrangements heralded by Mr. Pearson's proposal to accommodate Quebec in the national pension plan and tax-sharing has produced a new climate throughout the provinces. As a Liberal premier, Mr. Thatcher may expect to be wooed by Ottawa with considerable warmth, while due to the new federal-provincial relationship he will find himself in possession of powers and options which were not available to his CCE predecessors, Mr. Douglas and Mr. Lloyd.

Liberal Premier Thatcher therefore is in a favorable position to make himself more popular in Saskatchewan, but it might be, in some cases, at the expense of the federal Liberals.

Taking Charge in the Congo

NEXT MONTH UNITED NATIONS troops in the Congo will begin a program of withdrawal, handing over fuller duties to newly-trained troops of the Congolese central government.

As short a time ago as last fall it was being predicted that the UN troops would be required in considerable force in the Congo for several years at least. However, there has been a great improvement in the political situation which can be linked directly to improvements in the economic situation. Financial settlements were reached with Belgium, which formerly held colonial power over the Congo, and European investments are flowing into the country on an increasing scale. Latest reports show increased exports of minerals from Katanga, as well as of agricultural products from other parts of the country.

There are two causes for worry when the UN troops start handing over to the Congolese the full responsibilities for keeping order.

One is the presence in Brazzaville, in the former French Congo, of large numbers of supporters of the late pro-Communist leader Patrice Lumumba. This dissident group is supported by Red China and expects, apparently, to receive Chinese material aid for an attempt to win back control of the Congo. Their leader, and Lumumba's political heir, Antoine Gizenga, is in prison in Leopoldville.

The other threat to the Congo's security comes from Moise Tshombe, former president of Katanga province, who fled with a large number of Katanga gendarmerie to neighboring Portuguese Angola. Tshombe continues to announce that he will return to take over Katanga and separate it from the central government.

UN observers believe, however, that should either of these threats to the peace become real the central government could draw on immediate military aid from other independent African nations to bolster its own troops which are now reasonably well-armed and trained.

An important factor in the future of the Congo is that both Belgium and Portugal, which could provide support for the dissidents, have apparently come to the realization that further colonial adventuring in the Congo cannot succeed. Belgium has made its peace with its former colony and Portugal has promised the UN that it will keep Tshombe and his gendarmerie disarmed. The amount of trouble that the Lumumbists could cause, even with Red Chinese help, should not be beyond the power of the central government to put down.

Greater Victoria on Display

ONCE AGAIN A LARGE NUMBER of Greater Victorians have done a fine piece of work to provide a still larger portion of this community with an attractive May parade. The Elks organization did its usual competent job in staging the event; the many contributors are to be congratulated on their civic spirit as well as their exhibits.

The entries of the ethnic groups—Sons of Norway, East Indian, Chinese and native Indian—won particular favor with the crowds. These are specially looked for each year and provide a valuable display of the racial variety that enriches our community.

The school bands and drill teams were also crowd pleasers and the applause showed how greatly the school bands from California and Washington are appreciated. The various queens and princesses were their charming selves. The armed services and associated corps were, of course, a highlight; a parade would not be a parade in Victoria without their admirable participation.

The day's event, in a word, was as usual—and that is a compliment. But this description also contains a hint of suggested improvement. The parade has been reduced to its basic essentials now—the undecorated delivery trucks have been eliminated and each entry has a real contribution to make to the day's entertainment. But to this basic state might some new attraction now be added?

Could the celebrations group proceed to include some new feature or theme which would show sparkling originality and inventiveness? Then the public comment, instead of: "An excellent parade, but much like last year's" would become: "An excellent parade—never saw anything like it."

The catch, of course, is what to do. Any suggestions?

Sorry Start

IN THE VANCOUVER FOREST district, which includes Vancouver Island, more than five times as many fires have occurred so far this year as in the corresponding 1963 period. They have cost eight times as much to fight.

The figures themselves are not particularly alarming—49 fires and $1,200 costs. But they have broken out at a time when the hazard rating has been generally low and they have been attributed largely to industrial carelessness and heedlessness by recreation seekers.

The two elements of our society who should be most clearly aware of the dangers and economic loss of fire in the woods are blamed for causing most that have occurred. This is far from a propitious start in the current season. The activities of the careless should be checked quickly.

Surely it is unnecessary to point out to industry that its workmen cannot log and haul to conversion plants the trees that go up in flames, or to the recreationists that they can find scant attraction or enjoyment in a forest of charred snags and powder-fine ash that should be forest duff.

Recent weather has been deceptive — frequently raw and often moist, but not moist enough to prevent forest fires. Our people had better recognize that fact and govern themselves accordingly.

"Here they come . . . another chronicle of lost plugs, broken lines, snagged gear, embedded hooks, broken-down outboards . . . and no fish . . . !"

Hanging Out More Flags — But Not Mr. Pearson's Maples

Gray

IF Prime Minister Pearson is planning to hit the sawdust trail this summer to drum up some enthusiasm for a maple leaf motif on his new Canadian flag, somebody should warn him that the boondocks of the West are bestrewn with booby traps. The first problem will be to sell the maple leaf as a typical Canadian anything. The maple leaf we have been seeing on Mr. Pearson's flag seems to have been lifted, holus bolus, from the cover of a book entitled "Trees, a Guide to Familiar American Trees", by Dr. Herbert S. Zim and Dr. A. C. Martin. The latter is the former Chief Biologist of the United States Wildlife Service.

Maple trees, and they are indeed "familiar American" trees, are described on pages 116 to 125. Several varieties grow along the Ottawa-St. Lawrence-Maritime axis. These are the Sugar Maple, Red Maple, Mountain Maple and Silver Maple. None of these varieties grows anywhere else in Canada.

Widely American

The Sugar Maple, on the other hand, grows in the United States as far west as the Mississippi and south to the Carolinas. The Red Maple is found from Maine to Florida, the Silver Maple over the entire eastern half of the United States and the Mountain Maple in the Great Lakes area.

Two Maples grow in British Columbia—the Rocky Mountain Maple and the Broadleaf Maple. Like all the others, they grow far more extensively in the United States than in Canada. Neither leaf bears much resemblance to Mr. Pearson's maple. That leaves the Prairie Provinces.

The misnamed Manitoba maple grows all over the Great Plains and the eastern half of the United States. It is really the Boxelder and the leaf resembles an elm much more than it does maple. It does grow, in Manitoba. It grows profusely there, but elsewhere it does poorly because of its rank summer growth and tendency to winter-kill. Anything that winter-kills in this country doesn't have much place as a national symbol, even if it resembled Mr. Pearson's maple, which it doesn't.

Fir Or Spruce Better

So the first problem is with the Pearson symbol itself. Far from being exclusively Canadian, it is not even predominantly Canadian. Moreover, it is not something that a single Canadian will ever have seen growing north of the 49th Parallel. If it is something Canadian that is wanted, a fir or spruce tree would be far more appropriate, because only the southern prairies get left out and nothing but grass grows there naturally anyway.

Until now, nobody has been carrying the ball for the Pearson flag in the West. What support it gets is from the people who believe we should have a flag of our own. Their support seems to be in default of having seen anything more atractive. It is the "Well, I guess it would be all right" sort of response compared with "Oh boy, this is the flag for me!"

On the other hand, suport is building up for the Red Ensign. The Canadian Legion sticker campaign is beginning to take hold. Stickers are being distributed showing the Red Ensign with the words—"This is our flag — keep it flying."

'Directed Apathy'

More and more, office buildings are flying the Red Ensign, though many decisions come from what one legion official described as "directed apathy". A legion member who gets worked up over the flag question can persuade building managers to fly the Red Ensign simply by suggesting it to them.

In Alberta and Saskatchewan provincial public buildings fly the Union Jack. So do the public schools, largely, one suspects, because they happen to have Union Jacks. In Calgary it took a good deal of probing to discover what the school flag policy was and why. It is to fly the flag only on special days.

Under the School Act of Alberta "Flag" means the Union Jack or "other design adopted by Canada". Canada has adopted the Red Ensign for its public buildings on the prairies but the schools of Alberta stay with the Union Jack.

In Manitoba, however, Premier Duff Roblin has announced that in future all the schools in Manitoba will fly the Red Ensign as, presumably, will the public buildings of Manitoba. Mr. Roblin, who is given occasionally to candour, admitted that the agitation by the Canadian Legion had been a factor in his decision.

As a general thing in the west, more flags, both Red Ensign and Union Jack are being flown than in previous years. In the beginning, there were some anti-American overtones. In the years after the war, Calgary merchants went on an American flag binge and store windows broke out in a rash of American flags in the hope of luring Americans into the shops. A definite reaction set in and it took only a nasty remark from Canadian customers for the American flags to disappear.

More notable reactor to pressure was the Calgary Stampede. It once flew as many American flags from its grandstand as it did Canadian flags as it aped the mythological American south west. Two Stampede directors, who got a chewing out from valued customers over American flag-waving, reacted with such vigor that American flags disappeared from the Stampede Grounds.

Going Canadian

This summer the Stampede is even booking Canadian talent into its shows, albeit Canadian talent playing American hootenannies.

On the Prairies, the flag issue gives insular westerners a chance to exert their independence from Americans and at the same time gives the back of their hand to the far off Quebec nationalists. The ultimate in something or other was achieved last week by the owners of the new Calgary Inn, a 12 storey hotel now under construction.

The roof is not yet on, the structure is encased in pliofilm, but its four flag poles are neatly divided between Red Ensigns and Union Jacks. This is surely the first time in Canadian history when commercial interests planted the flag even before the building was up. It is the sort of thing that a new-flag salesman will ignore at his peril.

A Risky Humpty Dumpty Situation in Viet Nam

Alsop

ANYONE attempting to sum up the deeply disturbing situation in Viet Nam must begin by pointing out the grave deterioration since the assassination of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Many months before the coup d'etat against him, President Diem's government had obviously ceased to be permanently viable, mainly because it's key figure, the president's brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, had succumbed to the combined pressures of the unending war and his own egomania. A government in which the key figure is clearly unbalanced cannot last very long.

None the less, those who so piously predicted that Diem's departure would bring a great improvement, and incidentally contributed greatly to the nonability of the Diem government, have not been justified by subsequent events.

With all its accumulated handicaps and defects, the Diem regime had managed to impose a measure of coherence and discipline on the Vietnamese war effort. When the authoritarian went, however, the coherence and discipline vanished as well. It has to be added, in fairness, that the resulting sharp downturn in the curve of the war was considerably exaggerated by another factor.

In brief, the unbalanced Nhu had begun negotiating for a deal with the North Vietnamese Communists in the last months before his death. These negotiations, strongly promoted by a secret French intrigue, had in turn caused the Communists to slacken their military pressure on Diem and Nhu.

But when the hope of a deal vanished with the coup d'etat against Diem, the Communist high command in Hanoi ordered an immediate all-out attack, employing all available reserves. Because of this added pressure, the deterioration in the months immediately after the deaths of Diem and Nhu reached really frightening proportions.

Communist Gains

The vigorous new head of the Vietnamese government, Gen. Nguyen Khanh, estimates that in the period of the post-Diem military junta the Communist enemy gained control of an additional seven million of the Vietnamese rural population. Most of the wisest Americans here now feel that General Khanh's estimate is not far off.

General Khanh's second coup d'etat fortunately ended the junta's sadly slack government by committee. Since that time progress has been made. But as is implied by General Khanh's other estimate, that he has now recaptured control of two million of the seven million people lost to the enemy, the ground lost during the post-Diem deterioration has by no means been entirely regained.

It is not easy to believe, either, that all the lost ground is going to be regained in the near future. It is even harder to believe, alas, that rapid further progress will be made from that point and that the light of possible peace will thus begin to glimmer, at long last, at the end of this long, dark tunnel of civil war.

With American support, General Khanh is seeking to recruit 50,000 additional troops. He has raised the army's pay. More important still, he is taking the step that should have been taken long ago to improve the situation of the civil guard and self-defence force members, who do so much of the village-level fighting in this war.

Yet the desertion rates, which rose abruptly after the anti-Diem coup d'etat, remain uncomfortably high with a disturbing tendency to rise still further. In several provinces, meanwhile, the Communist forces are perilously close to having the upper hand. And the Viet Cong have begun challenging combat, not just in battalion strength (in itself an innovation only a little while ago), but in forces of regimental strength formed by combining several battalions.

These are grim signs, and to these signs must be added the after-effects of two coups d'etat in rapid succession. One after-effect is helpful. In brief, the vast majority of Vietnamese think that two coups are quite enough; and this strong sentiment will at last act as a significant deterrent of still another coup.

But the other after-effect is quite different. Two coups in succession have broken or at least half-broken the spring of the patience that the Vietnamese people have shown for so long. Although no end of the war seems to be in sight, an end of the war is more and more ardently longed for.

Very Fragile

For all these reasons, the present situation in Viet Nam must be described as dangerously fragile. It is like Humpty Dumpty, who was well enough while still on his wall, but quite beyond rescue by "all the king's horses and all the king's men" once a small shift in equilibrium caused him to fall from the wall.

The future of the United States as a pacific power none the less depends on this Humpty Dumpty-like situation. And to make matters worse, other new factors have entered the calculation which are all too easily capable of pushing Humpty Dumpty off the wall with great abruptness. But these new factors must be covered in a further report.

As Our Readers See It

Milking Profits

Further to Mrs. Whittaker's letter: Since I have just finished trying to balance my budget and pay the bills for the past month (both can't be done) I would challenge anyone to tell us how to get more of what the employed man calls "take home pay."

To get a larger milk cheque sounds quite simple—ship more milk. Now to do this we must increase our herd. First we have to pay for these cows, by either shipping surplus milk for $2.48 per cwt. which we must also pay for in order to receive full price for our milk.

Now, we have our extra cows and ship more milk, so we buy more feed, and possibly an extra milking machine, and then in order to get these extra chores done in less than a 16-hour day we try to find a dependable hired man. We go around in a full circle and end up with possibly less take-home pay than before.

As for the pasture Mr. Richter speaks of, there is almost none yet this year as the weather has been too cold. You would think grass was free the way he speaks, but so help me it isn't. It is not just a field of weeds that we turn our cows into.

A DAIRY FARMER'S WIFE.

Borrowed Pronouncements

When Mr. F. H. Staverman shows his contempt for the things of the Church, as in his letter of May 11 (and former letters) which he labels "churchianity," what does he substitute? Evidently his own pronouncements.

These are not original with him but mere acceptance of the things which have been said by others from time immemorial. They would make sense only if he denounced the corrupt things of the Church. But to do so he would need to learn the things which are not corrupt. He gives no evidence of knowing what these are: for they are divine truths, revealed to mankind for his amendment (which we all sorely need). They are given with freedom of choice as to their acceptance.

If he repudiates the divine uncorrupted things, and substitutes his own borrowed (or stolen) notions, then these might better be labelled "churchianity!"

Herrings 'Mice' of the Sea

Carl

Just as the mouse in the field is the staple food for a great variety of animals, ranging from reptiles through birds and mammals, so the herring in the sea is the main food source for marine predators. Almost every fish-eating form subsists upon herring at some time during its life.

The list of dependents includes fish such as coho, spring, ling cod, rockfish, halibut, dogfish, and almost any other fish which feeds upon fish. Among birds are cormorants, grebes, loons, gulls, terns, mergansers, kingfishers, herons, eagles, murrelets, puffins, auklets, murres, guillemots and other piscivorous species. Herring-eaters among mammals include otter, mink, seals, sea-lions, porpoises, whales, and, of course, man.

Nor should the invertebrate animals be ignored in this survey. While in the egg stage, herring are consumed in great numbers by carnivorous snails, worms, crabs, shrimps, amphipods, starfishes and other bottom-dwelling scavengers. As young fish they are natural prey for sea anemones, jellyfish, arrow worms, squid and actopus.

No other species of fish in our area provides such a bountiful supply of protein.

In addition to the natural drain placed upon the species by all these forms which eat herring, there is the very great drain caused by man's exploitation.

As many as 192,000 tons are taken in a season by commercial fishermen in British Columbia and a single haul of a purse seine may net 12 million herring. One would think that if this tremendous harvest were kept up year after year the population would soon be reduced to a handful.

But this has not been the case. Despite the heavy usage by nature and by man, herring seem to be about as numerous as ever. It seems that their reproductive capacity is far beyond that necessary to maintain their numbers at the level which prevailed before man entered the picture. As the drain on the population increased, the survival rate stepped up automatically to compensate for the losses.

This is not to say that there is no limit to the number of herring that can be harvested by man. The present catch is probably just as much as we can afford to take without seriously depleting the breeding stock. Fisheries officials set quotas each season with a view to maintaining the stocks of fish at their most productive levels.

But we may have to change the manner in which we use these fish. At the present time almost the entire catch is reduced to oil and meal and only a small part is sold fresh or used as bait by sport fishermen. As the demand for protein for human use increases we may find it wiser to divert a larger proportion of the commercial catch into food use rather than "waste it" in the form of oil and meal.

YOUR HEALTH By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

Bad Breath

Alvarez

A correspondent writes to say that bad breath has run through three generations of her family, and caused them great mental distress. This would suggest what I've long suspected, that some people who have bad breath have some peculiarity in their body chemistry which causes it, or they may have some abnormality of their liver, which causes it to fail in its perhaps normal process of filtering out bad odors which come to it in the veins that bring blood to it from the bad-smelling large bowel.

I am sure also that some people are at times so tense and nervous that their breath becomes bad. I've often noticed that persons who have just been under great strain, as at a funeral of a loved one, or at a bitter lawsuit, or at a public committee hearing where there was a great deal of anger and emotion, have had very foul breaths.

I know of a woman who normally had a perfectly sweet breath but who, on being driven down a steep and very dangerous road in the California Sierras—a road which in two or three miles drops from a pass at 9,000 feet down to a plain at perhaps 4,000 feet—always developed a very bad breath. The minute she was off the precipitous road and onto a safe highway, her breath became sweet again.

* * *

I have also had many women complain to me that if a man started to be very affectionate, and they got embarrassed and tense, they got a very bad breath. Some of this may be due to an abnormal dryness of the mouth, but some may be due to some nervous action that knocks out a cleansing action of the liver.

I have known women who the first time they came into my office had a terrible breath, but later, when they knew me and were not at all tense with me, had a sweet breath.

I have known men with always a terrible breath who I thought must have something decidedly wrong with their body chemistry. Such a change in body chemistry may account for the foul breath of some persons who are dying. Many very old people have a mousey odor on their breath. Usually children have a sweet breath.

Other types of bad breath may come from the mouth, teeth, tonsils or nose. There is a rare disease of the nose called ozena, which can make a very bad breath.

The delicate quiet beauty of our native flowers in their natural surroundings are a delight to all who have eyes for such things. When they occur on property being bought for building they should be treasured.

Where there are native trees and underbrush it can be safely assumed that one of more kinds of wild flowers will make their appearance in season.

If neighbors in the vicinity cannot give any clues on the subject it may be necessay to wait an entire year, certainly through an entire spring, for the different kinds to appear.

The reason for mentioning our native plants in this column is because of the rapid disappearance of many of our loveliest kinds.

Unless a few gardeners decide to maintain native gardens, these will be seen only in officially designated conservation areas. The built-up districts will be without the stately blue camass, the dainty Easter-lily (erythronium) and even the native ferns so useful and effective on bare rocky outcrops.

It is no doubt a great temptation to level off a lot and create a garden along conventional lines, but where dogwoods firs, oaks or arbutus are already growing think a long time before destroying them.

The advice and opinion of more than one person should be sought, but the first should be a naturalist thoroughly familiar with the native plants on the Island.

We are fortunate in having several such people in Victoria who are able from experience to know the association of plants in a given environment, and can guess pretty accurately those which would likely appear at other times of the year.

Cleaned out of tangled undergrowth and weedy vines, a garden lot dedicated to native plants would be a singularly peaceful retreat for busy city folk. Requiring a minimum of care and upkeep, it would still satisfy the urge most of us have to work occasionally with the soil, yet it is the kind of garden which would permit plenty of leisure to enjoy it to the full.

SYNOPSIS — A low-pressure area centred near the Queen Charlotte Islands this morning is expected to remain nearly stationary today and Wednesday and gradually weaken. This will maintain a circulation of cool, moist air over the north coast and northern interior of B.C. A weak ridge of high pressure building over Vancouver Island promises sunshine for some areas of the south coast and southern interior however.

Saskatchewan Has Surplus For 1963-64

REGINA (CP) — The Saskatchewan government has a surplus of $9,200,000 on its operations in the 1963-64 fiscal year ended March 31.

The government said in a semi-annual white paper released at the weekend that revenues in the year were $207,600,000 compared with $195,450,000 in 1962-63.

Expenditures were $197,700,000 compared with $185,500,000 in 1962-63.

Provincial Treasurer J. H. Brockelbank said the surplus reflected "a combination of buoyant economic conditions and excellent crop yields."

When the 1963-64 budget was brought down in the legislature, Mr. Brockelbank estimated expenditures of $187,883,710 and a deficit of $3,577,670. At that time he said a deficit was anticipated because of a slowing down of the national economy.

AT TENSION-PACKED LEGION CONVENTION

Pearson Battles Flag Hecklers

WINNIPEG (CP)—Apologizes poured out to a word-weary Prime Minister Pearson Monday following Sunday night's rowdy reception when he took his flag campaign into the enemy's camp and was given a vicious verbal shelling.

The Dominion Command of the Royal Canadian Legion, whose members shouted the prime minister into a temporary submission on the flag question, made it clear Monday that it regretted — and was embarrassed by — every interjection that was fired at the prime minister.

"I feel so badly about this," said Judge C. C. Sparling, the legion's Dominion president. "We are so very, very sorry it happened. We thought we had everything under control, but some members let their feelings run wild."

Mr. Pearson battled with his hecklers at the opening ceremonies of the legion's annual convention when he placed the flag issue firmly before about 1,900 delegates and their wives and said he "most sincerely" believed Canada should have a distinctive new flag with a maple-leaf design.

RED ENSIGN BACKED

At the first mention of a new flag, the tension-filled theatre let loose a yelling endorsation of the red ensign, and from then on Mr. Pearson was edging through a minefield, his words igniting one blast of reaction after another.

"Drop dead," he was told. "God bless John Diefenbaker," he heard. "Shut up," "Kick him out." He doggedly delivered his prepared text, jutting his jaw into the microphones so his words would carry over the noise below.

"I believe most sincerely that it is time now for Canadians to unfurl a flag that is truly distinctive and truly national in character; as Canadian as the maple leaf which should be its dominant design; a flag easily identifiable as Canada's; a flag which cannot be mistaken for the emblem of any other country; a flag of the future which honors also the past; Canada's own and only Canada's."

Would such a change mean any disrespect for the Union Jack? he asked, and before he could reply himself, he was drowned out by cries of "Yes, yes, yes."

Judge Sparling had to come to his aid on two occasions to try to restore order.

Mr. Pearson made it clear during his speech that he didn't intend to hold a referendum on the issue as frequently requested by the Legion.

The prime minister tried to establish a solid foundation for his flag speech soon after he rose.

"Members of the Legion are aware of my government's commitments made by our party some years ago to ask parliament to decide on a distinctive Canadian flag within a certain period of time. I, too, am very much aware of your Legion executive's current attitude toward that government policy." He was going to place his views before the audience frankly and honestly. "You would expect me to do this and I believe it is my duty also. I expect dissent. I also respect it."

Through most of the 30-minute speech, one delegate kept a Red Ensign hoisted over his head in the middle of the theatre. A few other delegates rallied around him to raise their arms in cheers. There were a few plainclothes policemen in the audience.

Although it was obviously an effort for the prime minister to shout out his speech, he didn't appear rattled by any of the hecklers.

With his hands in his jacket pockets, he kept his face close to the microphones, staring seriously at the crowd. In a free country, he said, one has the right to disagree "but in a free country one also has the right to be heard."

Whatever new flag Canada may unfurl, he said, it won't mean the country is turning its back on the Union Jack.

The man with a family should review his insurance regularly. London Life explains why below:

Some disturbing facts from London Life for the man who believes $10,000 is a lot of insurance

$10,000 would maintain a young widow and her two children for only three or four years. How much would they need to live comfortably until the children are grown? London Life helps you answer this question:

IF YOU HAVE ever shaken your head at the weekly grocery bill, think how large it would look to your wife if you weren't around to pay it.

Life insurance has many uses, but its most important job is to protect your family.

If you should die, your wife would be faced with several financial problems: caring for the children until they are grown, putting them through school, then providing for herself.

Will $10,000 do the job? Consider these facts:

- $10,000 would give your wife and children an income of $250 a month for less than four years.
- The cost of raising a child from birth to age 18 is estimated at $9,000.
- The cost of sending a youngster to university is at least $1,000 a year. (The Dominion Bureau of Statistics states that the average cost for a student living at home is $1,196 and for a student living away from home, $1,550.)

Now consider these encouraging facts from London Life.

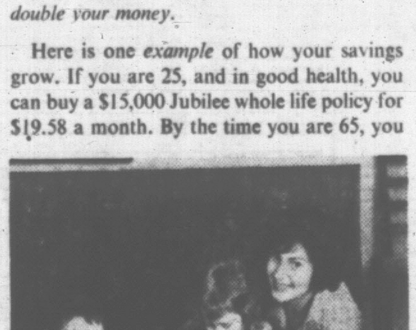
(1) A London Life representative can help you calculate the total amount of protection your family needs. (Note: there's no handy rule-of-thumb; the amount will vary from family to family.)

(2) A London Life planned program of insurance works two ways for you. It creates an immediate estate to protect your family and also builds a nest-egg for retirement.

(3) The sooner you start, the more money you'll save. The Jubilee, for example, is a profit-sharing policy, so you earn dividends each year. If you buy young, you can actually double your money.

Here is one example of how your savings grow. If you are 25, and in good health, you can buy a $15,000 Jubilee whole life policy for $19.58 a month. By the time you are 65, you will have built up savings of about $19,755—twice as much as you will have paid in premiums. (This is made up of $8,370 in guaranteed cash value and $11,385 in accumulated dividends.)



While a London Life Jubilee Policy protects the family, it also builds surprising savings.

(4) The dividends above are based on London Life's current dividend rate. While they are not guaranteed, the Company has had an outstanding record of dividend growth for over 50 years. For example, since 1951 the dividend rate has been increased seven times.

(5) You can buy your insurance from London Life on a monthly budget plan.

(6) If a financial emergency crops up, you can borrow from London Life on the cash value of your policy. Quickly and quietly. The interest rate is 6%—comparable with banks' regular lending rates and much lower than personal loan companies'.

(7) You can reserve the right to buy more insurance in the future—without a medical examination.

(8) London Life has one final suggestion: sit down with your wife and talk over your investments, obligations and life insurance. Be sure she understands your will, insurance program and plans for the family. It is also a good idea for her to meet your banker, insurance man and lawyer.

The facts above should start you thinking about your life insurance program. Is it doing the job? If you're not quite sure, talk to a representative of The London Life Insurance Company. You will quickly discover that he has been schooled to tailor insurance to fit your needs.

'Chev' to Build Foundry

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Chevrolet division of General Motors Corp. announced Monday it will build a new iron foundry at Saginaw that will employ 2,000 workers and have an annual payroll of about $13,500,000.

Chevrolet gave no estimate of cost for the plant, which will cover 766,000 square feet. It is to be completed in the spring of 1966.

Semon E. Knudsen, Chevrolet general manager, disclosed plans for the new plant, the second announced this month for Saginaw by his division.

Knudsen told a press conference the foundry will produce nodular iron for engine and rear axle parts, such as crankshafts, camshafts, wheel spindle flanges, clutch pressure plates and other components.

Knudsen said the new plant would release nodular iron facilities of Chevrolet's present Saginaw foundry "for increased production of grey iron parts."

TOWERS TO BRIGHTEN RUN-DOWN AREA

$35 Million Development Plan Proposed for Downtown Halifax

By CAL HOLLOWAY

HALIFAX (CP)—A bold new redevelopement scheme which will change the city's skyline to the tune of $35,000,000 is scheduled to begin in downtown Halifax in July.

An agreement for the 19-acre development was signed last week between the city and Provinces and Central Properties Limited of London, Eng. It is expected to be completed in 1968.

The area—known as the Cornwallis Centre—is northwest of the central business district and lies roughly between the historic Halifax Citadel and the waterfront.

SKYSCRAPERS

Replacing a section of the city which a 1957 study found to be "generally in a deplorable condition," the centre will contain three 22-storey apartment towers —skyscrapers by comparison to existing buildings in the area, a 450-room hotel, a massive shopping complex and recreation and parking facilities.

Five years after the 1957 study recommended redevelopment, the city, in agreement with Central Mortgage and Housing Coroporation, invited proposals for redevelopment. Council expropriated the land and demolished the old buildings.

REJECT FIRST PLAN

The only reply to the city's invitation came from Provinces and Central Properties who submitted plans for a $50,000,000 scheme. Council rejected this, reasoning that Halifax was not quite ready for it. It was felt most of the proposed buildings were out of scale with the city and would "overwhelm existing development . . ."

The British company was given one year to revise the plan, and came up with the $35,000,000 scheme just before the deadline. The company will pay $3,000,000 for the cleared land.

The semi-luxurious towers, the first phase of the project, will contain 480 one and two-room apartments. They will have underground parking, swimming pools and other recreational facilities.

Pedestrians will use walkways which will lead from the towers to the shopping area, avoiding traffic.

A 24-storey office tower will rise 300 feet into the air. Each floor will contain 11,000 square feet of office space. The building will be served by eight high speed elevators.

Papers, Magazines Cut Postal Profits

MONTREAL (CP) — Postmaster-General Nicholson said today the handling of newspapers and magazines creates the biggest deficit in the post office but indicates he has no new plans to raise their rates.

Mr. Nicholson told the Periodical Distributors of Canada that last year the post office handled more than 572,000,000 newspapers ad periodicals at a cost of $36,000,000. Revenue in this sector was less than $10,000,000 leaving a loss of nearly $27,000,000. The entire postal deficit was about $37,000,000 on all classes of mail.

Other classes of mail, he stressed, are being made to pay their own way through increased rates. He cited a string of such increases in recent months.

Mr. Nicholson said periodicals will pay about $500,000 in additional postal rates under a proposal now before Parliament. This will introduce the principle of a minimum charge per item instead of the flat poundage rate.

Sales Tax Recommended In Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Manitoba royal commission recommended Friday the provincial government relieve the municipalities of some of their financial burdens and levy a retail sales tax to pay the shot.

Biggest transfer of responsibility would be in the fields of health, welfare and education.

The bill to the province would be about $15,000,000 a year.

Using a tax structure similar to Ontario's—food and children's clothing are among the exemptions—the commission's figures indicate a two-per-cent levy would be needed. It rejected other types of taxes as inadequate or regressive.

The report of the five-member commission on local government organization and finance under the chairmanship of Roland Michener, Toronto lawyer and former Commons Speaker, was presented Friday to Premier Duff Roblin.

PLAN STUDY

Mr. Roblin said the government will study the bulky document and decide whether to accept the recommendation.

He refused to confirm long-standing speculation the report may lead to a special summer or fall session of the legislature. He added, however, that any sales tax machinery would take from six to nine months to set up after the passage of necessary legislation.

The sales-tax recommendation came as no surprise. If it is accepted it will leave Alberta alone among the provinces without a retail levy.

WHEAT STILL AHEAD AS LEADING EXPORT

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's wheat sales in the first quarter of 1964 topped exports of newsprint—the country's traditional leading export—by more than $20,000,000, the bureau of statistics has announced.

Newsprint was displaced by wheat as Canada's leading export for the first time in 1963 as a result of a huge increase in sales to Russia, Communist China and other Eastern European countries. The excess of wheat exports over newsprint was marginal, amounting to only $26,000,000.

However, export figures for the first three months of 1964 show that wheat sales were far ahead of newsprint shipments. In this period, wheat exports were valued at $191,800,000, an increase of $20,400,000 compared with newsprint shipments of $171,400,000.

Cuba Reported Ready For New Invasions

Anti-Castro Leader Plans Sabotage Move

NEW YORK (AP) — Anti-Castro leader Manuel Ray plans to enter Cuba with highly trained infiltrators and saboteurs to rebuild the underground smashed in the aftermoth of the Bay of Pigs disaster, the New York Times says.

"In this war," Ray said, "we do not hope to have as many guys as Castro does, but we have a superior weapon that he lacks."

"This weapon is the will of the people of Cuba to become liberated of the Castro regime.

"Our strategy in this war will be to convert this sentiment of the people into a decision to join us in the war for the liberation of Cuba," Ray added.

In a dispatch by Tad Szulc from "somewhere in the Caribbean," the Times says Ray was preparing Monday night to leave for an undisclosed spot on the Cuban coast.

Ray, head of the anti-Castro revolutionary junta, had promised to be back in Cuba by May 20, anniversary of the proclamation of independence by a Cuban congress in 1962.

GOES INTO HIDING

Ray had been living in San Juan but resigned last week as a consultant to the Puerto Rican Planning Board. He then went into hiding, leaving his wife and five children in San Juan.

According to The Times dispatch:

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Refugees from Cuba say the country is on a virtual wartime emergency basis because an exile group announced plans to be fighting on Cuban soil by Wednesday.

Exiles arrivng here in flight from Premier Fidel Castro's Communist dictatorship said highways in Cuba were jammed with troop-carrying trucks, by tanks and cannon, heading into mountain and coastal areas.

The Castro regime, they added, apparently is taking every possible defensive measure against raids such as that of last week when exile raiders burned a sugar mill in the eastern port of Pilon.

Roman Espino, one of 48 refugees arriving from Cuba during the weekend, said "invasion jitters have made the Communists desperate."

Widespread arrests of Cubans suspected of anti-Castro leanings were reported by exile sources.

"It appears to be something like the situation which preceded the Bay of Pigs invasion of April, 1961," said an anti-Castro leader, quoting underground sources.

U.S. CURBS IRK CUBANS

HAVANA (Reuters) — The Cuban government has denounced the U.S. decision to restrict exports of medicines to Cuba as an "act lacking all moral, political or human justification."

In a note to the U.S. state department sent through the Swiss embassy in Havana Monday night, Foreign Minister Paul Roa protested against what he termed "this new aggression against our people."

KHRUSHCHEV IN SHARP WARNING TO ARABS

'Aircraft Carrier Imperialism'

PORT SAID (AP) — Premier Khrushchev said today the Arabs would be exposed to great danger if the United States introduced Polaris missile submarines into the Mediterranean.

The Soviet leader evidently referred to negotiations between the United States and Spain for use of the joint U.S. - Spanish naval and air base at Rota as a headquarters for the missile-firing subs. The U.S. submarine tender Proteus moved to Rota in February.

In an obvious reference to U.S. 6th fleet operations in the Mediterranean, Khrushchev said "the imperialists use aircraft carriers and warships to lie in wait for nationalist movements."

"They use warships as observation posts and to bring pressure on the policy of non-alignment," he said. "Aircraft carrier imperialism aims at restoring reactionary systems in Asia and Africa."

He condemned the British-French-Israeli attack of 1956 on Suez and said many of the West's politicians have failed to learn the lesson of that defeat.

The Soviet premier looked rested after a train journey through the delta from Cairo. His wife accompanied him.

Khrushchev pledged that the Soviet Union would co-operate with Egypt against "imperialist aggression."

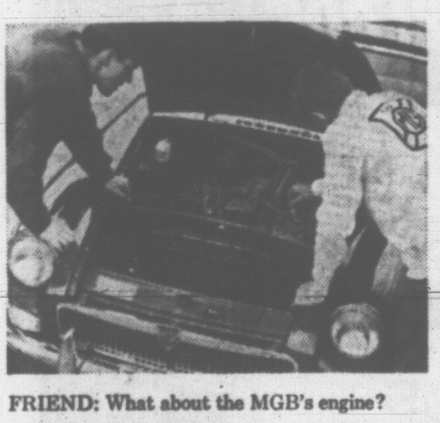
Another MGB! How come you see so many?

MGB OWNER:

You can't buy a livelier sports car at the price!

FRIEND: Is the MGB as lively as it looks?

OWNER: Every bit of it! I've driven them all...and I've never seen another sports car for the money that handles like this one. In fact, did you know the MGB won last year's Canadian Racing Drivers' Association championship in its class? No wonder it's the most popular sports car in the world.

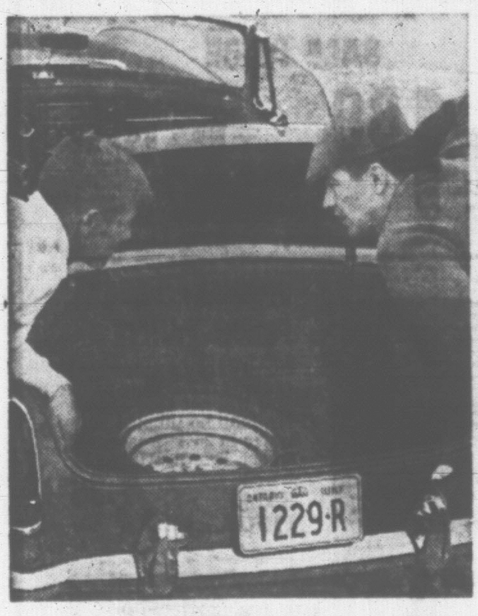


FRIEND: What about the MGB's engine?

OWNER: It's a honey! Four cylinders with 1798 c.c. capacity, overhead valves, twin S.U. carburetors . . . and it delivers exactly the right horsepower for the MGB's weight.

FRIEND: Mighty comfortable car, isn't it?

OWNER: Yessir, that's another reason why I bought the MGB. It's a really comfortable car to drive. Snug roll-up windows. Good, firm bucket seats. And you can get a detachable hard-top which clips on in a matter of seconds.



FRIEND: How's the MGB for luggage space?

OWNER: No worries there. They've built a good-size trunk into the MGB . . . and you can load extra luggage behind the bucket seats. I do a lot of travelling in my MGB, and I always have plenty of room for everything.

FRIEND: How does it handle?

OWNER: You have to drive an MGB to believe it! Rack-and-pinion steering gives you safe, sure control. Shifting's smooth, through all four gears. And it's good to know you have big, powerful disc brakes. They're mighty important for safe stopping in a high-performance sports car like the MGB!

$1.3 MILLION COLLECTED

$1.5 MILLION NEEDED

Public Asked Dig Deeper for Alberni Valley Flood Victims

Disaster aid officials issued a public plea for funds today confident that the response will give full compensation to Vancouver Island tidal wave victims.

A total of $1,507,000 is needed to pay 100 per cent compensation for the assessed damage to victims of the March 27 tidal wave which swept up the coast.

A total of $1,350,000 has been collected.

Ed Benson, chairman of the Alberni Valley and West Coast Disaster Fund committee, said he is going after the rest today.

So far victims have been paid only 75 per cent of their assessed damage.

Mr. Benson said cheques are being made out for the balance with a blank date.

"We are still asking for funds, but we have every confidence we can match 100 per cent on our own," he said.

Mr. Benson today appealed to two previous flood funds for more aid.

He is seeking a second contribution from the Red River fund which has $2,000,000 left from Winnipeg's 1950 flood aid.

He is also asking for more money from B.C.'s Fraser River flood fund, which has $600,000 left from the 1948 floods.

The two funds, held in trust, have already each given $50,000 to the Albernis.

'KEEP GIVING'

"But we want people to keep contributing," said deputy provincial secretary L. J. Wallace the provincial government's fund spokesman.

"We are confident we will get what we need—if the contributions keep coming."

So far B.C. has made a special contribution of $750,000, Ottawa $250,000. A private fund has raised $350,000.

Mr. Benson said that one of the latest donors is Vic Mergeron of San Francisco, better-known as Trader Vic, who sent $500.

The disaster aid office reopened in Alberni today after distributing about 700 cheques worth $850,000 last week.

Mr. Benson said committee members will fly to remote West Coast settlements next week to make more payments.

Total damage caused by the waves is $2,400,000.

But $900,000 of this was covered by insurance.

The uninsured includes: $1,142,967 at Alberni and Port Alberni; $40,029 at Amai Inlet; $64,750 at Hot Springs Cove; $57,816 at Rennell Sound; $46,368 at Prince Rupert; $30,948 at Zeballos; $14,790 at Tofino; $7,375 at Kyuquot and $2,500 at Winter Harbor.

Insured losses include: $750,000 for MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Co.; $25,000 for Rayonier Ltd.; $5,000 for Canadian Fishing Co., at Rivers Inlet; $250 each for Mangles Logging at Gold River, Digby Island ferry dock at Prince Rupert and W. D. Moore Logging Co at Winter Harbor.

The figures were compiled by 25 appraisers of the Canadian Independent Adjustors Conference hired by B.C.

The appraisers said claims were made for 289 homes, 110 cars, 57 businesses and 407 people seek compensation for personal effects.

Damage to homes was $361,400; to businesses $264,399; business equipment $188,159; personal effects $245,046; stock $147,591; vehicles $27,240; boats and planes $37,208.

Priest Robbed

VANCOUVER (CP) — The RCMP in suburban Burnaby were searching Monday night for two men who bound and gagged a Roman Catholic priest in a Burnaby church rectory and made off with an undetermined amount of loot.

Arthritic pain never stops—so relief has to be continuous, too, instead of the kind that lets gnawing, stabbing pain grip you every few hours. For years this woman has put up with unrelenting, recurring pain. But now just one 2-tablet dosage of the new continuous action pain reliever can give her all-day comfort or all-night rest. She relies on Relay.

He has a long day ahead of him, yet he's suffering with fever and cold chills. How can he manage to think and work without severe discomfort plaguing him throughout the day? Today there's a way—with Relay.

This man endures splitting headaches—the kind that wear him down, tear him down, make him grouchy and tired. He needs more than temporary relief to keep pain from coming back again and again. To feel normal, he requires on-and-on relief . . . with Relay.

Pain can hit without warning—in the shoulder or in the back. Whenever that happens, you need two types of relief—1) fast relief, 2) long-lasting relief. Yet there has never been a pain reliever that could give you both . . . until now. Now a new era of continuous comfort has arrived for pain sufferers. The name is Relay.

This woman's aches and pains never seem to go away even though she keeps taking pills. What's the answer? Just two tablets of Relay — for pain relief that lasts all day.

Rheumatic pain can strike suddenly and never let up, even for a busy housewife. Since she doesn't know when she's going to need relief, she needs the world's first continuous action pain reliever. Rely on Relay.

GOOD NEWS FOR PEOPLE WHO LIVE WITH PAIN

Until today, people who suffered prolonged pain had an unhappy choice: either to put up with steady dosing, or to endure pain that kept coming back. Now the Vicks Research Laboratories have developed the first continuous action pain reliever. It is called Relay. Just 2 Relay tablets give you the comfort of on-and-on relief up to a full 12 hours.

There is very little difference among the headache remedies that have been on the market for years.

Almost all base their effectiveness as a pain reliever on acetylsalicylic acid—the analgesic most often recommended. Usually they bring temporary relief from fleeting, come-and-go pain.

But the more severe kind of steady pain—from the headache that won't go away, fever and cold chills, arthritis, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia, bursitis, muscular aches and pains, menstrual discomfort—may require re-dosing every 3 or 4 hours.

Now scientists at the Vicks Research Laboratories have achieved a major breakthrough in pain relief. They have developed a new continuous action form of the world's most reliable pain reliever that drives pain away fast, then keeps pain away up to three times longer.

The name is Relay. It is a pink-and-white tablet that works like this:

- The first layer is pink. It dissolves immediately into the blood stream, building an effective anti-pain barrier.
- The second layer is white. It dissolves into the blood stream very slowly; continuously, up to a full 12 hours, to maintain a consistently high level of pain relief.

Taken in the morning, 2 Relay tablets can bring you relief all day without re-dosing. Taken at bedtime, they will keep you comfortable all through the night, helping you to get a full night's rest.

For people who are "heavy users" of pain relievers, Relay can reduce pill intake by as much as two-thirds. In the long run, this can mean worthwhile savings. And because there is less dosing, there is less chance of stomach upset.

FRENCH DRAMA ON STAGE TONIGHT

Is Festival Bilingual?

By DOUG AMARON

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — The bilingual character of the Dominion Drama Festival gets its test tonight when a Montreal drama group presents a Canadian-written drama based on a Chilean legend.

"La Quintrala," written by Mrs. Gil Harchoux-Vuillaume, a Montrealer who came to Canada from France a decade ago, will be the second performance in the eight-play, week-long festival. It will be performed in French by Les Compagnons de Gill and is the only French-language and Canadian play in the festival.

GOOD START

A group of Kamloops, B.C., high school students, supplemented by a few adults, got the festival off to a successful start Monday night with what British adjudicator Philip Hope-Wallace called "an extremely well done" performance of Arnold Wesker's bitter and pessimistic "Chips With Everything."

The North Kamloops PTA Theatre Wing did not win unqualified praise, but they were acclaimed for their "tremendous courage" and were told they had picked up "an extremely interesting but very difficult play" and got the festival off to a good start.

"You got the main feeling of the play," Mr. Hope-Wallace said in his adjudication, crediting the Kamloops boys with getting across to the audience about 75 per cent of the moral of the play, that all leadership is evil.

Chips with Everything is set in an RAF camp where teen-aged conscripts are faced, in their officers, with class, or, as it is known in Englnad the Establishment.

Mr. Hope-Wallace said "it is almost as difficult to talk about class in my country as it was for our grandparents to talk about sex." He said the issue of "us and them" doesn't impinge on Canada as it does in England. But he felt that the 1,000 capacity audience was with the players.

He recommended director Tom Kerr for taking on the challenge of such a difficult play and the performers for approaching it with courage rather than rashness.

Members of the first aid division of the corps presented a small trophy to their instructor, Jimmie Taylor, for his service during the years.

BOER WAR VET RECALLS

Red Neck Clarinetist Elephant Gun Target

By AB KENT

Arthur Dowell, of 1602 Kenmore, was a "Red Neck" band boy in the South African campaign 65 years ago.

He didn't play a note in all his 2½ years' fighting Boers, nearly starved, was shot at by elephant guns, and lived to tell about it on his 90th birthday last week.

The old soldier, who joined the Royal West Kent Regiment Nov. 14, 1889 as a clarinetist, did all his African service as an infantryman, and carried a rifle like everyone else.

"I remember packing up the instruments at the start of the war in big packing crates, and I remember unpacking them at Bloemfontein on our way home," he said.

CHANGED TACTICS

The war meant a change of tactics and customs for many persons. Soldiers no longer wore the red tunics that earned them the Boer nickname "Red Necks."

They stripped off insignia whose gleam could tip off Boer sharpshooters and they learned to live on little food, like their guerrilla enemy, who wore no uniform and used whatever weapon he could lay hands on.

With the peace, Mr. Dowell served as a bandsman in England, Ireland and Malta and joined in the First World War in 1915.

HAD NO DEMERITS

For 18 years' good conduct he was awarded the "rooty" medal, a distinction earned by having no demerits. Prior to that he was given two First World War medals, for Queen Victoria and King Edward, because his service spanned both reigns.

He married in Dublin in 1895 and had eight children, five of them surviving, mostly in the east.

For the last 7½ years he and his wife Jessie have lived here, following Mr. Dowell's retirement as secretary-treasurer of the 3,000-member Toronto Musician's Union, a post he held for 25 years.

Prior to that he was a theatre musician and had been the last civilian employed by the army's records department in Ottawa, having come to Canada in 1912.

A son, Arthur, who would be about 65, was a resident of Victoria and member of the Canadian Scottish, whom Mr. Dowell has not heard from since about 1953.

Still looking for fresh roles to conquer, Peter Sellers now emerges as the Vicar of Orbiston Parva, Bucks., Eng.

But there is promotion ahead, and it is as the first Bishop of Outer Space that Sellers really establishes himself in the heavenly kingdom — in fact he is heard singing a quavering hymn as his rocket goes into orbit.

Those who have enjoyed the versatile Sellers as president of the United States, a fatuous English group captain, a dotty duchess, a sinister German scientist, a truculent trade union leader and the chairman of Crooks Anonymous will find him riotously funny as the starry-eyed little cleric who takes the unfashionable Gospel to Orbiston Parva.

* * *

The main drawback to this parish is that it produces the highly profitable three-in-one restorative, Tranquilax — a sedative, a stimulate, a laxative!

When the Tranquilax interests evict a large family of Smiths from the meadow where they have been squatting for years, Rev. Mr. Sellers invites them to come and live in his vicarage, complete with livestock, and soon he is up to his clerical collar in hot water.

The more fashionable parishioners deeply resent his benevolence and feel, as someone says, that he is looking at the world through stained-glass windows. The less fashionable take full advantage of his "do unto others" behavior.

There are moments of genuine pathos which hint that the misguided Vicar is perhaps a true Christian in an un-Christian world. But they are drowned out in a riot of farcical situations, as when Rev. Mr. Sellers mistakenly eats dog biscuits with his sherry and when a train-load of clergymen look startled when a dining-car attendant announces "the last supper".

But the real fun starts when his "free food" scheme launches an economic crisis adn the government calls on the Church of England to do something about it.

* * *

Once again the British aptitude for spoofing its most cherished institutions — the army, the navy, the police force and now the church—is piquantly revealed.

PET POINTS

By Dr. J. R. Emas

Do Falling Cats Really Land On Their Feet?

YES—If not too high. Cats are equipped with more than 500 voluntary muscles and a leverage mechanism in their limbs. They are able to right themselves and land feet first.

* * *

CLINIC: Q. "I have been told to get rid of my house plants because my cat could die if he ate them. Is this true or just one of those myths?"

Mrs. E.L.P., Athens, Ga.

A. It's no myth, unfortunately. Ivy, philodendron and other types of house plants can be fatal to cats, so be certain to place your plants where your cats can't get at them.

CLINIC: Q. "Is there something I can do to sweeten my dog's breath?"

Mrs. D. S. A., Melrose Park, Ill.

A. Have your dog's teeth examined and cleaned by your veterinarian. Also, there are now products on the market which purportedly soften the tartar and kill mouth bacteria in animals. We've had no experience with these products, but you might find them helpful.

CLINIC: Q. "My cocker spaniel has constant trouble with his ears. They're always infected. Is there a way to correct this?"

O.Y.T., Sr., Sheboygan, Wisc.

A. Yes. There is a surgical procedure that exposes more of the ear canal and facilitates ventilation and cleaning. This usually is helpful in cases of chronic ear infections. Your veterinarian can explain this surgical procedure.

CLINIC: Q. "My dog has a lump on the side of his face. It doesn't seem to bother him, so should I bother with it or just forget it?"

Mrs. G.H.B., Louisville, Ky.

A. Before forgetting about it, you had better know exactly what it is. It could be a malignant growth, and only an examination and biopsy by your veterinarian can determine that. Consult him without delay.

CLINIC: Q. "Can a cat safely be fed a totally raw diet?"

C.B.M., Butte, Mont.

A. A cat will do very nicely on a totally raw diet of beef, kidney, heart and chicken several times a week. Feed the meat in chunks, to give his teeth and gums exercise.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"My girl looks pretty good, doesn't she?" Ernie Borgnine kept exclaiming at Toots Shor's the other a.m., while smooching Ethel Merman, who has one of those "artichoke" hairdos which she will wear when they get married June 27 in Los Angeles.

Ethel said the hairdo is especially patterned for Hollywood. "I used to wear big poofed-up hairdos but this is just straight bangs," Ethel said —whereupon Ernie nuzzled her again. They'll hold their big wedding reception at Chasen's, then go off on a honeymoon to Tokyo and Hong Kong.

Beautiful Janice Rule and husband Ben Gazarra—backstage at Hamlet to say hello to Richard Burton and his wife, Liz Taylor—seemed enthralled. Janice, about to do a CBS TV show, The Reporter, about a blonde sexpot who took sleeping pills and killed herself, declined to do the blonde version that's popular now.

"It's not just Marilyn Monroe," Janice said. 'There are lots of super-stars who've become 'important'."

She felt that if she put on a blonde wig, since she's a brunette, everybody would immediately assume this is another Marilyn Monroe story. . . "I don't want to wear a wig," she said. . . The director Stuart Rosenburg said, "I think I would prefer you in a wig.". . "O.K.," said Janice, "I'll wear a black wig."

Pat O'Brien claims that the best duelling in Ireland, is with whisky, and that one duellist with a hangover called on the important morning, suffering a very large head, and told the duel boss, "I'm going to be late, so would you just let my aggressor start shooting without me?"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Business has been so slow that one gypsy fortune teller is renting out space in her teacup to other gypsies.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A local fellow says he saved the first dollar he ever made: "Which was silly—it's worth only 38c today!"

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The world is full of willing people—some willing to work, the rest willing to let them." —Robert Lee Frost.

EARL'S PEARLS: If you're coming to the fair take only 30 pounds of luggage—20 pounds of clothing and 10 pounds of money.

Comic Jackie Kannon, who has his own cafe, figures he must be a hit: "My wife has more closets than she used to have dresses." . . . That's earl, brother.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second questior a Hammond Atlas or Globe

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Kirk Roy, age 10, of Peterborough, Ont., Canada, for his question:

What is pitchblende?

For centuries men have searched for precious gold in the rocks of the earth's crust. But the value of precious minerals has changed with the times. In this Age of Science, other minerals are rated more valuable than gold. The up-to-date prospector searches for pitchblende.

Near the end of the last century, two French scientists set about solving a problem that puzzled them. They were Pierre Curie and his wife Marie. Their problem was a strange rock that could take its own photograph. They suspected that some minerals give off strange rays of light, and they wanted to know how and why this happens.

The mineral they chose to work with was pitchblende. After two years of grimy toil they found traces of two unknown elements. Polonium was named for Poland, Marie Curie's native land, and radium was named because it gave off high energy rays of heat and light.

The year was 1898. The Curies' work lead to the discovery of radioactivity, which in turn opened the door to the Atomic Age of history. A hundred years ago, pitchblende was considered a worthless mineral. Then it was found to be rich in uranium. And radioactive uranium is the chief fuel of atomic bombs and power plants.

The old worthless pitchblende became one of the most sought-after minerals on earth. The ores in which uranium is found are called uranites, and pitchblende is a form of uranite. It is a steely black, dark grey or brown mineral often stained with greens and other colors. It is a very hard mineral, and some samples are more than nine times heavier than water.

Yields Radioactive Uranium

Pitchblende is a uranium oxide, composed of uranium and oxygen. In the weathery outdoors it tends to form colored uranium salts, but its radioactivity does not change. Its uranium breaks down at a fixed rate, releasing rays of heat and light, though we cannot see this happening. But when a sample of pitchblende is placed on film and shut in a dark drawer for 24 hours, its radioactive rays leave a photograph of the rock.

In nature, the element uranium comes in atoms of different weights called isotopes. The radioactive isotopes are called uranium 235, and its atoms decay step by step into smaller atoms, some of which are also radioactive. In natural uranium, only one of every 140 atoms is isotope 235. Hundreds of tons of pitchblende ore may yield only a few ounces of radioactive uranium, plus miniature traces of radium and polonium and other smaller radioactive atoms from the breakdown of isotope 235.

NORTHERN DANCER, away in good order, was eased back from between Quadrangle and Hill Rise when threatened with being crowded between those rivals entering the first turn. He remained within easy striking distance, however, and easily raced past Quadrangle to take a short command racing to the half-mile pole. He was then taken under stout restraint to midway on the final turn where he quickly shook off a challenge by Hill Rise to establish a commanding lead. He withstood left-hand punishment from the stretch turn into the final furlong, then continued strongly under steady hand urging. THE SCOUNDREL broke slightly slower than Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, and was taken in hand when threatened with being crowded between them in the opening yards, raced evenly for six furlongs, came out slightly to challenge on the final turn and closed resolutely outside Hill Rise to best that rival in the final yards. HILL RISE, well placed along the outside and under steadying restraint into the far turn, drew within a half-length of Northern Dancer when given his head midway of the turn, but could not stay with the winner and gave way to The Scoundrel while continuing evenly through the stretch. QUADRANGLE vied for command from the beginning while in hand, assumed a brief lead between rivals in the early backstretch, could not stay with Northern Dancer and Hill Rise entering the far turn, but saved ground and held on well. ROMAN BROTHER was in hand while racing in the clear behind the field, remained along the inside and rallied only slightly. BIG PETE could not keep up along the inside through the backstretch and, tiring, dropped far back after six furlongs.

SPORTS IN SHORT

CAHA Supports National Puck Team Concept

A national amateur hockey team for Canada seems assured, but don't bet on where it will be based.

Canadian Amateur Hockey Association delegates favor the idea of a national c[illegible] but the east favors the east and the west is pulli[illegible] for the west as a home base.

The problem — and others — will be debated at the 50th annual meeting opening today in Ottawa.

This also happened in the world of sport . . .

★ ★ ★

IN AUTO RACING . . . British ace Donald Campbell suffered a new setback in his effort to set a new land speed record. . . . Test runs today in his £2,000,000 Bluebird resulted in ruts in a section of newly-constructed track which crosses the original track. . . . The rutted section is critical since there is a wet patch where the four and one-half ton Bluebird will have to attain its greatest power if Campbell hopes to topple the record of 394.196 set by John Cobb in 1947, at Bonneville, Utah. . . .

At San Bernardino, Cal., veteran race driver Charles Bennett, 48, had just completed a speed run at 130 miles an hour in the South California Timing Association trials when the left front tire gave away. . . . The car rolled, Bennett was thrown on the El Mirage dry lakebed where he died. . . .

IN BOXING . . . Wearing a red, green, blue and black hand-woven toga with matching African sandals, Muhammed Ali (alias Cassius Clay) arrived in Accra, Ghana, on the weekend and said he was "glad to be home." . . . Starting an African goodwill tour he paid a courtesy call on U.S. Ambassador William P. Mahoney Jr., later announced he will probably fight two exhibition bouts in Ghana. . . . Associated with the Black Muslims in the U.S., Clay explained he now calls himself, Mohammed Ali, a Muslim name, "because I rediscovered myself." . . . In contrast to the scene at the U.S. Embassy last February when the U.S. flag was pulled down by uncontrolled Ghanians in an anti-American demonstration, scores of Ghanians milled joyously around, hailing king Clay—er, Ali . . .

Meanwhile, Doug Jones, No. 1 contender for Clay's crown, decisioned Leroy Green in Kingston, Jamaica in a nothing bout. . . . Hartack High On The Dancer

BALTIMORE (AP) — "He won't jump over the Empire State Building," jockey Bill Hartack answered when asked whether there is anything Canadian-bred Northern Dancer can't do.

"He will do anything in a race that you want him to," Hartack said.

On that, even combative Hartack couldn't get an argument.

Northern Dancer convinced his sceptics — and there were more of them than believers — in winning the Preakness Saturday by 2¼ lengths. Even Bill Shoemaker was convinced.

"The best horse won, that's all," admitted the Shoe, who had swapped horses a month before the Kentucky Derby. He gave up Northern Dancer for Hill Rise, on which he finished second in the Derby and third in the Preakness Saturday at Pimlico.

'I Was Wrong'

"You do what you think is right," said Shoemaker of his switch. "This time I was wrong. It won't be the last time."

Hank Moreno on The Scoundrel, who finished second, said his horse was still running strong at the finish and might have caught Northern Dancer if the Preakness had been longer than 1 3-16 miles.

"Yes, on the next time around," said Braulio Baeza, who rode fourth-place Quadrangle.

To those still scratching for a reason to pick against Northern Dancer, Hartack warned "I don't have any doubts about this horse going a mile and a half."

This was in reference to the distance of the Belmont June 6 at Aqueduct. The odds are 10 to 1 against Northern Dancer capturing that last leg of the triple crown for three-year-olds. But that's right down his alley.

Seven Straight

The bettors in both the Derby and Preakness sent the Canadian horse off as second choice to Hill Rise. His backers profited at $8.80 in the Derby and $6.20 in the Preakness.

The Canadian pride of E. P. Taylor of Toronto goes into the Belmont with 13 victories, the last seven in a row, in 16 starts. He already is more than halfway to being a millionaire.

Only trainer Bill Finnegan of Hill Rise was definite about tackling Northern Dancer in the Belmont. The Scoundrel is going to Garden State to prepare for the Jersey Derby May 30. As for the Belmont, "we'll wait and see," said trainer Mesh Tenney.

"Bill Hartack told me that my horse was tired at the finish. But so was every other horse. Just how long it will take him to come back, I don't know. The race, run on a tiring surface, took more out of Northern Dancer than did the Derby," said trainer Horatio Luro.

STILL ON TOP

Great comeback, thanks to amazing putting display, helped Lyle Crawford (above) to victory over Al Nelson in Vancouver Open match-play final Sunday. Two down with three holes left in 36-hole final, Crawford won 34th with routine par, then dropped in 50-foot birdie putt to square the match on 35th. He rolled in another 40-footer on 36th for birdie to salvage a half and won title on extra hole with another long (35 feet) birdie putt. Arrangements are being made to match Crawford against Laurie Carroll of Victoria, Times Island Open champion, for B.C. match-play trophy.

ASK KEN JOHNSON

Wrong Parties Had the Runs

Associated Press

The ladies of Houston got 186 runs for Ken Johnson.

The Colts got narry a one.

Philadelphia's Jim Bunning proved most ungentlemanly to the ladies and the Colts Monday night, ruining a "runs for Johnson" promotion by allowing Houston only one hit in a 4-0 victory that sent the Phillies back into first place in the National League.

New York Mets, of all people, helped the Phillies scale the heights by downing San Francisco Giants 4-2 to leave them 10 percentage points behind Philadelphia. Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 in the only other games scheduled.

The Giants had better luck against the Mets during the weekend, edging them 6-4 in 14 innings Saturday and blanking them 6-0 and 1-0 in a Sunday doubleheader. The Phillies lost 4-3 to the Colts Saturday but shut them out 2-0 the following night.

In other Sunday games the Dodgers split with the Pirates, winning 3-2 and losing 8-3, while the Cardinals won 7-3 and lost 4-2 against the Braves and the Cubs edged the Reds 5-4 and lost 7-1.

The Colts staged their promotion Monday in an effort to produce runs for Johnson, the no-hit, no-luck knuckleballer who went into the game with a 3-3 record. In the three losing efforts, including a no-hitter, the Colts had managed only two runs for him.

The gimmick was simple: All ladies who arrived at the park with runs in their nylons were admitted at a reduced rate. Of the 5,284 on hand, 186 were ladies with mashed mesh.

The result also was simple: Not only were the Colts unable to get a run, they had difficulty getting men on base. Only two reached first, Nellie Fox when he was hit by a pitch in the first inning and Jim Wynn, who lashed a single over third base leading off the fifth room.

FIFTH FOR BUNNING

Otherwise Bunning was untouchable, bringing his record to 5-1 with his second shutout while his manager, Gene Mauch, watched from the stands. Mauch was fined $150 and suspended for two days following a run-in with umpire Lee Weyer in Sunday night's game.

In the American League, New York Yankees moved into a tie for first place with Chicago White Sox with 11-9 and 8-0 victories Sunday over Kansas City. Detroit put Cleveland down twice Sunday, 4-1 and 3-1; Chicago edged Washington 3-2; and Minnesota and Boston split, the Red Sox winning 6-2 and the Twins taking the finale 6-5.

Palmer Unleashes A Typical Charge

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer put together one of his patented come-from-behind finishes Monday and won the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open golf tournament with an 11-under-par 277.

Palmer fired a closing five-under-par 67, with birdies on the 17th and 18 holes, to win his 42nd PGA tour victory.

The victory, Palmer's second this year, was worth $5,800 and increased his official 1964 earnings to $44,298, second best among pro golfers. Jack Nicklaus has won almost $47,000 this year. Palmer's first 1964 win was the Masters tournament.

Lionel Hebert, the halfway leader, came in second, two strokes behind Palmer.

Hebert led Palmer by three strokes going into the final 18 holes, but went over par on the second and third holes. Palmer pulled even with a birdie on No. 3 and went ahead with a birdie on No. 6.

Hebert never caught up again although he, Jack McGowan, South African Bob Verwey and Mike Souchak stayed in contention until Palmer's final two birdies.

Verwey shot a closing 71 for third place at 281. McGowan closed with a 73 and Souchak with a 72, both for a 282 total. Dave Marr shot a hole-in-one on the par 3 169-yard No. 16 and came in at 283.

Leading money winners were:

Arnold Palmer, $5,800—277.
Lionel Hebert, $3,500—279.

ENGLISH WINNER HAS POLE AT INDY . . . . . . AFTER DUTCH GRAND PRIX, THAT IS

Jim Clark—World's Fastest Commuter

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Jimmy Clark of Scotland, world's fastest commuter, and American Bobby Marshman will lead four former winners across the starting line for the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race on Memorial Day.

In their slipper-shaped Lotus-Fords they topped a record-smashing field in qualifications Saturday. Clark took the race-day pole position at 158.8 miles per hour in a factory team car and Marshman won the second starting spot at 157.9 m.p.h. in a similar racer entered independently.

The Scottish farmer hopped a plane to Mallory Park, England, and won the Guard's Trophy race there Sunday, setting a lap record on the winding course. Clark will compete in the Dutch Grand Prix next weekend before flying back to Indianapolis May 30.

Clark, who dominated the Grand Prix international circuit last year as no driver ever did before, will be the first European to lead the 500 start since Rene Thomas of France won the pole in 1919.

Jack Brabham of Australia, another former Grand Prix champion, was left still waiting to make his qualifying run when the second time trial session ended Sunday. He plans to try again Saturday after a round trip to Holland to practise for the Grand Prix.

Sixteen cars qualified on the 2½-mile oval track Saturday and five made the line-up Sunday. The field so far has averaged 153.1 m.p.h. Parnelli Jones, last year's winner of the $500,000 race, captured the pole position then at a record 151.1 average.

The 33 fastest cars in the trials will start the race. The qualifications continue next Saturday and Sunday.

Rodger Ward, 43, of Indianapolis, twice winner of the 500 and no worse than fourth in the last five races, qualified at 156.4 Saturday to make the first echelon an all-rear-engine and all-Ford line.

Defending champion Jones of Torrance, Calif., and 1961 winner A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., had their choice of conventional front-engine entries. Both stuck with their old cars and wound up in the second starting row.

Jones hit 155.1 and Foyt 154.7. Dan Gurney, Costa Mesa, Calif., Grand Prix driver and Clark's teammate, qualified his Lotus-Ford at 154.5 to fill out the second row.

Clark started in fifth position last year and finished a close second. Jones started No. 1 and became only the seventh winner from the pole position in 47 Memorial Day classics.

Troy Ruttman of Dearborn, Mich., the 1952 winner, made the line-up Sunday in a conventional Offenhauser roadster at 151.3. Eddie Sachs of Detroit, who hit the wall in a practice run Saturday, came back in the repaired Hailbrand-Ford and had Sunday's best speed at 151.1.

New 'Moses' Leads Irish Out of Wilds With Broken Hand

By ERNIE FEDORUK

The request went in for his proper Christian name, but Skip Chapman says he has been called "Skip" as long as he can remember.

Pressure revealed there is a proper Christian handle, but Chapman "won't tell."

Which means they'll be calling him "Moses" in the Victoria Shamrocks' dressing room. Verily, this was the man who led the Irish out of the lacrosse wilderness.

Shamrocks rang up their first two victories of the Inter-City League season, and there's no doubt the small-but-stocky goaltender from New Westminster was the leading light at the weekend.

Chapman turned in a pair of brilliant performances as the Rocks defeated Nanaimo 9-6 (at Nanaimo on Saturday) and 10-3 (at Memorial Arena on Monday).

He did it with a broken hand!

The 22-year-old suffered suffered broken bones in his right hand last Thursday in an elevator accident. The right one is the hand that holds the stick, and that was something he couldn't do Friday because of the pain.

Still, he started Saturday. The weekend's twin result would indicate Chapman's hand, still covered with a protective cast, is getting better.

He started in lukewarm fashion, giving up four goals in the first quarter of Saturday's game. Then he caught fire. Buddy Dumont's Nanaimo natives could muster only five other scoring shots in the seven other quarters played at the weekend.

Sagging Shamrock Spirits Revived

That much, of course, can be gleaned from the scoring box. What the statistics won't show, however, is the "other extras" that Chapman added to the Shamrock cause.

He revived a fiery spark and a spirit that had been on the ebb as a result of Victoria's first four starts — all losing ones.

Chapman provided a big lift when the team needed it most. It comes on the eve of the Shamrocks' first series with league-leading New Westminster powerhouse.

They start it off Wednesday at Memorial Arena and then Shamrocks complete a four-games-in-six-days grind at New Westminster Thursday.

And if Skip doesn't go along with the "Moses" handle, he might have it changed to "Judas" in the series with Westminster. It was the Royal City team that sent Chapman, their reserve goaltender for two seasons, to Victoria.

Granted, Chapman received excellent support. Especially brilliant in the two-game series with Nanaimo was defenceman Barry Ashbee.

Barry scored a goal and one assist Monday and spearheaded a hard-checking defensive unit, but his best effort was on Saturday when he continually broke up Nanaimo attacks then led a return charge down the floor.

Ashbee figured in four goals Saturday.

Tom Collett and Billy Gray also turned in solid two-way efforts.

Refs Had Eyes Only for the Irish

Victoria's two victories were doubly impressive when one considers the number of penalties assessed them in comparison with Nanaimo.

Victoria drew 15 penalties on Saturday, including a five-minute major to playing-coach Don Ashbee. Nanaimo drew only eight minors.

Despite the penalty difference, Shamrocks still managed to outshoot Nanaimo 47-32.

The penalty distribution was even more one-sided Monday afternoon, much to the chagrin of 2,100 Victoria partians.

Victoria drew 45 minutes, in penalties, including a misconduct to Gray in the dying minutes, while Nanaimo was tagged with a mere 11 minutes.

Of greater significance is the fact that Nanaimo had a chance to play their odd-man unit 14 times, compared to only two chances allotted the Rocks. There were two double penalties called.

All three of Monday's goals by Nanaimo came while Victoria was short-handed.

Shamrocks drew the first six minors handed out by referees Whitey Severson and Jack Northup in Monday's game. And in one stretch, the Rocks played short-handed for six minutes, 37 seconds.

Later they played short-handed another four minutes as a result of double minors to Don Ashbee and Bill Spotswood.

Shamrocks' defensive corps, and Chapman again rose to great heights in the last eight minutes of the game. Victoria was short-handed for that entire period as a result of six straight penalties within a five-minute span.

Undoubtedly the Victoria partisans will howl, but it must be conceded that most of the Shamrock penalties were deserved. There were one or two border-line exceptions, and the glaring one was the minor to Gray in the 13th minute of the last quarter.

Gray drew his misconduct after protesting what appeared to be a cheap call.

Otherwise the officials were remarkably consistent in calling penalties against Victoria.

Foster, Smith Top Boys In Speedway Derbies

Victoria drivers had a field day at Western Speedway this weekend, winning everything there was to win in two holiday events.

Al Smith, in a brand new car, won every race he entered in a special Victoria Day meet Monday afternoon, and Billy Foster captured the Strawberry Cup Saturday night.

Smith romped home with commanding leads in the trophy dash, the heat race and the main event in the modified section of Monday's twin bill.

The jalopies' drivers thrilled the 3,500 spectators with some wild racing in their half of the program.

Bob Brown narrowly avoided serious injury in a spectacular accident in the eighth lap of the modified heat race.

FUNNY PLACE TO BE

Brown spun out in a turn and was hit by Bob Clarke. Clarke's car climbed Brown's, and came to rest on top of it. Both drivers escaped injury.

Jack Eckman from Ontario, Oregon, took second place in the 20-lap modified main event well behind Smith. George Robertson from Lewiston, Idaho finished third.

Billy Foster didn't compete in Monday's meet.

Dick Miller captured first place in a wild 20-lap jalopy main event, which featured a three-car pile-up in the second lap, and a flying wheel in the tenth.

In Saturday night's Strawberry Cup race, a crowd of 3,180 watched Billy Foster win both main events to take the trophy.

Foster collected 20.50 points to beat out Portland's Bob Gregg with 17.25. Jack Eckman took third with 13.25, and Al Smith came fourth with 10.25.

LOST LINKAGE

Smith was leading Foster by two lengths in the 16th lap of the 27-lap main event, when he was caught in traffic and bumped by Jack Milner.

He lost part of his steering linkage and had to drop back.

LOSE TO TRANSPORTS

McLarens Sip Own Medicine

McLarens sipped some of their own Senior Amateur Baseball League medicine Monday and not one of them liked the taste.

After scoring the winning run without benefit of a base hit as they nipped Greaves Movers 3-2 Saturday at Royal Athletic Park during a season-opening doubleheader, members of the McLaren's Construction club attempted to make it two straight Monday.

Tangling with Transport Workers in the second half of a twin bill, McLaren's had Stan Thane on the pitching mound and Stan limited Transports to a measly three hits.

But Thane and his mates managed to let Transports push across a run in the sixth without aid of a hit and dropped a tense 2-1 decision.

Defeat dropped McLaren's out of a first-place tie and left Independents all alone in the top spot. Independents, who had clipped Transports 7-3 Saturday, opened Sunday's doubleheader with a 6-4 victory over Greaves.

McLaren's get a chance to pull back into a tie for the lead tonight. They meet Independents at 7.

Gordie Strongman, even more stingy than Thane as he limited McLaren's to two hits, was the winning pitcher.

In Monday's opener, George Brice, coming on in the fourth after starter Bob Mabee ran into a streak of wildness, blanked the Movers in the last three frames to earn the pitching decision. Bob Holness stroked a three-run double in the sixth to provide the victory margin.

DANES GAIN SHUTTLE FINAL

TOKYO (AP)—Denmark defeated Thailand 6-3 in the interzone round of Thomas Cup badminton competition Monday and earned the right to challenge Indonesia for the emblem of world badminton supremacy. Indonesia has held the cup since 1958.

Malaya, loser to Denmark in the semifinals, beat Japan 7-2 in a consolation playoff to decide third and fourth places.

Yonkers Double Worth $35,596

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A 30-to-1 shot, Roslyn J., completed a $35,596.60 twin double at Yonkers Raceway Monday night, a record payoff for the track.

Five winning tickets were sold on the winning combination, made up of Nos. 2-3-8-8.

Twenty Horses Dead As Fire Razes Barns

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Fire fanned by brisk winds swept through 12 wooden horse barns at Miles Park race track Monday, resulting in the death of more than 20 thoroughbreds.

Most of the animals died in the flames. Others were destroyed after injuring themselves in terror-stricken lunges into fences and other obstacles.

There were no exact figures available but as best as could be determined 17 animals died in the fire, five were destroyed and one died of a heart attack. Officials said a definite count probably could not be made until today.

A wooden feed barn also was destroyed.

Track general manager Horace Wade tentatively estimated damage to buildings at $100,000, but said it might go as high "as a quarter of a million." No estimate was available on the value of the dead horses.

At one time about 250 horses were running loose on the grounds. Some got out of the track area and galloped down nearby streets and highways.

Approximately 600 horses were at the park at the time. Many came from Churchill Downs where the spring meeting ended last week.

Nanaimo's case is a different matter.

The quick-changing Nanaimo team could have incurred at least three team penalties for too many players on the floor. More glaring, however, were "follow-through" infractions.

There is a limit to the "follow-through" a player can take while in the act of shooting. Nanaimo, however, appeared to enjoy a free reign on that sin and it resulted in both Gray and Nirmal Dillon being levelled on Monday.

More serious, however, was a similar play that sidelined Ranjit Dillon on Saturday night. He was struck in the eye by a hard shot, the ball driving his glasses into his eye. It caused a nasty but not a serious injury.

Only good fortune—and not the administration of lacrosse rules—prevented serious injury to either or all three players.

STEVE OWEN

COACHED GIANTS 23 YEARS PILOTED ARGOS, STAMPS, ROUGHIES

Football's 'Stout Steve' Is Dead

ONEIDA, N.Y. (CP) — Steve Owen, who won Canadian coach-of-the-year honors two years ago for lifting Saskatchewan Roughriders from last place into the Western Football Conference playoffs, is dead at 66.

The placid veteran, who led New York Giants to eight National Football League championship games and won the title twice before moving north to coach three Canadian teams, died early Sunday in Oneida City Hospital. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Stout Steve, as he was affectionately known throughout a 32-year coaching career, came to Canada in 1957 as an assistant coach under Hamp Pool with Toronto Argonauts and took over as head coach when Pool was fired midway through the 1959 season.

Promoted to the front office in 1960, he left the Argonauts for Calgary when the Stampeders ran into midseason coaching problems and guided them to the WFC playoffs. The following year he moved to Saskatchewan.

Despite his success with the Riders, they decided against rehiring him after the 1962 season, in which his team finished third in the five-team WFC and bowed out in the semi-finals. He bequeathed his successor, Bob Shaw, a solid defensive club which again finished third and upset Calgary before losing to British Columbia Lions in the 1963 finals.

Owen first came to New York as a tackle with the barnstorming Kansas City Cowboys in 1925 and began a 28-year association with the Giants the following year.

He became head coach in 1931 and first gained his reputation as an innovator on a slippery field in the 1934 NFL championship game when the Giants came out in basketball sneakers after halftime and upset Chicago Bears 30-13.

ISLAND FLAG FOLDS AFTER STRETCH BID

VANCOUVER (CP) — Sir Runnymede, a Toronto-owned horse, breezed to an easy victory at Exhibition Park Monday in the Victoria Day Handicap.

The horse, ridden by jockey Jim Dailey, led from wire to wire and ran off with a purse of $2,625.

Island Flag, a six-year-old chestnut gelding, made a strong bid in the stretch, but literally ran his heart out and collapsed after crossing the finish line.

Island Flag was unconscious for several minutes. It came around and stood for a while, but collapsed again. Island Flag collapsed from exhaustion several more times before it was led to the barns, where he was reported rapidly recovering.

Another horse also fell victim to the featured race. Sternson, an eight-year-old brown gelding, broke down and had to be pulled up in the run down the stretch.

More than 10,700 fans bet some $287,000. (See results on page 17.)

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL

Vicettes Begin With Twin Win

Victoria Vicettes are away to an impressive start on another senior women's softball season.

The defending Western Canadian champions opened their 1964 campaign with an exhibition doubleheader at Central Park Sunday and chalked up a pair of victories over Vancouver Eldorados.

Vicettes jumped into a 3-1 lead in the first inning of the opening game and breezed to a 6-2 victory behind the three-hit, nine-strikeout pitching of Gail Archibald.

They had to call on Gail again in the second game and battle from behind to wind up with a 9-6 decision.

Trailing 5-3 going into the bottom of the sixth after Jackie Kaiser had poled a home run for Eldorados in the top half of the inning, Vicettes staged a six-run outburst, highlighted by Dorothy McTaggart's bases-load triple.

Miss Archibald took over for started Joan Hett in the second inning of the nightcap and pitched the rest of the way to get her second victory of the day.

Soccer Season All Over For United and Bakers

VANCOUVER—Victoria's soccer season ended abruptly here over the weekend.

Brodies Bakery of the Victoria and District League and Victoria United were both bounced out of playoff competition in a pair of replays.

United came a-cropper Sunday in a Pacific Coast League semi-final, dropping a 2-1 decision to Vancouver Firefighters before about 1,100 fans.

Only about 600 watched Saturday as Brodies reached the end of the season's trail by dropping a 4-0 verdict to Vancouver Columbus in the quarter-final round of the Province Cup competition.

Held to a 3-3 overtime draw by the Islanders in a previous meeting, Columbus dominated the replay from the opening whistle.

Columbus stepped back into action Monday and reached the cup final by blanking Wallaces 2-0 and will meet the winner of Wednesday's night's semi-final between Firefighters and New Westminster Royals.

A Columbus-Firefighters final on May 30 would be a coincidence since the two clubs are scheduled to meet in the PCSL final here next Sunday.

INTO OWN NET

Although Firefighters dominated their league semi-final replay against United, they needed an assist to pick up a victory in regulation time.

Their first goal came at 14 minutes from centre-forward Art Hughes and they grabbed a 2-0 first-half lead when Victoria fullback Len Anderson deflected the ball into his own net while trying to clear a bouncing ball.

United rallied in the second half but could only manage a last-minute goal by inside-right Ash Waldal.

HUSTLING RUGBY TOURISTS . . . . . . SCORE FOURTH VICTORY

Scotland Wallops Westerners

VANCOUVER (CP) — The touring Scottish international rugby team scored victory No. 4 in a five-game Canadian tour Saturday, walloping with ease a western Canada all-star team, 14-3.

The hustling Scots kept All-Stars pinned in their own end almost the entire game. Only four times were the Canadians able to penetrate Scotland's 25-yard line.

The undefeated Scots play their final Canadian game tonight in Montreal.

Scotland scored its points on two penalty goals, a try and a goal. Western Canada scored its lone try in the last minute of play.

Jim Telfer opened scoring early in the first half when he took the ball over from a line-out two yards out. The convert was missed. Centre Chris Elliot made it 6-0 minutes later with a penalty goal. Just before the half ended Elliot repeated the performance with another penalty goal. Centre Jim Shackleton made it 14-0 with his try.

With seconds to go in the game, standoff Ted Hunt kicked across the field and winger Brian Mackee picked it up for Western Canada's try. The convert was missed.

A crowd of about 3,500 at Brockton Oval in Stanley Park watched the game.

PRESENT STAFF of 100-year-old real estate and insurance firm, C. G. Heisterman and Co. Ltd., stands outside office at 1121 Blanshard Street. (D'Arcy) McGee, real estate, insurance; Mrs. Peggy MacDonald, insurance secretary; Virginia Valen, real estate secretary; Lon Chaney, real estate, insurance; Harry Atkey, real estate sales; V. R. (Vince) Butler, insurance manager, director; R. S. (Gus) Dyer, real estate manager, director. Missing from picture is Mrs. Olive Brawnell, real estate sales.

100 Years Growth With City Record of Heisterman Firm

It has been said that it takes three generations, or 100 years, to form a dynasty, and it seems equally true that it takes that long to be really accepted in business in Victoria.

One hundred years ago, on May 2, 1964, the late Henry Heisterman founded on Government Street what was then the fourth real estate office in Victoria.

Records of that office do not exist, but it was probably a room in his dwelling. He would walk one block to be in the centre of the tents, cabins, shacks and buildings that made up the town which only three years before had achieved local self-government.

Heisterman advertised occasionally in the Colonist (see cut) and gradually built up a name for himself in the trade.

In later years he lived out by the old Roundabout along with many prominent Victoria families.

As the years rolled along Bernard Heisterman joined his father in the business and the office was located on View Street where the Royal Trust now is. At this location the order of the day was to ride to work on a bicycle, park it in the office and leave one's hat on behind the counter while tending the real estate and insurance needs of one's clients.

The final move was to the present location at 1121 Blanshard Street. By that time, the management had come into the hands of the late Charles Heisterman, who died four years ago.

The business was purchased by a group of employees and today is owned by R. S. "Gus" Dyer and V. R. "Vince" Butler, both closely connected with early Victoria families.

"We endeavor to act with the same sense of responsibility to the citizens both new and old, that the Heistermans showed for 96 years."

The oldest surviving member of the Heisterman family is Mrs. Bernard Heisterman, mother of the late Charles Heisterman, who is in retirement in Oak Bay and who, along with Mrs. Peggy Heisterman, the widow of the late Charles Heisterman, is still interested in the business their husbands gave so much to in its 100-year history.

The salesmen of the firm seldom change, and the company is proud that it can sell a person a home and be asked to resell it 10 years later.

"The staff and management of C. G. Heisterman & Co. feel that old established businesses such as ours are the soul of a city. We salute our contemporaries and predecessors such as the city of Victoria, The Colonist, B.C. Land, W. & J. Wilson and the others who came first, as we start our second 100-year term of business in Victoria."

Insurance Hints

Here are some useful guides to remember when selecting an insurance agent or when buying general insurance.

Package policies are good, but beware of paying extra for many frills which, when analyzed, are neither necessary nor economic.

Insure with agents who maintain a proper office and staff in your city. Be in a position to present your claim to the person who promised the protection.

Insure with agents who use independent adjustors. Always try to place your business with an agent whose companies have delegated the authority to settle claims with someone no further away than Vancouver.

RIGHT FROM THE BEGINNING

Insurance Key Part of Business

C. G. Heisterman & Co. Ltd. have been in the general insurance business in Victoria since they started.

From 1864 until 1887 they represented various British companies on an appointed basis, and it was not until 1887 that they became agents as the term is known now.

The first company they represented was the Western Assurance Company of Toronto in 1887. The next company was the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society of England who chose to appoint them in 1892.

These two companies enjoyed all the accounts until the year 1905, when the St. Paul Fire & Marine Insurance Co. of St. Paul, Minn., appointed the firm as the first agent in Canada.

Since that time three other companies have appointed C. G. Heisterman & Co. as agents, but it is the opinion of Vince Butler, the insurance manager, that the public is best served by the agent who finds top companies, places his client's insurance with that company, and leaves it with that company even though he could make more profit by switching around.

Mr. Butler feels that a client of C. G. Heisterman & Co. should also be a client of the insurance company, and can point to clients who have had their home insured in the same company since 1906.

"This type of loyalty on all sides can only add up to one thing so badly needed these days, integrity in business," says Mr. Butler.

Insurance today is most competative, Mr. Butler says, and an agent can acquire short term benefits from many companies with "overnight ideas."

"But we in C. G. Heisterman & Co. Ltd. sincerely recommend quality companies who are prepared to serve the entire public insurance requirements, as against those specialty companies whose selfish selection of risk and person can ultimately only result in the situation where the public serves the company's wishes and requirements," Mr. Butler says.

Heisterman's serve the following insurance companies:

Western Assurance Co., 980 West Pender St., Vancouver.

St. Paul Fire and Marine Ins. Co., 717 West Pender St., Vancouver.

Legal and General Assurance Soc., 847 West Pender St., Vancouver.

Norwich Union Fire Insurance Soc., 789 West Pender St., Vancouver.

Guardian Insurance Co. 654 Burrard St., Vancouver.

Canadian Indemnity Co., 980 West Pender St., Vancouver.

Make Use of Realtor's Skill When Buying, Selling Home

A realtor is a specialist in his trade, but many people fail to take advantage of his talents.

What does the average person do wrong?

In selling, a homeowner often telephones or sees many realtors, asks their opinion, and after getting it disregards it completely and listens to his next door neighbor who hasn't sold a house in the last 10 years. Or possibly he will give the listing to the salesman who puts the highest asking price on his property.

Neither of these alternatives are correct, C. G. Heisterman & Co. Ltd. advise, as in the first instance he is being led down the garden path by someone who does not know the business, and in the second instance he is allowing his home to be over-priced to the extent that he will frighten off any potential buyer.

The correct way is to use one's discretion and set a realistic price on the property, which price should be an average of the sensible estimates he has obtained.

The wise owner then contracts with one realtor to attempt to sell the house at the correct price, signing an exclusive or multiple listing and letting his man go to work.

Often open listings are given to four or five realtors and the owner assumes that all five are working their heart out to sell his property. This is a fallacy.

If your home is listed with five firms, no one of them can afford to spend the time and money necessary to sell your home. Why? Because the odds of one firm out of five getting the sale are exactly one to five.

The result can well be a partial approach by all five offices with a net result of no sale.

An exclusive listing or multiple listing is usually given for about three months. It can be renewed if desired.

Every good realtor has access to almost any home for sale. If he belongs to the Multiple Listing Service, he has pictures and relative data on hundreds of homes. If the home you seek is not on the multiple listings, then some other agent has it listed.

The purchaser has two alternatives. He can try to read the entire houses for sale section of the newspaper classified ads and pick out several advertisements to answer. Or he can go to one realtor, detail his requirements and put the realtor to work to find the home he wants.

The realtor knows what the other fellows' ads mean, can check out the house and, if it seems suitable, can arrange a sub-listing in most cases. This will save the buyer time, money and frustration.

Wandering Dog Causes Motorbike Race Crash

A dog nearly caused a major disaster at the Victoria Motorcycle Scramble Sunday when it ran onto the track, felling one rider and causing another to be injured.

As 15 motorcylists were completing the first lap of the championship race at Colwood Fair Grounds, an Irish Setter decided to cross the track directly in front of the oncoming vehicles.

The leading drivers managed to swerve and avoid the frightened animal but dust stirred up by their machines reduced visibility to zero.

Jeff Philips of Victoria hit the dog and fell.

He scuttled behind his machine and rolled himself into a ball as machines roared through the dust on either side of him at speeds over 50 miles per hour.

The dog, spun around by the accident lay in the track.

BIKES FLAGGED DOWN

As the motorcycles were flagged down further along the course one machine wobbled to the sidelines and fell, its driver writhing in pain.

Ed Nielson, Richmond, had caught his foot on the fallen cycle, shredding the inside of his right boot and cutting his foot to the bone.

He was taken to hospital and discharged the next day.

Miraculously, Philips suffered only bruises, the dog a cut mouth.

"All I could see in that dust was a black shadow on one side and a black shadow on the other," said one competitor.

"Everyone was lucky it was not worse."

SEVERAL SPILLS

About 300 motorcycle enthusiatsts witnessed the accident, the only one of several spills to cause any damage.

A treacherous course laid out over the rutted field sent 28 competitors scrambling around a triangular track with one hairpin and two right-angle turns.

The heavy treads of the big machines dug up the grass at the turns, making dangerous bowls of loose dust.

Included in the back stretch was a jump—a sharp rise about three feet in height—which sent machines arching through the air to land ten to 20 feet further up the track.

NO MUD HOLE

As if this were not enough, one cycle enthusiast—notably a spectator and not a rider—was complaining of the lack of the traditional mud hole.

The competitors, some from as far away as Edmonton, wore heavy leather pants padded for protection.

Their bikes were drilled, heavy sprung, souped up—almost anything to increase performance.

Three heats—two 250 cc and one 500-plus cc—each ran three races, the top five from each heat entering the final championship race.

Grand winner was Bob Budschat of Seattle, followed by Bill Smith of Victoria, in second place, and Zoli Berenyi of Edmonton in third.

Rudi Zacsko of Edmonton, was fourth, Jack Heanski of Victoria, fifth, and Hills of Victoria, sixth.

CCF Polled More Votes Than Grits

REGINA (CP)—The Liberals won Saskatchewan's April 22 election with 568 fewer votes than the CCF, final figures show.

Completion Saturday of the official count, including 39,105 votes from advance and hospital polls, gave the Liberal party 272,474 votes, 40.3 per cent of the total 676,257. The CCF got 273,042, 40.4 per cent, the Progressive Conservatives 128,042, 18.9 per cent, and other parties, 2,694, .4 per cent.

The official count confirmed the election of the Liberals with 33 seats in the 59-seat legislature. The CCF, in power for 20 years, elected 25 members. One Progressive Conservative was elected.

Victory margins were razor-thin in some constituencies—there may be recounts in a few—but the final count that began last Wednesday and took four days to complete resulted in no turnovers from the unofficial election-night results.

The advance and hospital vote was unexpectedly heavy. It had been estimated that only about 25,000 ballots had been cast at these polls.

The vote from these polls was: Liberals, 16,843; CCF, 14,655; PC, 7,402; others, 190.

Prairie Imports Cut Egg Prices

Egg prices over the weekend dropped two cents on large, four cents on medium and three cents on small, poultry officials said today.

Heavy imports from the Prairie provinces forced B.C. producers to drop their prices to meet outside competition, they said.

Five Die In 2-Car Crash In Manitoba

HOLLAND, Man. (CP)—Five people were killed Sunday in a two-car collision that also left two people in hospital.

RCMP said the cars met head-on on a highway three miles west of this town 75 miles west of Winnipeg.

Wasyl Kmet, 52, of East Kildonan, driver of one of the cars, died in hospital following the crash.

Two passengers with him, Mr. and Mrs. John Borkowskiof, Winnipeg, died at the scene.

Killed in the second car were Thelma Jones, 44, of nearby Glenboro, and Marie Dowd, 57, a Glenboro area widow.

NEW TREMOR COMES DOWN FROM ALASKA

A severe earth tremor—apparently an aftershock from Alaska's Good Friday earthquake—was recorded Saturday at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here.

Seismologist Dr. W. H. White said the quake was apparently centred in the Alaska panhandle, some miles northwest of Juneau, about 1,200 miles from here.

He said it registered between 6 and 6.5 on the Richter scale.

The tremor was felt as far away as Mobile, Alabama.

New Fishing Law Labeled 'Hoax' by MP

A federal law extending Canada's exclusive fishing rights to 12 miles offshore is a meaningless hoax, MP George Chatterton said at the weekend.

The Esquimalt-Saanich Conservative member said proposed legislation provides only for three miles' exclusive rights with a proviso for further extension to 12 miles at the discretion of the cabinet.

He said the 12-mile limit may never become effective under the bill now before the Senate committee on banking and commerce. It must be approved by the Commons to become law.

The way the prime minister proposes to implement the legislation may be correct, Mr. Chatterton said, but "this is a hoax".

It is wrong, he said, to give the cabinet such powers as granted by the bill.

"Parliament should have all the information in advance," including a formula for implementing the 12-mile limit, he said.

Mr. Chatterton accused the prime minister of wanting to make it look like he is fulfilling an election promise to establish a 12-mile limit by mid-May.

Cambodia Charges U.S. Agression

NIKOLAI FEDERENKO
. . . overruled

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The Soviet Union today unleashed a sharp attack on U.S. policy in Southeast Asia at the outset of debate in the United Nations Security Council on charges of aggression brought by Cambodia against the United States.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko did so in challenging the right of a delegate from South Viet Nam to take part in the debate. But the council overrode his objections and voted 9 to 2 to let the South Viet Nam representative participate.

Only a Communist Czechoslovakia support the Soviet demand.

Fedorenko declared the U.S. was responsible for alleged acts of aggression committed against Cambodia.

SEAT CHALLENGED

"It is the United States that sent its troops into the so-called republic of South Viet Nam," Fedorenko asserted. "No representative of that regime should be seated here."

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost said that council rules provide for seating of a representative involved in an issue before it.

Diplomatic sources said the council would hear a speech by Cambodian Ambassador Voeunsai Soon and then probably could adjourn until the arrival of a delegation from South Viet Nam to take part in the debate.

South Viet Nam is not a UN member. Its observer mission at UN headquarters said it did not know when the delegation from Saigon would arrive.

The Cambodian complaint before the council charges that South Vietnamese armored vehicles raided a village almost two miles inside Cambodia May 7 and killed seven villagers and that on the following day the same force crossed the border again.

Six Grain Elevators Destroyed By Fire

FALHER, Alta. (CP)—Firemen continued today to pour water on the ruins of six grain elevators and nine elevator annexes destroyed by fire early Sunday with a damage estimated at between $800,000 and $1,000,000.

Little of the 310,000 bushels of grain stored in the elevators and annexes was expected to be salvageable. The flames also destroyed some fertilizer and coal in the buildings.

PEAT FIRE CONTROLLED

VANCOUVER (CP) — A smouldering peat bog fire in nearby Delta, at one time covering 70 acres, is under round-the-clock surveillance by firemen and volunteer fire crews. The fire, which started Sunday in a bog owned by Western Peat Limited, now has been cut back to one acre.

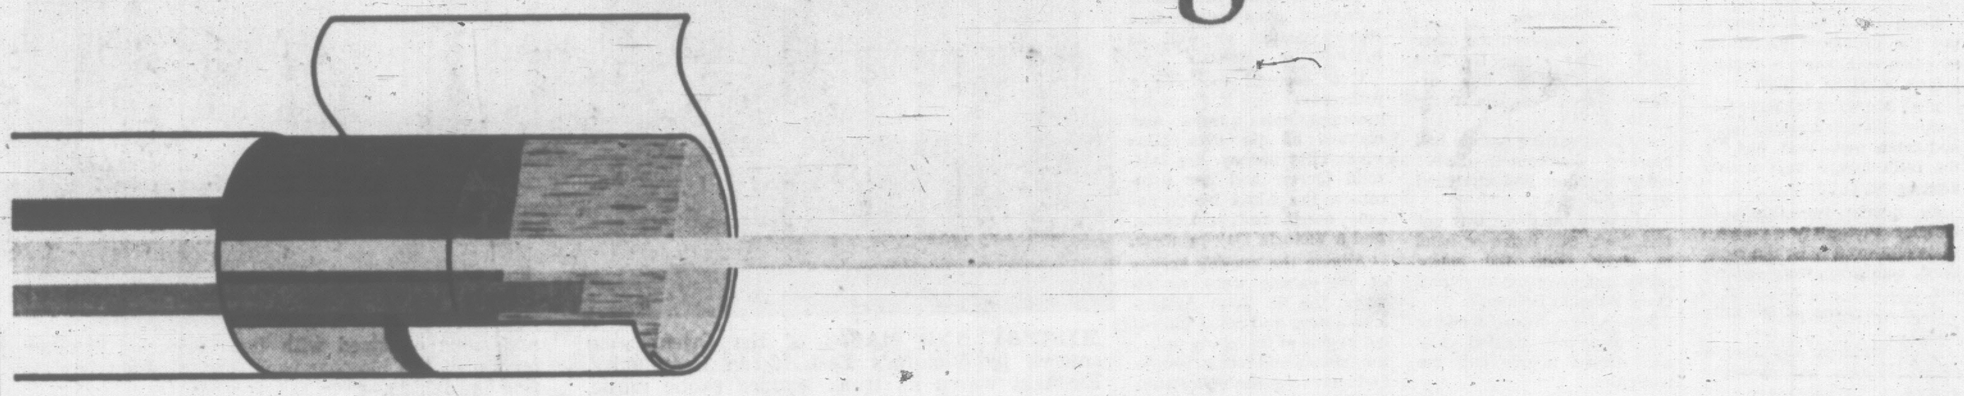
cigarette filter breakthrough:



belmont—FIRST CANADIAN CIGARETTE WITH THE UNIQUE PURIFYING ACTION OF ACTIVATED CHARCOAL GRANULES IN A VITAL NEW MULTI-STAGE FILTER SYSTEM OF UNUSUAL PROMISE!

What Does Activated Charcoal Do?

Activated Charcoal is an unusual substance that has a way of purifying gasses or solutions as they pass through it.

Activated Charcoal is used in water filtration for its exceptional ability to remove chlorophenols.

It is a part of the filter system that purifies the air astronauts breathe.

How Does Activated Charcoal Work?

Activated Charcoal granules have something that scientists call an immense "internal area".

This means that a granule of charcoal acts like a miniature sponge, attracting and holding on the surface of its pores various materials.

Another way to explain this unique purifying action of Activated Charcoal is that each granule adsorbs up to 70 times its weight in whatever materials it is extracting.

How Is Activated Charcoal Used In Belmont's Multi-Stage Filter System?

New Belmont has a multi-stage filter system that functions selectively in three phases.

First there is the purifying action of Activated Charcoal granules (charcoal treated to make it specially adsorptive).

The filter uses a large amount of Activated Charcoal; it uses large, serrated granules of Activated Charcoal (not dust, not a liquid, not a dip); it uses a strong fibre mesh to hold these Activated Charcoal granules and to channel the smoke through and around so that none is bypassed.

Second, there is the filtering mesh of fibres in which are suspended the serrated granules of Activated Charcoal.

This entire fibre mesh performs a vital filtering function itself.

A third important selective phase takes place in a separate backstop filter of pure white cellulose acetate.

These three phases of the Belmont multi-stage filter system combine to give a selective filtering action never before available in Canada.

If Activated Charcoal Is So Good, Why The Long Wait?

Benson & Hedges have known for a long time that charcoal is a unique filtering substance, as have other cigarette manufacturers.

The problem has always been how to contain, and distribute evenly, enough charcoal in a cigarette filter to really make effective use of its recognized purifying action.

It is only recently that the necessary technological developments have made possible the use of sufficient Activated Charcoal granules in this breakthrough filter.

Today Belmont offers you extra-length Virginia King-Size cigarettes, with this exceptional multi-stage filter, at regular prices.

Why Does Belmont Give You Greater Pleasure In Smoking?

Belmont delivers the kind of taste that is rewarding…a taste that is smooth, pleasing, and with enough flavour to satisfy the palate.

That's because Belmont has joined the vital new multi-stage Activated Charcoal filter, and extra-length king-size to a smoothly rewarding combination of the very finest vintage Virginia tobaccos.

You owe it to yourself to try Belmont.

CASCADING WATER flowed from May Queen Linda Gower's footstool down to her princesses' tuffets on this special prize-winning float entered in Victoria Day parade by the City of Victoria. Princess Jane Bowering waves towards the camera, and Princess Sandy Johl smiles at spectators.

Float that wowed the crowd was the "Queen of Daffodils" entry by Stocker's Security Storage. It, too, was a prize-winner, based on the Daffodil Festival motif promoted by the city this spring. Almost all the prize-winning floats in this year's parade were festooned with flowers.

IT'S NOT ALL MUSIC . . .

The Little Things Make the Big Parade

By JIM BIGSBY

Everyone loves a parade, but the grandiose procession of color and noise is usually remembered as a blur.

It's the little things that people talk about as the floats and bands move past, and it's the little things they discuss afterwards.

As nearly two-thirds of Greater Victoria watched what appeared to be the other third, comments were numerous,

Here are some of the little things:

Little children are always crowd pleasers, and motherly gushes of "Isn't that sweeet?" were common.

CONTRAST APPEARS

But every so often the cheerful, untired freckle-faced variety of child was replaced by a foot-sore and sullen little trouper shuffling down the hard, hot pavement, trombone or sabre getting heavier by the minute.

The crowd would then seem a little less happy with the idea of five and six-year-olds making a four-mile march, and a sort of collective guilt could somehow be felt in the air.

Methods of viewing were as ingenious as they were numerous. As always the curb-sitters, chair-carriers and roof-climbers were everywhere along the route, and several bright young men were perching loftily on stepladders.

After several wax figurines were driven past, including an atrocious version of the late President Kennedy, a waxen-faced Queen Victoria hove into view with a monarch's severe and unmoving face.

"Is she real?" half the crowd whispered.

"Yes," whispered the other half. "Her name is Clare Hamilton McCall. She portrays Queen Victoria every year."

By the time the parade had reached Government Street small openings had stretched into large gaps.

At one point there was not one float, car, horse or band in sight along the entire stretch of Government Street from Yates to Belleville.

Some of the crowd, thinking the parade over, drifted away and missed nearly half the festivities.

COULDN'T BLOW IT

The post horn player on the Olde England Inn float met up with some difficulties — he couldn't squeeze out a blast for the life of him.

Between frequent wheezing sounds a rather strangled bleat would occasionally issue forth from the archaic instrument.

A sympathetic crowd applauded each brave attempt.

A float proclaiming "Ignorance costs more in the end" in support of the school money bylaw received enthusiastic applause, primarily from women with young children.

Spectators and participants alike winced in pain as Canada's armed forces shook the Inner Harbor with a window-shaking fifteen-gun salute at noon.

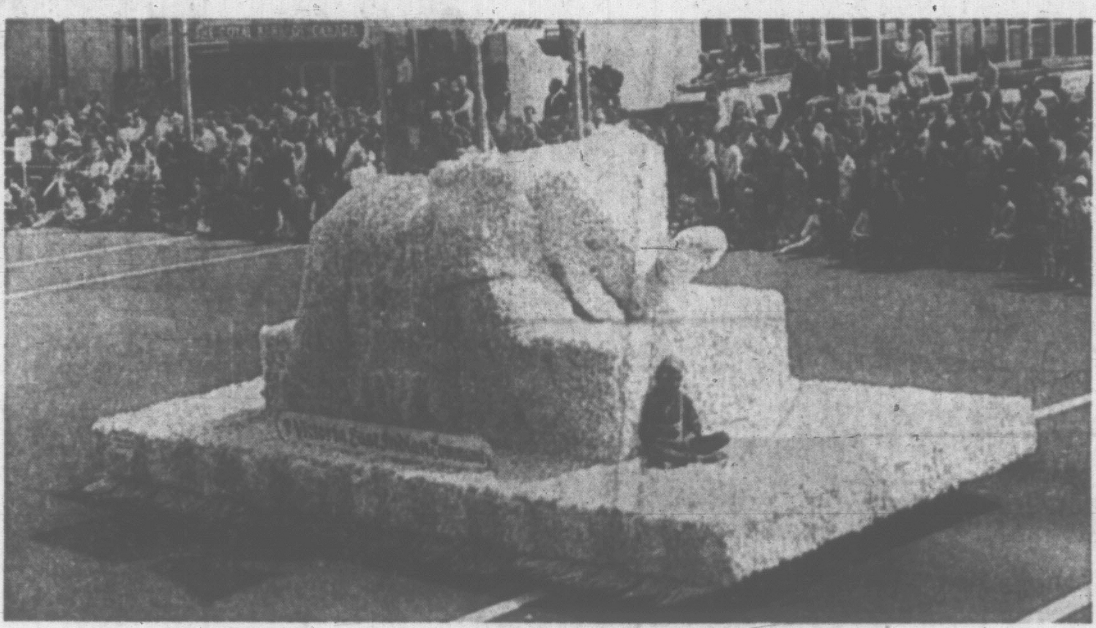
TAXPAYERS WINCE

While some of the wincers may have been taxpayers, most were obviously upset by the sheer power of the explosion, and at least one child broke into tears and covered his ears.

The University of Victoria proved once again that there's beauty as well as brain on its campus.

Uvic seemed to have a princesses as it proudly monopoly on queens and claimed as its own Miss PNE, Miss Sidney, the Daffodil Queen and her princesses, the Alma Mater society queen and princesses, and a Victoria Day princess.

Among the unsung heroes of the parade were, as always, the St. John Ambulance Corps and those guardian angels of marching units, the shovel-and-truck people following the equestrian groups.



MYSTERY AND MAGIC of the Orient were entered by Victoria's East Indian Community. Elephant waved its trunk, exuded exotic music, and came equipped with two dark-eyed beauties on top of the blossom back, and elephant boy—a fine howdah-do.

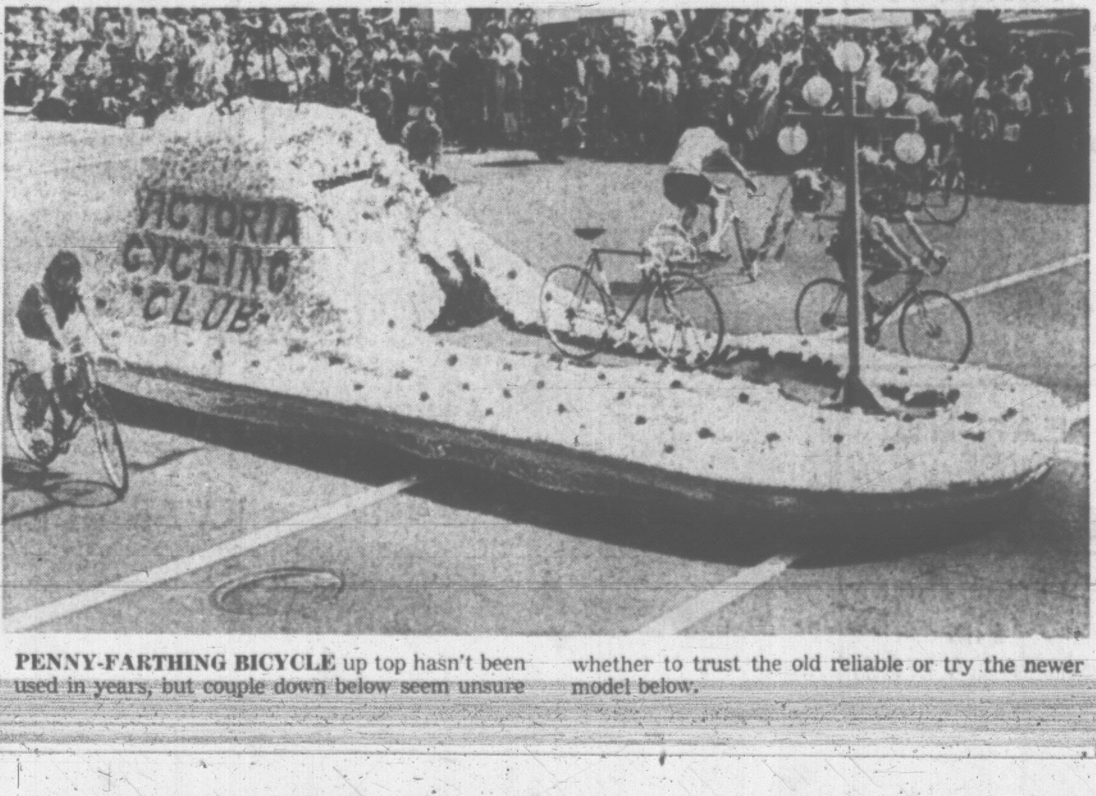
PARADE WAS just one blow after another for hardworking brass sections of the many school bands that gave their all. Those horns get heavy after three miles or so.

ONE BIG BAG of popcorn was sustenance for four as young spectators sat on sidewalk waiting for the grand parade to go by. Dipping deep are, from left, Freddie Newnham, Rickie Bowers, Debbie Bowers and Terry Bowers.

CLOWNS LOVE A PARADE just as much as the spectators love clowns. This husky beauty decided during Monday's parade (s) he went for the silent service, shore patrol variety.

WORLD'S BIGGEST SALMON was featured in Saanich Municipal Employees' Association float, which made much of the fishing spots adjoining the municipality. Float was one of the biggest, was mostly made of old newspapers, and took a first prize for the Trophyland theme.

GONDOLA LADEN with loveliness is Pacific National Exhibition entry bearing PNE Queen Linda Douma. Linda is also Sidney Queen, and following the prize-winning float were her princesses—by car.



PENNY-FARTHING BICYCLE up top hasn't been used in years, but couple down below seem unsure whether to trust the old reliable or try the newer model below.

Kissless Queen Almost Misses Her Coronation

Linda Gower, who wears the hats of Miss Victoria and May Queen, is sweet 19 and 'never been kissed'—by a mayor anyway.

Victoria's Mayor R. B. Wilson set the crown precariously on her head Sunday afternoon to make the May Queen title official.

But she didn't get the chief magistrate's traditional buss on the cheek.

And she very nearly didn't get the crown, either—the mayor first put it on princess Jane Bowering's curly head, then moved it swiftly over to the correct coiffeur.

TWELVE BUGLERS

Above them on the Legislative Buildings front steps, a dozen buglers of the Queen's Own Rifles blared out a fanfare.

"May yours be a happy and glorious reign," said the mayor.

About 2,000 persons sprawled over the lawns to watch the ceremony, in spite of chill breezes and leaden grey skies that shed a few drops just as Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association chairman John Watts spoke the words:

"We are in the laps of the gods as far as weather (for Monday's parade) is concerned."

Junior Chamber of Commerce president Bryan Holliday presented small gifts to Queen Linda and her princesses Sandy Johl and Jane Bowering.

DRILL CORPS ESCORT

Linda doffed the crown after a few moments in deference to her bouffant hairdo, and triumphantly crownless—escorted by the Victoria Girls' Drill Corps—she and her princesses left for Beacon Hill Park and a concert by the Pasadena City College Lancers.

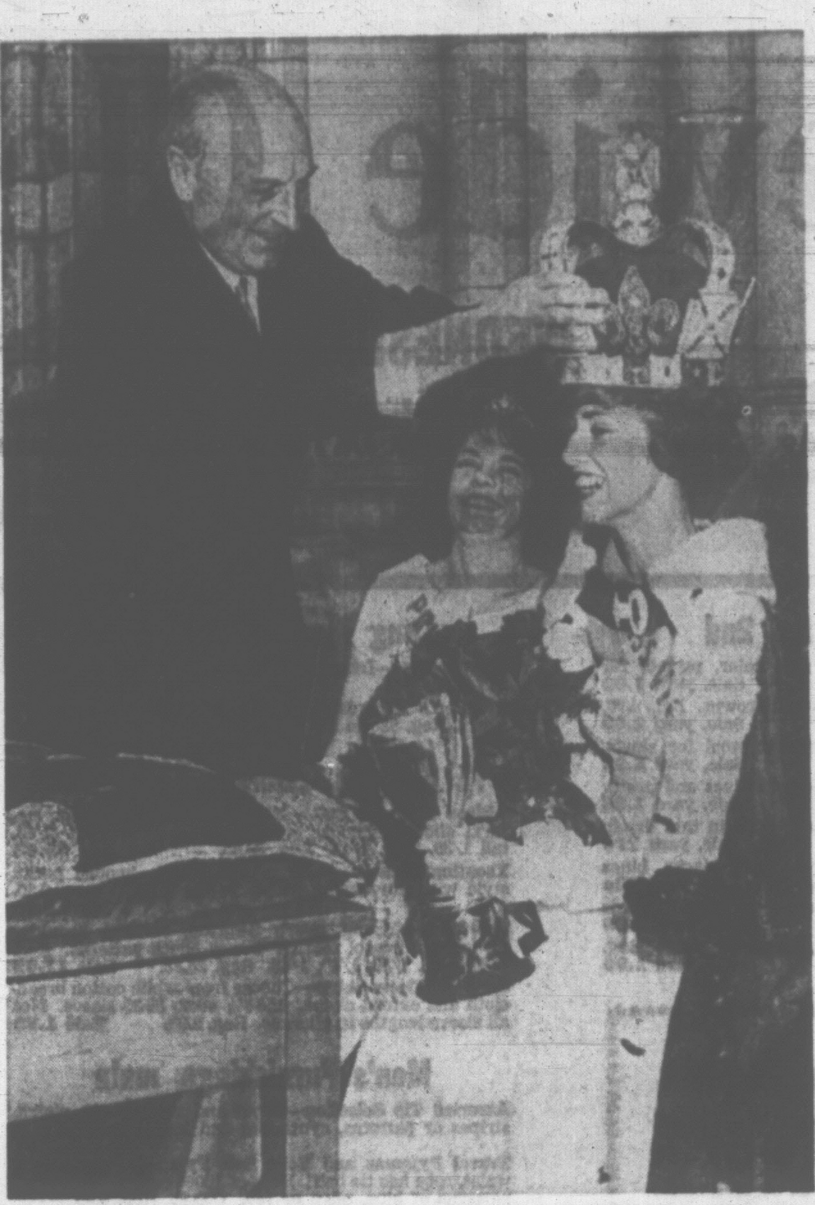
On Saturday night, the last day of the Jaycees' Fair, Linda was crowned Miss Victoria on the stage at the Memorial Arena.

Linda, her two princesses and the other seven finalists were showered with gifts at the end of the evening — a $150 cheque for Linda, $50 each for her princesses, clothing, jewelry and other prizes.

On stage to congratulate her successor was last year's Miss Victoria, Merle Webb.

For princess Jane Bowering, the week had another fillip of luck.

Her brother, David, 21, won a television set Wednesday in the nightly program draw.



A MISS IS GOOD FOR A SMILE, as Victoria's Mayor R. B. Wilson gets the crown on the right head—on the second try. Linda Gower accepts the regal hat as princess Jane Bowering chuckles—the mayor put the crown on her at first, then moved it hastily one head over. (Photos by Irving Strickland.)

Government Policy May Hold Up Resort

A swank $500,000 Sooke resort's plan to lease a large section of foreshore may be stalled by government policy.

Grouse Nest Resort Ltd. is seeking three leases totalling 286 acres in the Sooke Basin.

A provincial lands department official said today it is unusual to grant leases covering such a large area.

He said a formal application has not yet been received, but when it is it will get "a long, cold" scrutiny.

"Of course we can't prejudge it, but this is a high-use recreation area," he said.

Residents of the area are drawing up a petition of protest against any leases being granted to any commercial venture on the foreshore.

But Louis Lindholm, a Victoria lawyer who is president of Grouse Nest Resort Ltd., said the resort will be wide open to the public.

"The intent of the company is not to keep anybody out," he said. "We want to preserve the area exactly as it is."

Grouse Nest is a B.C. company representing Develco Ltd. of Switzerland, which holds 9,997 of the 10,000 shares.

Mr. Lindholm said reservations have already been made by U.S. and European vacationers for the resort, but he hoped the bulk of its business would come from the Victoria area.

He said the resort will include boat anchorage for guests and "mariners in distress."

At present there is no anchorage in the area, he said.

The company wants to lease 130 acres at the east end of Sooke Basin, 112 acres on Forrest Island and 44 acres on Cabbage Island.

Mr. Lindholm said the company already owns the inland property adjacent to these areas, and intends to set up wharves and picnic sites on the islands.

The petition is being organized by Howard Jones of Gillespie Road.

A number of Sooke residents have already phoned the lands department protesting.

FAIR A SUCCESS

Jaycees Still Adding Exhibition Proceeds

About 110,000 persons visited the Jaycee Fair last week, but organizers are still not sure how much money they've made.

"All indications are it was a financial success," Jaycee Frank Kohlman said today.

Biggest attendance nights were Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with a total of 75,000 visitors streaming through the Memorial Arena, the Curling Rink, and the midway and agricultural shows between.

And when Linda Gower was crowned Miss Victoria, about 7,500 spectators had wriggled their way into the arena to watch.

PRIZE WINNERS

Al Tarbet, 3251 Lynnwood, won the 1964 station wagon drawn at the end of the fair, and C. J. Knox, 947 Dunsmuir, won the nightly program draw giving him his choice of a washing machine, stereo or television set.

E. J. Freeman, no address given, won the pony and cart and $100.

One indication of booming business came from the Jaycees' hot dog stand, which during the week moved 1¾ tons of hot dogs, 30 gallons of relish, three-quarters of a ton of hamburger, and 1,500 gallons of soft drinks.

"I can't say it was the best-ever fair," said Jaycee exhibition chairman Ray Farmer, "but it's certainly been more successful than last year."

PULVERIZED CAR at right was one in which Della Mae Hoegi, 19, of 3016 Donald, was killed early Sunday on Douglas. It was driven by her boy friend, Walter Allison, 22, of 631 Kenneth, and was going left on to Kenneth when it was in collision with vehicle at left. Driver of the other car in the head-on collision was Leslie Perry of Queen's Own Rifles, Work Point Baracks. Right side of death car was ripped off and it was pushed back 50 feet into a ditch. Both Miss Hoegi and Mr. Allison had seat belts but they were not buckled and police said it likely would have made little difference if they had been. Seats from their car were found 12 feet from the wreck although both passengers remained inside the car. Both Rifleman Perry and Mr. Allison are recovering.

Traffic Toll Grim, Heavy Over Holidays

Victorians smashed, banged and crashed into one another during the holiday weekend, killing two persons and sending 16 others to hospital.

Five of the injured are still in hospital including a city policeman.

The policeman is Constable Tom Anthony, a motorcycle patrol officer who broke his leg when he fell off his cycle while escorting the Victoria Day parade.

He is in good condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital. The accident occurred at 11:20 a.m. as he was turning, at very low speed, from Quadra to Cloverdale. Police don't know why his cycle keeled over but it fell on his leg.

In only fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital is Mrs. Ida Sam of Brentwood Bay. She suffered internal injuries in an accident on Interurban Road Monday afternoon.

The car she was in was driven by Moses Sam, also Brentwood Bay. Two passengers, Ricky Sam, 9, and Leonard Paul, 38, were discharged from hospital after treatment.

Seven persons were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital after a three-car pile-up at Cook and Haultain shortly before 9:30 Monday morning.

Police said a car driven by Augustine Doiron, 2215 Florence, was in collision with one driven by Jock Froud, 2310 Quadra. After the impact Froud's car went out of control, crossed the street and hit a third vehicle, driven by Jack Manson, 990 Hampshire.

Taken to hospital and later discharged after treatment were Mrs. Augustine Doiron, Mrs. Thelma Yalloway, 2183 Epworth, Carol Yalloway, 17, and Thomas Yalloway, 9; Mr. Manson, Margaret Sampson, 17, of 3450 Cedar Hill Road, and Mr. Froud.

In fair condition is Vicki Wright, 18, of 3287 Whittier, who was a passenger on a motorcycle that was in collision with a car. Driver of the bicycle was Robert Alexander, 22, of 4121 San Ardo, and the car driver was Charles Palliser of Mesachie Lake.

Miss Wright broke a leg and received head injuries in the crash on Trans-Canada Highway Sunday afternoon. Mr. Alexander is in good condition with a leg injury.

CAR DIDN'T STOP

Clayton Thompson, 36, of 2396 Estevan, is in fair condition after a near collision with a sports car that failed to stop Saturday afternoon.

He told police he swerved his motorbike to avoid a collision with a TRS, went out of control and fell. The occupants of the car drove on.

Mr. Thompson was admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital with ankle, head and shoulder injuries.

A student nurse at Royal Jubilee Hospital was treated there as a patient after being hurt in a three-car collision at Market and Rose Monday shortly after noon. Mary Stevens, Nurse's Residence, was discharged after treatment.

Drivers of the cars involved were John C. Johnston, 2553 Vancouver, and Thor Jacobsen, 203 St. Andrews. The Johnson vehicle then was in collision with a stopped car driven by James Cooper, 2673 Foul Bay Road.

Hydro Lineman Rescues Bird From High Wire Predicament

By JIM BIGSBY

"There's a gruesome thing going on out here," said the voice on the telephone.

And that started one of those strange exercises in compassion when several humans take time to go to the rescue of a small bird.

The Times notified B.C. Hydro and soon line patrolman Tom Musgrave had received a radio call and was heading towards the corner of Lombard and Tavanne in Metchosin.

Dangling from a 6,900-volt power line was a starling, a piece of string knotted around its leg and securely entangled on the wire.

For over an hour the bird had struggled, the string shortening each time it went around.

It now hung with wings outspread like a miniature crucifix.

Scrambling up a pole Mr. Musgrave cut the wire and gradually slacked it off until this reporter could catch and hold the frightened bird.

It remained still and quiet as cotton string, apparently a rudimentary snare, was removed from its leg.

Then it slipped free and flew off, its right leg hanging slightly as if damaged.

"I only wish the children responsible for that string could have seen this," said one bystander.

Boys Survive Cold Dip Off Esquimalt

Two teenage boys clung to a small, swamped boat for more than an hour Monday evening before they were rescued off Saxe Point, Esquimalt.

Douglas Alger, 14, of 1112 Bewdley, and Dennis McMillan, 13, of 1134 Wychbury, were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for exposure and shock.

Both are back home and healthy today.

They were in a flat-bottomed boat near Brothers Island when a heavy wave swamped the craft, say Esquimalt police.

TRIPLE RESCUE

Two bystanders—an RCN lieutenant-commander and a skin diver—made independent rescue attempts, and converged on the submerged boat just as Esquimalt police got there too.

Lt.-Cmdr. Paul Roggeveen, 421 Campbell, pulled the two chilled youngsters into a small boat he had commandeered on the beach.

William Gerry, 432 Grafton, had swum towards them wearing a wet suit and floating on a paddle board.

Esquimalt policemen Cons. E. M. Taylor and Cpl. Robert Duncan, who also went out in a boat, towed the boys' boat and the paddle board back to shore.

CRIES UNHEARD

When found, the boys and their boat were about halfway between Saxe Point and Brothers Island, say police.

DOCUMENTARY news cameraman Robert Cohen appears here Friday and Saturday with carte blanche film of Castro's Cuba as a special offering of Greater Victoria school district's adult education division. Cohen, an American, made film and interviewed Castro last year, using argument that if government had nothing to hide it had nothing to fear by exposure. Oak Bay Junior Secondary School.

RADIO STATION APPROVED FOR DUNCAN

Permission to build a new AM radio station at Duncan was given by the Board of Broadcast Governors at Ottawa today.

The application, by William R. Jeffcott, was the fourth presented to the board, which recommends approval or denial of a broadcast licence to privately-owned companies in Canada.

Mr. Jeffcott apparently satisfied the board on his last bid as to details of financial structure and personnel for the proposed outlet.

He said there are 30,000 potential listeners in the Cowichan Valley market area.

His application was opposed by one Victoria and one Nanaimo radio station.

Preparation of students for school will be discussed at the George Jay Home and School club meeting Wednesday.

SITE STILL SECRET

New Liquor Stores For Saanich, City

New liquor stores are being planned for Victoria and Saanich, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today.

Mr. Bonner said construction of a long-sought store in Saanich is due to begin this summer.

A site has been chosen, but negotiations to acquire it are still under way, he said.

Mr. Bonner declined to give the location until the negotiations are completed, but said it is not at the Town and Country Shopping Centre, as sought in a Saanich residents' petition last year.

ROYAL OAK?

However, the government was previously investigating sites at Royal Oak and on McKenzie Avenue.

The new Victoria store will eventually replace the one on Johnson Street.

Mr. Bonner said it will start as a separate division of the main store, dealing in "specialty" wines and spirits.

It will be similar to the Vancouver specialty division which sells what Mr. Bonner described as "the more exotic—and expensive" drinks.

MOVE OLD STORE

The Johnson Street store is overcrowded and surrounded by heavy traffic, Mr. Bonner said.

"In time we will move the whole store," he added.

The Liquor Control Board is currently seeking a site for the Victoria store, he said.

Dump Is Menace Lab Experts Say

Whitbread's Report Comes Under Attack

By LESLIE MILLIN

Resident-hired experts say the Hartland Road Dump is contaminating Prospect Lake, and ratepayers are again demanding the garbage dump be permanently closed.

A letter from the Prospect Lake and District Community Association addressed to Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy quotes independent authority to shoot down chief health officer Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread's opinion that the dump does not menace health.

Enclosed with the letter are reports from the Victoria engineering firm of Willis and Cunliffe Ltd., and Wood Laboratory of Vancouver.

The reports say:

Hartland Road dump drains into the Prospect Lake-Killarney Lake watershed;

Toxic chemicals may get into the water;

Water draining from the dump has a very high bacteria count.

COUNCIL REPROACHED

And the association's letter takes a strong swipe at Saanich council, pointing out this advice had to be paid for by residents of the Prospect Lake area, and:

"It is a distressing and shocking situation that a community . . must raise money among its residents, many of whom are pensioners, in order to hire engineering advice because elected and appointed officials either do not want to or are lax in seeking out the facts."

Association president G. A. C. Denford told the Times that the consultants will be paid from "a dollar here and a dollar there" raised by subscription among residents.

Referring to the experts' reports, the letter directly refutes two statements of Dr. Whitbread's in connection with the dump.

He said topography of the land made drainage flow away from, not towards Prospect Lake.

And he also said—in a letter to Saanich—"It is our opinion that the Hartland Road Dump does not constitute a public health menace."

The Willis and Cunliffe study indicates the dump does drain into the lake, says Mr. Denford.

And the laboratory report says in part:

"The continued evidence of such contamination in any water flowing into the Killarney-Prospect Lake system should receive your serious attention."

Mr. Denford said this morning he has nothing to add to what the association said in its letter.

"It speaks for itself," he said.

Copies of the letter have also been sent to Victoria's Mayor R. B. Wilson and provincial Health Minister Eric Martin.

The Hartland Road dump used by both the city and Saanich, has been a storm centre since the community association first charged a year ago it was a public health menace.

City Tug Off To Save Ship Adrift at Sea

The nationalist Chinese freighter Taih Sing is drifting helplessly in the North Pacific about 1,700 miles west of here as a Victoria tug heads towards it.

Captain Harley Blagborne, aboard Island Tug and Barge's deep-sea salvage tug Sudbury II, reported that he was "rolling along" at 13 knots towards the stricken vessel.

Contact is expected to be established Friday morning.

The 9,000-ton freighter lost her propeller in heavy seas Saturday about 500 miles south of the Aleutian Islands.

She was not in any immediate danger and her crew was reported safe.

The Sudbury will attempt to put a line aboard the vessel and tow it to Portland, Oregon.

The Taih Sing was headed in ballast for Portland when she lost her propeller.

Yukon Ceremony

The new sternwheel vessels, Yukon Queen and Yukon Belle, will be commissioned at 10 a.m. on Saturday at the Yukon Queen Tours Ltd. dock on the Causeway in front of the Empress Hotel.

TOPICS of the DAY

A prisoner who escaped from Colquitz Prison last Friday was remanded until Wednesday for sentence when he appeared in Saanich court today.

Harvey Willson, 17, a burglar from Surrey, was working in the staff quarters when he made his escape. A prison official said "we just don't know" how he got out.

He was re-captured by prison guards about a mile away hiding behind a bush at Wilkinson and Greenlea.

MAYOR LAUDS GRAND PARADE

Mayor R. B. Wilson today said he was highly pleased with Monday's grand parade and described it as "the best" he has known.

"It drew the largest crowd that I've ever seen gathered for this occasion and, although there were a few pauses, it seemed to have the best marshalling."

The mayor said the new route down Douglas Street may have made the difference—"but the weather certainly helped, too."

The Red Cross has set itself a target of 1000 pints of blood for a three-day blood donor clinic this week.

On Tuesday the clinic, to be held at Red Cross House, 1046 Fort, will be open 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Wednesday it will be open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at Red Cross House.

On the last day it will be held at HMC Dockyard and will open 9 a.m. to noon, then 1 to 4 p.m.

IT WAS ROUND-UP TIME in Beacon Hill Park Monday as police and parks employees chased a small bull and woolly black lamb that some prankster let loose in the grounds. They couldn't catch the bull but eventually managed to corral the lamb and the bull then followed quietly into custody. No one knows where they came from as they haven't been reported missing. They are lodged now in the deer pen. (Times photo by Irving Strickland.)

Don't Take Chances—Carry Repair Kit at All Times

By PENNY SAVER

Have you ever been embarrassed by a necklace that broke and sent beads rolling across the floor at the most inopportune moment?

If so, then here's a handy little item to carry with you at all times. It's a miniature jewelry repair kit that comes in a purse-size plastic carrying case.

Price is $1.95 and kit contains a dainty pair of gold-toned pliers, a screw driver and assortment of hooks and catches.

Of course, if you'd rather leave the jewelry repair to your handyman, there's another special kit on the market for him.

Price of this kit is $1.50, and although it doesn't contain an assortment of hooks and catches, it is a complete set of miniature tools with a master handle. Tools include various sizes of screw driver heads and a small metal hammer. Set comes in its own leather case.

Travelling usually finds me stringing make-shift clothes lines around rooms in motels, cabins or wherever I happen to be. So, for this year's holiday, I invested in a compact travel laundry case.

Case itself is leather-covered and in the shape of a miniature suitcase. It contains a small box of soap flakes, a sturdy clothes line and a supply of small plastic clothes pegs. Price is $1.95, and case also makes an ideal souvenir.

If you would like further information on name and location of shop selling these items, call Penny at 382-3131.

THE BETTER HALF

DEAR ABBY . . .

A Salute to Alaska!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I write with compulsion tonight. I have seen people who have lost dear ones. People who have lost only some of their worldly possessions, and people who have lost everything. But no backs are bowed. The co-operation and organization is astounding! From teenagers who offer to baby-sit for their neighbors so that they may salvage what they can from their wrecked homes, to engineers and survey crews already working to rebuild. Restoration of transportation, mail service, water, newspapers, power, has begun, and even the corner grocery store is swept up, mopped up, and sometimes propped up, but open for business. What a heroic job the radio hams did, working night and day to relay messages to loved ones. And the Red Cross! And the generosity of others! I could go on and on. Let no man say that we are "soft," that we are weak. I have seen our strength and I am overwhelmed.

A PROUD ALASKAN

DEAR ABBY: This is for the cocktail waitress who complained because she had to wear a short, low-cut, sexy-looking uniform on her job: A decent girl wouldn't go out in public that way. Girls who show off their bodies in the line of duty, such as strippers and models, have no shame or modesty, and would just as soon stand naked in a department store window as say "How do you do?" Any woman who would be ashamed to have her child go into the place where she is working and say, "There is MY mother!" should change jobs. And if she is standing there with most of her front exposed, and half of her behind sticking out, I mean HER!

FOR DECENCY

DEAR ABBY: You advised that short-skirted cocktail waitress who complained about her hours and the men customers making passes at her to get a job with shorter hours and longer skirts. That is easier said than done. Six years ago my husband walked out and left me with five children under 10 years of age. I had never worked a day in my life and was trained for nothing. I took a job as a short-skirted cocktail waitress. It wasn't easy, but it beat charity. I have been able to support my family and provide insurance for their future educations. If men customers get rough, I tell them in a nice way that I have five children to support and a scene could cost me my job. They never give me any trouble after that. I work five days a week from 7 p.m. until 2 a.m. and take home about $160 a week. I am a PTA president, Cub Scout den mother, blood donor and a one-day-a-week hospital volunteer. I am also—

A SHORT-SKIRTED WAITRESS

DEAR SHORT - SKIRTED: You are also a far-sighted woman. And justifiably proud.

DEAR ABBY: I am graduating from eighth grade in June and all the girls in my class are wearing white dresses. My older sister was graduated from eighth grade two years ago and my mother wants me to wear the same dress SHE wore. I am afraid everybody will remember it and know that I am wearing my sister's old dress. We haven't got the money for a new dress and my sister's is very pretty and as good as new, but I feel funny about it. I hate to hurt my mother's feelings, but I would like a new dress. What should I do?

HAND-ME-DOWNS

DEAR GIRL GRADUATE: Wear the dress, honey, and don't give it a second thought. It is the way a person wears a garment that makes it lovely. And chances are, not one person will remember having seen it before.

DEAR ABBY: If those yokels who accuse you of using an old picture with your column had any sense they could see that you have a 1964 hair style! Sincerely:

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Select a Doctor Before You Actually Need Him

Lowman

Most people are somewhat in awe of doctors. This is natural since medicine is a mystery to them. For this reason, and because they rely so heavily on their physician when in trouble, they are apt to think of him or her as a saint or a genius, or both.

I am sure that there are more dedicated, humane and idealistic individuals in this profession than in almost any other. However, the medical profession has its quota of incompetent, indifferent and commercially minded members too. Therefore, the way you select your doctor is important to you.

Doctors usually hang their diplomas and certificates in their waiting rooms just in case any of their patients are interested, but few of the patients ever look at them. Here are some things you should know when choosing a physician.

Was he graduated from an accredited medical school? Take the trouble to find out. Do not take the advice of friends unless you are sure that they selected the physician they recommend intelligently. An easier way is to contact the local doctor's directory. They can give you the names of well-qualified physicians and surgeons in your community.

Everyone should have a family physician. He knows all about your family as well as you and about your past experiences, physical and emotional. He is in a position to give the kind of help no one else can. He will take care of your illnesses and he will know when you require the advice of a specialist and will send you to one who is well qualified.

So, if you have a family doctor you have a great safeguard. But what of the person who has never been to a doctor and then suddenly needs medical help? What of the traveller who is faced with an emergency? What about thousands of people who move to a new town or city each year?

One general bit of advice is to select your doctor or surgeon before you need him. If you need medical help when in a strange town, call your own physician at home unless it is an emergency. If he does not know anyone where you are, he has ways of checking. Or, call the best hospital in town and ask to speak to the doctor "on service."

If you are moving to a new town you would be very wise to ask your family physician to recommend someone to you before you ever make the move.

It is also smart to find out who doctors go to for care themselves or who they send their families to.

Campbell's Vegetable Soup and "Funwiches"

Campbell's Vegetable Soup is most children's favourite. They like the bite-sized vegetables, the amusing alphabets.

Mothers like the fact that this is a nourishing soup — made with 16 different vegetables and hearty stock simmered from real beef bones.

"Funwiches" are sandwiches that appeal especially to youngsters. We list five. They're all surprisingly wholesome.

1. Peanut butter and banana: the banana can be sliced or wrapped whole, hot-dog style.
2. Cheese and grape jelly: make the layer of cheese thick, with just enough jelly for flavour.
3. Bologna and pickle: slice standard sweet pickles thinly, or use pre-sliced "bread-and-butter" pickles.
4. Salmon salad: mix together salmon, finely-chopped celery and onion, plus a dab of mayonnaise.
5. Chopped egg and relish: a dash of relish in standard, chopped egg ingredients adds colour, flavour.

Local Artist Married in Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Fenwick Lansdowne, 27, famous Canadian bird painter whose paintings have been shown in exhibitions across Canada, in London and New York, was married here Friday to the former Pat McAfee of Victoria.

The wedding, in Rosedale Presbyterian Church here, was private, with only a few close friends attending.

The couple left Saturday by air for England where they will spend a month in London on a combined holiday and research trip. Mr. Lansdowne will do some field work for his paintings.

Born in Hong Kong, Mr. Lansdowne contracted poliomyelitis as a small child and now uses crutches. He paints with his left hand but not because of his handicap.

"I just happen to be left-handed," he says.

The son of Mrs. E. Lansdowne, 745 Newport Avenue, Victoria, he has been living there for several years. He often works in collaboration with museums, borrowing the skins of birds to gain details of coloring for his paints.

His last large showing in Canada was in Montreal in February, with 39 of his paintings shown in the museum of fine arts.

Mrs. Lansdowne was born in Victoria but grew up in Calgary and lived for a time in Edmonton before moving back to Victoria several years ago.

Groom's Parents Attend

Mr. and Mrs. John McGinnis of Victoria travelled to Tofino recently for the double-ring ceremony that united Arlene Grace Craig and their son, Donald John McGinnis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Craig of Tofino.

St. Francis of Assissi Church was decorated with pink and white talisman roses and narcissi for the ceremony at which Fr. Francis Sutherland officiated. Organist was Mrs. David Bond, aunt of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the petite bride was lovely in an imported model gown of embossed Alencon lace over tulle styled with slim skirt and fitted bodice. A bouffant detachable train extended from two self-fabric roses at waistline. Her tiered illusion veil pouffed from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of roses.

Pink tissue faille gowns were choice of matron of honor, Mrs. Bruce Grant and bridesmaids, the Misses Carol and Linda Craig, sisters of the bride, and Miss Elaine Holmes.

Petite Cinday Craig was flower girl for her sister in a white tulle over silk frock with a crown of sweetheart roses in her hair.

Ron Lupton, Victoria, was best man and guests were ushered by M. Whittaker, Nanaimo, Master Philip Craig, brother of the bride, and James and Sandy Bradshaw, cousins of the groom.

Pink and white streamers and rosebuds in lattice work over the window shades decorated Tofino community hall for a reception which followed.

A three-tier wedding cake made by the groom's mother centred the bride's table. Bill White, a friend of the family, was master of ceremonies and toast was proposed by Thomas Gibson. Music for dancing was provided by William Fraser's orchestra.

On return from a honeymoon trip touring southern California, the newlyweds will make their home in Tofino.

For travelling, the bride wore a Mediterranean blue two-piece Italian knit suit with sweetheart bows enhancing the jacket neckline.

Other Victorians who travelled to Tofino to attend the wedding were Mr. G. Craig and son, Mr. and Mrs. John McGinnis and Miss Dianne McGinnis, Mr. and Mrs. B. Kehn, Mr. and Mrs. T. Harrigan and son, Mrs. R. Bailey and Mrs. J. Whittaker.

Naval Wedding for June Medler

A brooch belonging to her great-grandmother was "something old" worn by June Hazel Medler when she became the bride of OS Colin Grant McKenzie, RCN.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white nylon over satin featuring a lace panel accented with seed pearls that extended from neckline to hem. Back interest was created with a lily at waistline. Sleeves ended in lily points. Her shoulder-length veil was trimmed in lace and misted from a circlet of sequins. Pink roses and carnations, maidenhair fern, lily of the valley and crocuses with trailing white ribbons were in her bouquet.

Chaplain W. R. Greatrex, RCN, officiated at the ceremony in the chapel of HMCS Naden that united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Donald Medler, 1140 Burdett Avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clark of Bishopmill, Elgin, Scotland.

A ballerina-length gown of champagne brocade with pink headpiece and bone accessories was choice of matron of honor, Mrs. Alexander Medler, sister-in-law of the bride.

Bridesmaid, Miss Esther Medler, the bride's sister, wore a street-length gown of pale pink nylon with headpiece en tone and white accessories. Both carried bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Lorraine Medler, another sister, was flower girl in a pastel pink frock with white accessories and headband of pink carnations. White carnations were in her colonial bouquet.

Raymond Keirstead was ring bearer for his cousin.

Ernest LaFrance was best man and guests were ushered by Alexander Medler, the bride's brother.

Charles Keirstead proposed the toast to his niece at a reception which followed in the home of the bride's parents. Pink and white streamers and a large white bell over the bride's table decorated the room. The table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake made by Miss E. Philpott. Cake was decorated in pink and white and flanked by candles.

The bride's going-away outfit was a three-piece blue-green linen and light beige coat. She completed the sensemble with white accessories and corsage of pink roses and carnations.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Sharon Garfinkel, Vancouver; Mrs. Frank Coverdale and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Medler, all of Duncan.

Style Show at Fair From Behind Stage

By Nona Damaske

VANCOUVER—Do you want to take a fashion tour of the world in the short space of two hours?

Fabulous fashions from around the world are on stage at the British Columbia International Trade Fair all this week.

Damaske

Fashions International is truly a glimpse of high fashion from the great centres of the world.

The stage of the Garden Building at the Pacific National Exhibition has been transformed into a colorful garden with a miniature Eiffel Tower symbolizing Paris, the acknowledged international fashion capital.

The opening scene, with terrific impact, reverses the standard fashion show procedure of closing with formal wear. Titled "Around the World—The Formal Way," it is a breathtakingly beautiful scene with elaborate gowns from top-ranking couturieres.

Miss World, Miss Carol Joan Crawford from Kingston, Jamaica, is introduced at the close of this scene. Petite, with long silky chestnut hair, Carol Joan with her shy charm has endeared herself to all the models in the show.

Miss World checked in at the Georgian Towers last week and just by chance I arrived a few minutes before her. I was able to see close up the world's most beautiful young lady. She has a shy, wistful charm and accepts adulation with quiet dignity.

Second scene of the fashion show rightfully belongs to Canada. From the east coast to the west, Canadian designers have presented their beautiful clothes.

British Columbia, chosen as this year's International Fair site, had its own collection, designed especially for our way of life.

California, Australia, France, Israel, Italy, Mexico, Sweden, India and New York are all included in this around-the-world parade of fashion so ably coordinated and commented by Winifred Mather, well-known fashion personality of Vancouver.

Nona Damaske, Times' Fashion Editor, is one of the models who will be presenting world's fashions at the British Columbia International Trade Fair in Vancouver this week. Here, she gives some of her impressions of the show.

Wild and Wooly Speedboatmen Are Racy Lot

By BOB BELL

Twenty-eight speedboat racers bounced and careened in a wild and wooly contest Sunday at Elk Lake.

The few drops of rain that fell on the Victoria Day Regatta went unnoticed in the flying spray.

An estimated crowd of 3,000 people watched the high-powered boats, from all parts of B.C. and Washington, snarl around the lake at speeds up to 100 m.p.h.

Top man of the afternoon was Willis Violet from Pitt Meadows, who outran all comers with his 150 class inboard hydroplane Miss Violet. Violet had best time of the day, doing four laps of the one-mile course in 3 minutes, 47 seconds.

Lock Madill of Vancouver, in his Spitfire II, gallantly chased Violet for the entire second heat, only to have his engine "blow up" as he went across the finish line. Madill picked up an overall second-place finish for his trouble.

Mr. Mac, driven by Gus Macdonald of Vancouver, collected a third-place trophy.

Ramon Oroano from Chemainus ran away and hid from the rest of the field as he won two straight heats to captured the 145 hydro event.

Colin MacLennan's Party Girl, from Vancouver, was no match for Ordano's Musketeer, last season's B.C. champion, and had to settle for second place.

Bob Bell from Victoria, driving Nightmare Alice, weathered the rough water behind the leaders to take third place overall.

Victoria's Dave Cameron proved he has one of the hottest BU class outboard runabouts in the province but winning the Udal Memorial trophy for the third straight time.

Barrie Pearce made it one-two for Victoria by taking second place in the event. Seattle's Tim Fagan took third.

The expected duel between the two top Canadian crackerbox boats failed to materialize, as both boats were plagued with problems.

Bunny Jaboult of Coquitlam, brought his Canadian champ Hot Box over with a brand new engine, and after spending the afternoon trying to get it started, gave up and said, "It's just too new, the engine's not broken-in yet."

The fate of Besty's Baby, owned by Ron Bestward, and driven by Bud Pearson of Coquitlam, was even more heartbreaking.

A fitting broke off the pressure fuel tank in the boat, and co-pilot Phil Harris spent the entire second heat trying to keep his finger over the hole, pump up pressure in the tank, and hold himself in the bouncing boat all at the same time.

As Pearson said, "We'd hit a wave, Harris' finger would come off the hole, and that was it. We couldn't do it."

The father and son team of Mike and Max Douet from Vancouver, with Buckshe, took advantage of the other boat's troubles to romp home in first place in both heats.

Burnaby's Heine Lindahl, driving Flying Hi in his first regatta, captured second place, and Pearson had to settle for third.

BOUNCING through some rough water in a turn, Dave Cameron of Victoria drives his BU runabout class outboard to victory in the Victoria Day regatta Sunday. Over 3,000 people saw 28 inboard and outboard speedboats compete on Elk Lake. (Robin Clarke Photo.)

NEXT YEAR, NO FISHERMEN GET TO RIDE PATROL BOAT

The biggest prize of the day on Elk Lake Sunday didn't go to a speedboat driver.

Gordie Johnston created more of a stir in the pits than any of the hydroplanes by catching a two-pound, seven-ounce trout in the middle of the Victoria Day regatta.

Johnston, vice-commodore of the sponsoring Victoria Inboard Outboard Association, manned the south-turn patrol boat.

Half way through the afternoon he got a little bored—the speedboats were going by him 50 feet away at only 100 m.p.h.

So he dropped his line over the side and went fishing.

VICTORIA DAY PARADE

Stamping along behind in a twin-vee formation were the white-suited Victoria Girls Drill Corps, leading the piece de resistance: May Queen and Miss Victoria Linda Gower, atop the City of Victoria float, which featured a real live waterfall splashing down between princesses Sandy Johl and Jane Bowering.

Bands, baton corps and majorettes came thick and fast after that, along with Ald. Geoff Edgelow on a decorated stallion.

In the midst of them, lo there was a knobbly-kneed herald in black tights and Sam. Lane's prize-winning Olde England historical float, with men in tin suits and all the trimmings.

Clopping along came the Colwood Trail Riders to the unlikely tune of Scotland the Brave; in behind was another pipe band, this one from Shorecrest High School.

One hour of the parade was gone, and along marched the unsung heroes of the parade: the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, who are responsible for organizing the whole affair.

Sons of Norway had a viking ship entered, complete with hairy Vikings, and a contingent of marchers.

Shortly thereafter trundled an open car with Uvic campus queen Wendy LeMare, escorted by a bearded clown.

The Loyal Order of Moose entered a moose-head float, and right behind it was a fragrant elephant, a float created of flowers for the East Indian Community — and a prize winner.

Drifting from afar came the sound of music, and the Bellingham High School band—a longtime parade favorite—was marching along, 150 strong.

Right behind was Miss Sidney, also Miss PNE, Sidney's Linda Douma on a PNE float styled to look like a gondola on a canal.

Coming on strong was the Gordon Head Junior Secondary School band, for my money the best of the juniors, sparked by a big bass drummer with muscles of steel and apparently an insatiable desire to beat his way right through the drum.

Several squadrons of Job's Daughters drifted past, to the syncopated notes of the Ballard High School Band (and they're from the country of John Philip Sousa?)

School bands and organizational entries flowed past, and just as the sidewalk crowds were breaking out sandwiches and thermos bottles, the familiar skirl of Scotland the Brave came over the horizon.

This was the Chilliwack Canadian Legion Band, followed by a platoon of dogs and their handlers.

Behind that came another crowd gasper: Michael William, his half-dozen sheep, and the lithe border collies that circle and swoop at his command to herd those sheep in a tight knot for all the four-mile route.

Square dancers and their caller hollered past, drill teams and bands maundered along, horses snuffled at the parade judges, and over the horizon came another band playing Scotland the Brave.

More high school bands (is there no end to them?) brassed and stamped along, including the very sharp Everett High School unit, followed by two prize floats in a row: the flower-festooned Vancouver Island Florists float, the world's largest salmon aboard the Saanich municipal employees' contribution.

Motorcycles, miscellaneous queens, horses and bands wandered through, and small children began to fall asleep in parental arms.

Brightening the last wee bit of the parade were the Colquitz Junior High School Band, very smartly turned out, and the Kuper Island Indian School band and drill team.

Clowns—there were few this year—and car customizers made up the tail-end of the three-hour parade, and the sidewalk spectators began flowing into the streets as the last entries headed for the Yates Street turn.

Somewhere off in the distance, the pipes were playing Scotland the Brave.

A CROWD OF 1,200 assembled in front of the Beacon Hill Park bandstand Sunday to hear the Pasadena City College Lancer Band, the official Tournament of Roses band. The California group was one of 13 U.S. student bands performing in the Victoria Day weekend celebrations.

Friendly Yanks March in Force On City Streets

"If Washington State had twice as many high schools, this parade would be twice as long," remarked one spectator as the thirteenth and final United States band marched past him Monday at the Victoria Day parade.

High school bands from Washington State and points south have indeed been coming in ever-increasing numbers for the annual procession.

This year the United States bands outnumbered the Victoria school bands in the parade by nearly three to one.

Frequent performances at school football games give the bands from south of the line a generally high degree of marching finesse.

Strutting, striding and sometimes even prancing, the drum majors seemed the embodiment of the bands' spirit—showmanship.

Swinging Parade

Specialty numbers such as dance steps, sudden changes of pace and chorused shouts added a certain flair to the bands, now switched from the military marches of Sousa to the swing marches of today.

Complete with sequined baton-twirlers, precision drill teams and majorettes with baton-flags, the big visiting bands provided some of the most impressive sights and sounds in the parade.

Crowd favorites were the Pasadena City College Lancer Band from California — the official Tournament of Roses band—and the massive 130-member Bellingham High School Band, although all bands were rated high by the spectators.

Nine Band Concerts

Victorians had many opportunities to listen to the other side of the visitors' musical talents over the weekend when no fewer than nine concerts were performed at parks throughout the city.

Largest turnout was to hear the Pasadena City College Lancers Sunday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park.

The crowd was estimated at 1,200 people.

In addition to public concerts, several bands performed at the Veterans' Hospital.

All the students from the U.S. were missing a day of school to march in the parade, but they didn't seem particularly worried.

Study When Possible

The Bellingham students, with one week until examinations, spent a good deal of their time in their hotel rooms studying.

The trips are financed by the students themselves through such fund-raising methods as cake sales, spaghetti dinners, concerts and car washes.

Some bands cut expenses by working an exchange program with local bands, each spending a weekend billeted with students at the other town.

Reynolds, Snohomish and Everett were staying with their counterparts from Mount Douglas, Belmont and Esquimalt high schools respectively.

"Visiting other cities is good for the kids," says Larry Richardson, director of the Edmonds High School Band.

"It's good for them both as musicians and as people."

For six of the bands it was their third or better trip to Victoria.

The Bellingham band has marched in the Victoria Day parade for so many years that none of its members are old enough to remember when the tradition began.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY

When the results of today's hand are tabulated in the Charity Challenge Cup competition, almost anything is likely to have happened. (Incidentally, if any of you readers are interested in entering the 1965 competition the honorary organizer is Jill Gatti. Her address is 33 Palliser Road, London W14, England.)

Opening lead—♠ 9

The hand was first played in Manila between a local team and a team of touring British experts.

Curiously, the bidding and play went the same at both tables. West opened his singleton spade. East cashed the ace and king and continued with a small spade. South ruffed with the nine of trumps and both West players overruffed. This gave the defence the first three tricks, but they could only add one more, so that both declarers made three diamonds doubled.

Really inspired defence will beat the hand one trick. West must discard a club on the second spade and another club when South ruffs in with the nine of diamonds. Once he makes these two plays there will be no way for declarer to keep the defence from getting three trump tricks.

He will have plenty of ways to try to make his contract, but they will all fail because of the fact that he will have to play one trump in order to get rid of East's eight spot.

FRONTIERS OF SCIENCE

VERTICAL TAKE-OFF - Part 1

ONE OF THE GREATEST ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE 20TH CENTURY — THE HEAVIER THAN AIR FLYING MACHINE — HAS ALWAYS HAD ONE SERIOUS DISADVANTAGE: ITS HIGH TAKE-OFF AND LANDING SPEED.
THE MAJORITY OF AIR CRASHES HAVE TAKEN PLACE DURING THE CRITICAL PERIOD WHEN THE AIRCRAFT IS ON THE THRESHOLD OF "FLYING SPEED," BEFORE THE WING IS GIVING PROPER LIFT AND CONTROL.
5-25

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

The entire Emmy system of awards, television's equivalent of the movie's Oscar, will have to be revamped following last week's boycott of the prizes by ABC-TV and CBS News.

Stephen

NBC, which will telecast the award ceremony May 25, distributed a statement aimed at those who publicly criticized the prize-giving system and instigated the boycott.

These were Thomas Moore, president of ABC-TV, and Fred Friendly, news president of CBS news.

Friendly touched off the revolt last week by calling the awards "unprofessional, unrealistic and unfair," charging they were the end result of "pressure" and "politics," and, in a sweeping attack, denounced the grouping of single shows and series in the same categories.

Moore said his network did not feel the awards were "determined on the merits of the programs."

In its reply on the weekend, NBC said it found these statements "a classic of sham and hypocrisy with amusing overtones." The network then made reference to the past membership of the two executives in the television Academy, and added: "Their organizations have accepted scores of Emmy awards with expressions of appreciation."

"Their denunciation of the Academy procedures and boycott of 1964 awards, announced more than a week after the final awards voting began—and shortly before the awards broadcast—may represent an effective publicity stunt during the voting period."

In a final paragraph, the network said "That Was The Week That Was," its satire program, will apply its talents appropriately to this new development in reviewing the television events of the year.

Whatever happens May 25, there is no denying that all this publicity is a powerful weapon for those who have long insisted that the Emmy system needs a complete and drastic overhaul.

* * *

TID BITS: One More River, a one-hour documentary study of racial problems in the southern United States, has won the first annual Wilderness Award for an outstanding film produced for CBC-TV during 1963.

"Henry Fonda and the Family," an hour-long comedy revue starring Henry Fonda with Dick Van Dyke, Cara Williams, Carol Lynley and Don Blocker, will launch a summer rebroadcast series of selected specials June 23 . . . Victoria's Geoff Vantreight, one of Canada's jet-age farmers, and his 400-acre farm will be the subject of the national edition of CBC-TV's Countrytime, Saturday, June 6.

All the fun has been taken out of watching television election coverages. The result of the Oregon Republican presidentaial primary was forecast within five minutes after the polls closed Friday.

NBC-TV's RCA 301 computer predicted the winner with only 1 per cent (advance ballots) of the vote tabulated. The rest of the evening was ho-hum anticlimax.

HELSTON, Eng.—Mrs. L. L. Smith, headmistress of Helston Grammar school, admitted today she held two 18-year-old school girls while their bare bottoms were spanked, but she refused to reveal the girls' names or that of the spanker.

"Yes, I admit two girls were given a whacking, and it was on their bare bottoms," the headmistress told reporters. "I had to hold them while it was being done."

J. L. Guise, the school's headmaster who was scheduled to retire this year, left the school a few days ago. Edward Cunnack, chairman of the school's board of governors, confirmed the headmaster's resignation had been accepted.

"Certain matters at the school are under investigation," said Cunnack. "I'll say no more than that."

Said a senior pupil: "The two girls were found in an empty room during a break recess. That's against school regulations."

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. — Frog-hopping today is more lucrative than when Mark Twain immortalized the unusual sport 99 years ago.

For example: A limber-legged frog named Rusty jumped a $1,000 distance Sunday in the Calaveras County jumping frog jubilee and broke a 10-year-old frog leap record.

Rusty stretched his regulation three hops into a total of 17 feet 1½ inches. This smashed the 1954 record of 16 feet 10 inches.

Owners Bill Proctor and Leonard Hall carried away the 1,000 silver dollars for first place.

Only two foreign frogs jumped—one from the Bahamas and the other from Africa. The African frog won the foreign event with a respectable distance of 12 feet 7 inches.

WINDSOR, Eng.—Prince Philip had his problems Monday—and his wife was watching.

It happened in the Royal Windsor Horse Show cup final for polo teams between the prince's Windsor Park squad and Friar Park.

The Queen was there to present the cup to the winning team.

The prince left the field at the end of the first chukker with a broken stick. In the third chukker he departed twice—once with a broken stirrup and yet again with a broken stick. This time he threw down the broken stick in anger.

But he managed to score a goal and his team won 4½-4 on the strength of a handicap. Windsor started with a ½-goal handicap in its favor.

But the Queen presented the cup to the prince with a smile and the big crowd was delighted.

SUNNYSIDE — Mandy Rice-Davies, the 19-year-old blonde who figured in the Profumo scandal, is indignant over a protest march against her night club act at this English coal mining town.

"I could sue those demonstrators," Mandy fumed. "They better remember I'm a member of Equity (the performers' union) before making remarks about me."

Customers packed the Blue Parrot for Mandy's opening and applauded her warmly.

But outside, about 70 pickets marched in protest.

"I took a vote among my worshippers and 714 out of 900 were against this woman coming to the area," said Rev. Reginald Walker, a Methodist pastor.

"Why are these people complaining?" asked Mandy. "What happened in the past is over."

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. — High school seniors today picketed their striking teachers.

The students, due to graduate in three weeks, carried signs reading "Exams now, pickets later."

The teacher walkout, in demand for higher pay, began Monday when more than two-thirds of the 715 teachers in this Mississippi River town refused to report for work. More than 18,000 youngsters took a holiday from classes.

Bold, Simple Flag Ideal Of Artist

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Canadian flag must be bold, simple and arresting and should have color and an easily identifiable idea, a noted Canadian artist said Friday.

Jack Shadbolt, former Victorian, said in an interview that it is time that Canadians started thinking how a new flag would appear on a flagpole.

Mr. Shadbolt, who has just finished designing a flag mural for the Fathers of Confederation Memorial Centre in Charlottetown, said he thinks the maple lead is a "good, general and clear symbol."

But a design of three leaves on a single stem that has received some publicity was ghastly, thin, spindly and naturalistic.

He suggested a single maple leaf on three broad horizontal bands: White at the bottom, representing snow; deep blue in the middle, representing dark land, the north, the horizon; clear yellow on top, representing the northern sky.

The bottom of the maple leaf is white, exploding into leaf green where it hits the yellow.

"I'm not peddling this flag. But we must have something that is bold, simple and arresting. It should have color and an easily identifiable idea.

"Why don't we all cool our heads and think what will give us the most sense of our native Canada. Let's forget our differences and look for native indigenous elements—the things we have in common—and set them up on a flagpole for the world to see.

"Not just a nationalistic symbol, which is a bit stupid, but an emblem of our emerging spirit."

GUEST speaker at a city-wide rally in Central Baptist Church Thursday at 7:30 p.m. will be Norman Porter, director of the Evangelical Protestant Society in Belfast. Mr. Porter was formerly a member of the Parliament of Northern Ireland. His topic will be "The Coming One-World Church."

TYPICAL of crowds that thronged to Victoria Day celebrations over the holiday weekend was this gathering on the steps of the Legislative Buildings to watch Mayor R. B. Wilson crown May Queen Linda Gower.

Unemployment Total Well Down From '63 Level

OTTAWA (CP) — Persons claiming unemployment insurance benefits at March 31 totalled 597,300, down 10,000 from Feb. 28 and 88,000 below the March 29, 1963, figure of 685,300, the bureau of statistics said today.

The February-to-March decline occurred among regular claimants for unemployment insurance, a normal occurrence for this period of the year. The number of persons claiming seasonal benefits increased.

Males accounted for about 80 per cent of the March 31 total.

A total of 182,300 initial and renewal claims were filed in local offices of the Unemployment Insurance Commission during March, as against 171,600 in February and 195,000 in March, 1963. With claims by persons seeking re-establishment of credit excluded, the total of new cases in March is reduced to about 136,000.

Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association is still firing fast and straight in the Vancouver Island Shooting League.

Trapshooters gave the Victoria club its fourth straight victory Sunday at Nanaimo Fish and Game Club when they defeated their Nanaimo rivals by 11 points.

It was the second trap triumph for Victoria, which has also earned one pistol win and one rifle victory.

OTTAWA (CP)—Douglas Seaman Cole, 70, Canadian ambassador to Mexico from 1954 to 1958, died here Sunday. Mr. Cole, in retirement for the last six years, served as trade commissioner in various points in the Birtsh Isles and New York, later becoming consul-general in Chicago.

Member Of Russian Presidium Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — A new shift in the Soviet Union's top command likely will result from the death of Otto Kussinen, 82, Finnish member of the Communist party's 12-man presidium and one of the last old Bolsheviks.

Kussinen was appointed to the presidium at Premier Khrushchev's bidding after the ouster of Georgi Malenkov, Vyacheslav Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich in 1957. His death from cancer of the liver was announced Sunday.

He was one of the last direct links of the party leadership with Lenin.

It was not known whether Khrushchev would cut short his visit to Egypt to attend Kussinen's state funeral in Moscow Tuesday.

There was speculation, however, that Khrushchev would speed home to partake in the appointment of Kussinen's successor.

it's time dad had a phone of his own

For today's teenagers the telephone is an important part of growing up.

They are preparing to take over a world in which speed of communication will play a vital role in every aspect of living. But for the moment this fact doesn't console Dad too much when he wants to use the phone himself.

For Dad, it's sometimes like having a phone with a lock and chain round it.

Modern problems call for modern solutions. That's why second lines are becoming increasingly popular with so many of today's busy households. Once the family starts growing up, it's high time Dad had a phone of his own, with a separate connection to the outside world.

The cost is small in relation to the convenience and harmony it brings. And, of course, Dad gets his own individual listing in the telephone directory free of charge – another big advantage for the man who handles out-of-hours business calls at his home.

Call your nearest B.C. TEL Business Office this week and discover how easy it is to have a time-saving, temper-soothing second line installed in your home.

2,000 Turn Out As Horses Show 'Jumpability'

By MARGE GILROY

Horses from the mainland, up-Island and Victoria jockeyed for position over the holiday weekend at one of the largest horse shows ever held at the Victoria Riding Academy.

The 14th annual junior show was staged Sunday, and the 34th annual open show on Monday.

A record number of entries kept ring officials and judges Norman Drysdale of Vancouver, and Fred Ball of Victoria, tramping the ring from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. during the two-day event.

Over 2,000 sunburnt spectators never wearied of the show. They gasped and sighed when horses failed to clear the hurdle. But when Mrs. Pat Newman rode Glen to Glen over the obstacle course, in the open conformation hunter class, there was no need to sigh. She was winner of the coveted Madge Gillespie Memorial trophy.

In the junior horse show, senior aggregate winner was Cathy Cote of Vancouver and junior aggregate winner, Donna Coles of Victoria.

Lined up before the judge and ring officials are entries in a conformation-performance class.

FOREST FIRE SEASON HERE, 140 BLAZES

With Briitsh Columbia's most critical forest fire period still ahead, already 140 fires have been reported in B.C. woods.

F. S. McKinnon, chief forester, said Monday $4,700 has been spent fighting forest fires so far this year, almost double the $2,800 spent in the same period last year.

He said it was still too early to draw any conclusion about the increase, but he warned campers not to be lulled into a sense of false security because the woods appeared to be damp.

DOUBTFUL "MISS VICTORIA" meets ugliest creature to be caught at the Skin Diver's bonanza off the Breakwater Sunday afternoon. This time Beauty didn't marry the Beast, and the Beast didn't turn into a handsome prince. Instead, Beauty presented trophies to the divers who brought the ugly wolf eels ashore, thus making a happy ending to the fairy tale scene. (Robin Clarke photo.)

800 POUNDS OF FISH

Speargunners Take Rich Harvest

More than 800 pounds of fish was hauled ashore off Dallas Road, Sunday afternoon during Victoria Sea Searchers' skin diving bonanza.

The catch was mainly cod, wolf eels and sea bass but abolone shells also were brought up by the long-winded, webb footed Davey Joneses.

Sixty-four snorkel divers in all, took part in the four-hour diving bonanza, held off the Ogden Point breakwater. They came from Seattle, Vancouver, Campbell River, Courtenay, Alberni and Victoria.

At 12 noon the divers took to the water in teams of three with diving barges alongside. The exception was a team of two women from Vancouver.

No tanks were allowed. It was contest of lungs as divers submerged for three minutes at a time.

With arbalettes, or spear guns, poised, they searched the shoreline for ling cod, roundfish and cabazros.

From the breakwater a steady stream of spectators, abou. 3,000 in all, kept track of the afternoon activities.

And as the divers spent their energies, Jack Turford of New Westminster took over at the weigh scale as official weigh master for the day. For more than an hour he kept his eye on the pointer and called out the pounds and ounces.

Then came the highlight of the day when the trophies were presented by Linda Gower, Miss Victoria for 1964.

Winner of the trophy for the largest fish was Phil Nuytten of the aVncouver Skin Divers who hauled in an 18 pound six ounce ling cod.

In the women's class Sonja Glasgow, Vancouver, won the trophy for the largest fish, a four pound one ounce bass.

The one and only women's team, Sonja Glasgow and Joyce Major, Vancouver, took the first-place trophy in the women's team competition.

HEAVIEST CATCH

Dale Dean, Gary Keffler and Bill High, of the Puget Sound Mud Sharks, won first place in the men's team class with a catch of 188 pounds and nine ounces.

Ray Linden, Ken Styan and Armand Paquette of the Alberni Valley Divers Club took second place with a catch of 126 pounds.

Third place winners were Norm Stavenes, Sandy Martel and Phil Nuytten of the Vancouver Skin Divers. They had a combined catch of 100 pounds and eight ounces.

Aggregate winners for all divers was Gary Keffler who speared a total of 81 pounds of fish and aggregate winner for local divers was Ray Linden with a catch of 59 pounds and seven ounces.

Aggregate winner in the women's class was Joyce Major.

DETROIT (AP) — William Ledyard Mitchell, 82, who helped found the Chrysler Corporation in 1925, died Monday.

TIME GUN WAS LOADED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police here are investigating the apparent loading of the "nine o'clock" gun.

Terry Howander, night manager of a Texaco fuel barge anchored in Vancouver harbor, told police he heard a crash on the barge as the old cannon belched its nightly time report from nearby Stanley Park. Investigation revealed a six-inch hole in the Texaco sign.

Police said they believe something was placed in the cannon prior to the 9 p.m. firing.

3 Fail Exam Set By Union, Blame Racism

NEW YORK (AP)—A much-discussed union-qualifying test for three Puerto Ricans and a Negro, plumbers whose hiring threatened to tie up work on a new $37,000,000 produce market, was given to three of the men Monday night. They failed the examination.

The fourth man, a Puerto Rican, was reported unable to take the test Monday night because of personal problems.

Hiring of the four by a contractor led to a walkout of 41 white plumbers three weeks ago. The plumbers union said the men refused to work with non-union plumbers, but the four new men said racial epithets were hurled at them.

Later Mayor Robert Wagner and AFL-CIO President George Meany worked out an agreement by which the four men would take qualifying tests to get into the union. But the four at first refused to take the tests but agreed to later.

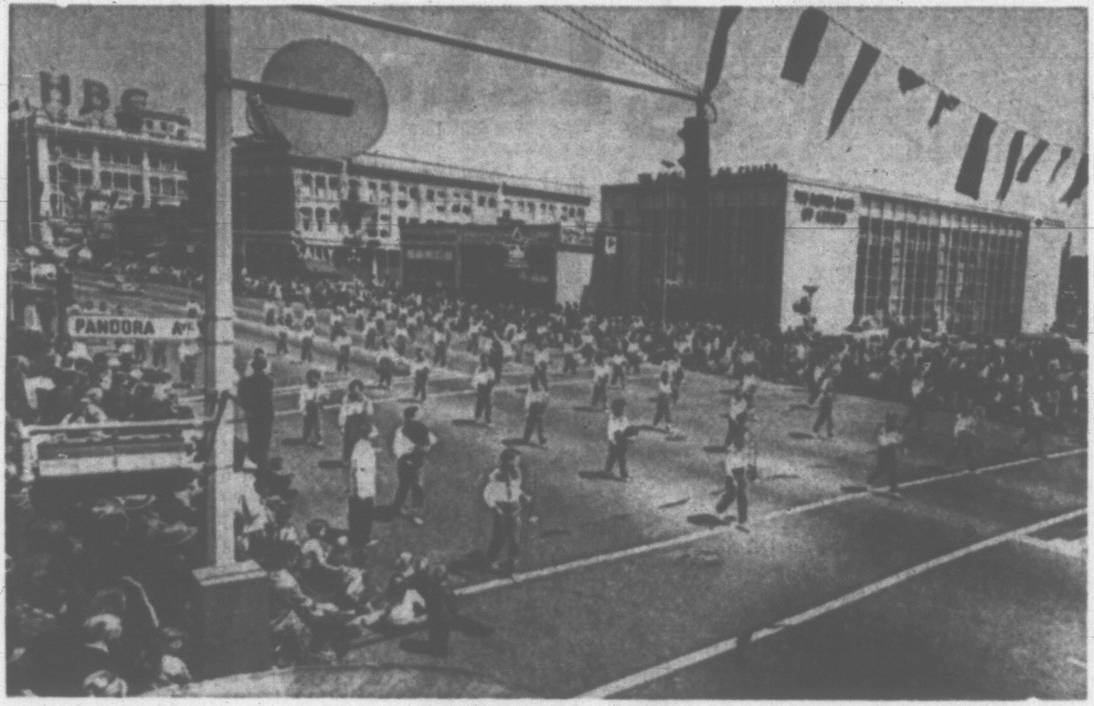
Teen-Ager, Tot Killed In City Traffic Tragedies



BANDS PLAYED ON and on and on at the Victoria Day parade, all 31 of them, with nearly 2,000 musicians tootling and honking, and beating the drums. Pipe bands and school brass bands—like this one—were biggest crowd-pleasers. (Times Photos.)

Parade-Loving City Turned Out to Watch Till Eyeballs Ached

By LESLIE MILLIN

With a toot on the flute and a blang on the big bass drum, the Victoria Day grand parade showed 100,000 sidewalk-squatters Monday that this city can still get worked up about its namesake's birthday.

The 120-entry, 31-band parade was the climax to a week-end of sport, socializing and annual whooping it up.

Featuring a new only-two-turns route and some new faces, the parade also offered:

Better weather (mostly sunny) than expected;

Some shatteringly good precision marching;

More dogs than anyone ever expected;

More bands than anyone ever thought existed;

And more gaps than ever, despite the new route and the walkie-talkie system parade officials said would be used.

Sidewalks were lined hours before the parade was due to start, and police had the route from the Mayfair shopping centre to the Empress cleared off well in advance.

Stand Filled

By 9:30, the reviewing stand in front of the City Hall was filled—with Lieutenant Governor George Pearkes and his wife, some city aldermen officials of RCMP, the navy, the army and a few others.

From a vantage point above the reviewing stand, this is the way the parade looked:

Clomping over the hill with ensigns fluttering, band playing at full bore and a flash of drawn swords came Commander Eugene Gosh, parade commander, and what looked like most of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Traditionally, they lead the parade.

Lieut.-Gov. Pearkes, immaculate in tails and grey Ascot top hat, sprang to his feet to take the first of many, many salutes.

Color party, band, color guard; two platoons of matelots—they all went thumping past.

QORs Halted

As the last naval "eyes-front" was bawled, the newcomer Queen's Own Rifles could be seen stopping for a moment right behind.

Then with a bugle blast and rattling drums, they clipped past the reviewing stand in a close-formation quick march—obviously their secret weapon, because everyone stopped looking at the sailors.

Three platoons of them went past, followed quickly and rather shyly by the RCAF Station Comox band, which was being shouted down by the vigorous strains of the British Grenadiers delivered by the 5th Independent Medium Battery band in their white pith helmets.

They in their turn were drowned out by the skirl of pipes playing All the Blue Bonnets Are Over the Border—the Canadian Scottish were descending in force.

For the next half hour, in fact, the military rumbled past, with the reviewing stand occupants bouncing up and down like mad to keep up with the salutes.

Band followed band, bugle followed bagpipe, kilt followed skirt followed neatly-pressed pants as airmen, seamen, officers and assorted cadets turned their eyes right, then front, and marched away.

Civilians Next

Leading off for the civilians was the Esquimalt Boys' Pipe Band, flanked by two small girls carrying two enormous naked swords, obviously a military influence from up front.

The Royal Canadian Legion color party went by—but no Red Ensign was in evidence—followed by Mayor R. B. Wilson in one open car, and J. D. Watts, Greater Victoria Celebrations Association chairman, in another.

Then came the greatest.

Bewilderingly enormous, dazzlingly arrayed, with the shiniest of instruments and the smilingest of majorettes, the Pasadena City College Lancer Band strode majestically by.

Some majorettes were waving flags, some were spinning batons, all were lovely—and the crowds just gasped.

While the spectators looked at the Lancers' retreating backs, Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt and reluctant Reeve Stanley Murphy of Saanich waved by in official cars.

Child Run Over On Her Birthday

By DESMOND BILL

A teen-ager and a tot were killed on Greater Victoria streets over the Victoria Day holiday as thousands of other Victorians were enjoying the first long week-end of summer.

Dead are:

Terri Ann Verpe, 3, of 2534 Graham.

Della Mae Hoegi, 19, of 3016 Donald.

Terri was fatally injured Saturday afternoon when she ran across Kings Road in front of a car. It was her third birthday and her mother was frosting a cake at the time for a small family party to celebrate the Terri had been playing in the garden of her home minutes before the accident. She left there to follow her 11-year-old sister, Denise, who had gone for a message to a nearby drug store.

When Mrs. Verpe noticed the child missing she went looking for her and saw a police ambulance at an accident scene. When she got there she found the victim was her own child. Mrs. Verpe rode with her daughter to the hospital.

Police said the little girl had darted out from the sidewalk into the path of a car driven by a 16-year-old boy.

The child clung to life through Saturday and Sunday and then died at 8.45 am., Monday.

Miss Hoegi was killed in what appears to have been an almost head-on collision on Douglas Street early Sunday morning. There were seat belts in the car in which she was riding but it appears she wasn't wearing them.

Miss Hoegi was at a wedding and reception Saturday night accompanied by her boy friend, Walter Allison, 22, of 631 Kenneth. The two had been going together 18 months and intended to become engaged, relatives said.

The accident occurred shortly after 1:30 a.m. as they drove north on Douglas and started to make a left turn on to Kenneth.

Their vehicle was in collision with a 1964 model car driven south on Douglas by Leslie Perry of the Queen's Own Rifles, Work Point Barracks.

CAR "EXPLODED"

Allison's car was thrown back 50 feet from the point of impact and a policeman at the scene said it looked as if it had "exploded."

Pieces were scattered for 60 feet around. Both Allison and Miss Hoegi stayed in the car although their seats were thrown out and were picked up 12 feet from the wreck.

Perry was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital and later transferred to Naden Hospital. It was expected he would be discharged today. Allison is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Miss Hoegi graduated from Esquimalt High School. She was a native Victorian and for the past year had been employed as a clerk-typist at B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

Funeral arrangements have not been made for either of the victims until a decision is made on inquests. McCall Bros. Ltd. is in charge in both cases.

Miss Hoegi is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hoegi, one sister, Mrs. D. Anderson of Victoria; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sutcliff of Victoria.

Terri is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Verpe; two sisters, and relatives in Saskatchewan.

Violent Deaths Total 15

By The Canadian Press

People died in near record numbers in British Columbia as they celebrated the first holiday weekend of the spring and summer season.

Traffic jams reached record proportions heralded the end of the three-day weekend which saw at least 15 persons die—most of them on traffic-clogged highways, including two Victorians.

The highway death toll across Canada over the holiday was the highest on record. Sixty-four persons died, topping a record of 61 set in 1960. At least 94 persons were killed in all types of accidents.

The end of the weekend turned into a nightmare for traffic authorities and customs officials at Blaine, on the Washington-British Columbia border.

About 68,000 people crossed into the U.S. at Blaine during the weekend and most picked the same time Monday night to return. A customs official said the traffic, lined up as much as five miles at one point, was the worst in his memory.

KILLED IN CARS

The death count showed 12 persons killed in car crashes, two persons drowned and one burned to death.

The worst accident left three youths dead after their convertible plunged down a 50-foot cliff near Nelson. Alan James Nadeau, 19, of Nelson and Einar Anthony Lynn, 18, of

3 Designs Will Go To House

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson challenged the opposition today to propose a non-confidence motion next Monday if it wants to condemn the government's moves towards picking a distinctive Canadian flag.

(See Also Page 5)

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said today his cabinet has decided to replace the Red Ensign with a flag designed with maple leaves and plans to place its choice of a specific design before Parliament on Thursday.

He told reporters after a three-hour cabinet meeting that the question of procedure on the flag issue has yet to be settled but he hopes the parliamentary debate would take place before the two Houses take a summer recess.

Mr. Pearson said the design discussions in cabinet today were all variations of the maple leaf. He indicated they were:

1. Three maple leaves on a white background.
2. Three maple leaves on a white background with blue bars at each end.
3. Three maple leaves on a light blue background.

The prime minister was asked what would become of the Red Ensign.

"We haven't got into that yet," he said.

However, the prime minister noted that the Liberal party platform has said that the Union Jack would be flown in Canada as the symbol of Canada's membership in the Commonwealth and its position under the Crown.

MUCH TO BE DECIDED

He mentioned that there is a "great deal" yet to be decided in procedure and protocol.

Mr. Pearson indicated that the government attaches high priority to its proposal for a distinctive Canadian flag. He said he hopes the legislation would be passed by parliament "as quickly as possible" to enable debate on other high priority government legislation.

On the question of whether the government will stand or fall on the issue, Mr. Pearson said a new flag has been part of Liberal policy for two years.

"It will be close to confidence in that sense," he said.

He said each member of the Liberal party in the Commons will vote as his conscience dictates.

He added that there would be no problem for the government in this respect because the Liberal party already is "practically unanimous."

'KNOW DETAILS'

Mr. Pearson said he would make an announcement to the House later on the procedure in dealing with the flag question.

After the cabinet reached its decision Thursday, a resolution would be placed on the Commons order paper as quickly as possible.

In this way MPs and the public would "know the details of the action we are going to recommend."

The resolution then would become a matter of priority legislation in the Commons.

Mr. Pearson noted that in listing other priority measures in the Commons last week he reserved the right to insert other important measures as they arose.

Mr. Pearson had said entering the cabinet meeting that the flag issue had to be "straightened up" within the party before going before parliament.

U.S. TAKES FIRM STAND

Laos Situation Critical

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman said today the United States is "not ruling out" any measures—possibly including military moves—which it may find necessary "to preserve the neutrality and independence of Laos."

That was the answer given when the state department's press officer was asked at a press conference whether the United States might send troops into Thailand as was done in a period of crisis in Laos two years ago.

Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said the latest reports to the state department show that Communist Pathet Lao attacks are continuing in the Plaine des Jarres against forces loyal to the neutralist government of Prime Minister Souvanan Phouma.

Other officials said the attacks could result in destroying the neutralist forces under Gen. Kong Le and wrecking the whole internationally agreed neutralization program in Laos.

BACKED BY REDS

McCloskey declared the Pathet Lao attacks, which officials say is supported by battle-hardened elements from Communist North Viet Nam "have seriously threatened Souvanna Phouma's government and the fabric of the Geneva agreement's neutralizing laos in 1962."

So far, McCloskey said, United States activity has been concentrated on diplomatic efforts to stop the fighting. The U.S. has asked its Southeast Asia Treaty Organization allies to be on alert, appealed to Britain and Russia for co-operation and asked Britain, France and Pakistan to intercede with Communist China.

Meanwhile in Laos Kong Le set up a command post at Ban Khong, six miles southwest of Muong Pahnh, his former headquarters, which he was forced to abandon when neuralist positions on the Plaine des Jarres in central Laos were overrun Sunday.

Reports here have said the Pathet Lao gave Kong Le until today to surrender.

300 DEAD

A western officer, who flew back from a visit to Ban Khong, said Le's headquarters reported that neuralist forces had to leave 300 dead and wounded behind in their retreat from the plain.

He also said he saw about 130 badly wounded soldiers at Bang Khong airstrip awaiting evacuation.

ALBERNI MILL HIT BY STRIKE

PORT ALBERNI — An office workers' strike today threatened complete shutdown of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. pulp and paper operations here.

About 1,000 workers honored the picket lines of 60 office employees, including a number of women, who went on strike this morning.

The tie-up at MB & PR resulted from a stalemate in negotiating the first contract for Local 15 of the Office Employees International Union (CLC).

About 85 per cent of the pulp and paper operations is controlled by the pulp and sulphite union. Its members, together with another 200 workers of construction unions, refused to cross the picket lines.

The office employees, seeking what they called salary parity with pulp and paper mill workers in eastern Canada, are asking wage increases averaging $75. Existing salaries range between $205 and $450.

Earlier, the union rejected a majority conciliation board recommendation for a five-per-cent salary increase in a one-year contract.

Victoria Majority Favors Red Ensign

By JOHN MIKA

Victoria lived up to its "little bit of olde England" image today—as far as waving the Union Jack is concerned anyway.

A small sampling of civic and community leaders showed most in favor of keeping the Red Ensign — or at the very least incorporating the Union Jack in any new version.

Only Mayor R. B. Wilson bucked the trend head-on and came out in favor of a distinctively Canadian flag — although some indicated they would go along with such a development if it won majority support across the nation.

Esquimalt Reve A. C. Wurtle was the most vehement defender of the traditional Red Ensign.

"This is my Canada and this is my flag and, God help me, I would be very disappointed if they took it away from me," he said.

He said he was reluctant to criticize Prime Minister Pearson's suggestion that the Red Ensign should be replaced by a new emblem "but I must admit he disappointed me very much.

"It was established by our forefathers and it is truly representative of our nation."

Mayor Wilson said it would be heart-wrenching to see the Red Ensign or Union Jack no longer used "but we must be realistic.

"I would favor a new and distinctive design, not because I

WEEK ON MARKETS

Speculators Kept Busy

By GORD GRANT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A late surge of speculative activity rounded out an impressive display by Canadian stock markets last week.

Industrials were at record levels, golds showed unexpected activity, senior base metals were higher and western oils had a handful of standout issues.

On the Toronto Exchange the bull market continued with little sign of let-up in demand for blue-chip industrial securities.

Steels showed strength with Algoma climbing to $71. Dominion Foundries and Steel, Dominion Steel and Coal and Steel of Canada also moved higher.

Among fabricators, Canada Iron Foundries moved to a 1964 high of 36½. Dominion Bridge climbed almost $2 to 22⅝.

Building Products was a standout Friday with a gain of 2½ to 28½ following an offer by Prudential Finance Corp. Ltd. to purchase 100,000 shares at 28 a share.

Another outstanding performer was Massey - Ferguson which climbed to a high of 24⅝. Much of the interest stemmed from the sharp improvement in the company's operating results.

One of the best percentage gains went to Argus Corp., a holding company controlled by E. P. Taylor interests. Argus controls Canadian Breweries which moved to a high of $11 after a protracted period of selling at $10 and lower.

Hawker Siddeley commanded support Friday as it climbed to 8½. The issue has been recommended frequently by analysts as a speculative investment.

The producer mining list was buoyant. International Nickel and Hudson Bay were the best performers.

Late Friday speculative stocks with properties in the copper - boom area near Timmins caught fire. PCE Explorations, Bunker Hill, Ryanor, Belleterre, Yukeno and Norlex all traded actively and moved higher.

ANNOUNCEMENT RUMOR

Analysts said this was due to a New York Stock Exchange rumor Texas Gulf Sulphur—which has a huge copper ore body near Timmins—would announce some drill results.

Tombill sold off sharply after announcing an agreement with Noranda to explore Tombill's potash property in Saskatchewan.

'The golds burst on Thursday was spearheaded by Dome which climbed sharply to a high of 31.

Leitch and La Luz were standout performers among junior gold stocks, although both eased in profit taking on Friday.

Western oils saw Home A and Home B score good gains on an increased dividend and speculation as the importance of the company's land in Lesser Slave Lake strengthened.

On index in Toronto, industrials rose 2.27 to 155.99, golds 3.50 to 137.67, base metals .25 to 66.07 and the Exchange index 2.00 to 145.86. Western oils were down .54 to 97.77.

In Montreal, industrials traded 1,068,839 shares compared with 1,000,516 the previous week and mines traded 7,532,333 shares compared with 8,354,308. Industrials were up 2.6 to 152.8, utilities 1.3 to 133.7, composite 2.0 to 146.7, and papers .4 to 136.2. Banks were off .5 to 126.7.

TAHSIS PLANS $3 MILLION DEVELOPMENT

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tahsis Company announced Friday an estimated $3,000,000 expansion program, including major expansion of its sawmill on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

President J. V. Christensen said the $1,500,000 sawmill expansion will increase lumber production by 25 per cent. Current production is about 100,000,000 board feet annually.

BUSINESS VIEWS

Heavy Investments For Oil Necessary

By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

Bell

Since 1947 the risk investment in petroleum and natural gas exploration and production in Canada has totalled about $7 billion while investment in refining, marketing and transportation facilities has added another $4.5 billion.

Now, says E. D. Loughney, president of British American Oil, at least that much will have to be invested again in the industry between now and 1975 if forecast demands of crude oil, natural gas and refined products are to be met.

This is spending, in one industry, at an average rate of better than $1 billion a year, and it certainly raises the big question of where the money is to come from.

As Mr. Loughney noted in an address to the Society of Petroleum Accountants last week, the amount of risk capital already invested in the industry could not have been raised by Canadians themselves and it is not likely that Canadian sources will be able to raise all of the money needed for the future.

The alternatives are plain. Either considerable amounts of foreign capital will have to be attracted to Canada or the forecast demand will not be met. If capital is to be attracted, and the alternative cannot be considered reasonable, then an investment and tax climate at least as favorable as in the past will be required.

The truth of this statement, which applies to a much larger segment of the economy than just the petroleum industry, seems to be slowly penetrating Ottawa where Finance Minister Gordon is not now nearly so sure he can Canadianize industry by fiat.

However, this is much more than just a federal affair, as Mr. Loughney made clear in his speech.

"The partnership between industry and capital—which in our society assume the responsibility for meeting present and future needs—can only perform successfully in a favorable economic climate resulting from government understanding and co-operation at all levels."

One wonders how much cooperation and understanding the oil industry finds in this province and how much these factors contributed to the sharp decline in expenditures by the industry in B.C. last year. The decline was roughly $9 million, contrasted to increased expenditures amounting to $57 million in Alberta and $36 million in Saskatchewan.

Business analysts who look to the U.S. economy for indications of how the economic expansion in North America is holding up will be cheered by the latest estimates made by Business Week magazine on first quarter earnings.

The official U.S. Commerce Department figures will not be ready for several weeks yet, but on the basis of preliminary information, Business Week figures that corporate profits for the first quarter reached $54 billion, pre-tax, on a seasonally - adjusted, annual rate, just short of the record $54.3 billion of last year's fourth quarter.

After tax earnings for 1964 it could well be above $30 billion, the estimators say.

Capital spending for the year is now expected to be at an eight-year high. Retail spending is holding up well. With sales already beyond the break-even point and costs holding reasonably firm, business is into the area where earnings begin to soar.

Business Week tackles a point which bothers many businessmen, the fact that return on investments and profit margins have still a long way to go to approach earlier periods. It points out that too many people still look back too far, to the late '40s and early '50s where profits were often overstated because of understated depreciation. In other words, profits in many years which businessmen view with nostalgia weren't really as good as they looked at the time.

"The real key to this year's profits, though, is volume, and the main point here is leverage. Once volume goes above the point where the manufacturer can recoup his investment — the break-even point—each additional unit of volume produces a sharper increase in profits since costs — except labor and materials — remain the same."

This explanation holds true mostly for companies with high fixed costs and the results have showed up in many of the B.C. forest industries as well as in such startling examples as General Motors where a 15 per cent boost in first quarter sales produced a 29 per cent increase in profits.

Urban Renewal New Look Set

City council is taking a new look at urban-renewal plans for the Blanshard Street area in view of recent developments Mayor R. B. Wilson said Friday.

The mayor, addressing a chamber of commerce directors' meeting referred to the recent creation of Blanshard-Rose Street as a major north-south traffic route.

He also said the chamber's report on land use planning would be discussed with Greater Victoria reeves and Recreation Minister Kiernan.

The board said it will update its 1949 Greater Victoria plan and resubmit it to municipal councils for approval possibly by 1965.

A subdivision plan for the Brentwood area and plans for North Saanich and Langford-Metchosin will be prepared by the board when time and staff are available.

In other business it was announced that John A. Wallace, general manager of Yarrows, and R. J. Bower, editor-in-chief of The Daily Colonist, had been nominated by the chamber as directors of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce.

The B.C. chamber will have its annual convention in Burnaby May 25 and 26.

NEW PRESIDENT of Neon Products of Canada Ltd., is Harvey R. Smith, chairman A. B. Christopher announced. The 51-year-old executive spent 21 years with the Kaiser group of companies in the U.S., followed by 10 years with the A. V. Roe Canada Ltd. organization in Eastern Canada. Mr. Smith has recently been associated with Puget Sound Bridge and Dry Dock Co., a subsidiary of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., as project manager on the Hydrofoil ship.

Cars and Steel Led the Parade

By JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The automobile and steel industries continued to march shoulder to shoulder at the head of the U.S. business parade last week.

Automobile plants produced an estimated 176,900 passenger cars compared with 162,063 in the corresponding week in 1963.

Production would have been higher had it not been for a work stoppage at Ford Motor's Lorain, Ohio, plant.

For the 1964 calendar year, Donald Petersen, forward marketing plans manager for Ford Motor's Ford Division, forecast the first 8,000,000 sales year. He said new cars were bought in the first quarter of this year at the rate of 8,300,000 a year.

Steel production reached an 11-month peak a week ago when 2,492,000 tons of ingots were poured. U.S. mills ran at an estimated 80 per cent of capacity.

MANPOWER SHORT

Inland Steel Co. said it was encountering a shortage of manpower. Other mills reported their employment has been rising but all jobs have been filled.

Industrial production in April posted the biggest gain in almost a year. This resulted from an increase in the output of iron and steel, automobiles, furniture and other consumer goods.

The federal reserve's index of industrial production climbed in March to 129.2 from 128.2. It was the first time this barometer has gained a full point in one month since mid-1963.

The commerce department said retail sales dipped in April for the second straight month, to $21,244,000,000 from March's $21,305,000,000.

However, the industry remained optimistic. Carl N. Schmalz, of Boston, president of the National Retail Merchants Association, predicted U.S. retail sales this year will reach a record $260,000,000,000. This would be a gain of more than five per cent over the 1963 total.

PULVERIZED CAR at right was one in which Della Mae Hoegi, 19, of 3016 Donald, was killed early Sunday on Douglas. It was driven by her boy friend, Walter Allison, 22, of 631 Kenneth, and was going left on to Kenneth when it was in collision with vehicle at left. Driver of the other car in the head-on collision was Leslie Perry of Queen's Own Rifles, Work Point Baracks. Right side of death car was ripped off and it was pushed back 50 feet into a ditch. Both Miss Hoegi and Mr. Allison had seat belts but they were not buckled and police said it likely would have made little difference if they had been. Seats from their car were found 12 feet from the wreck although both passengers remained inside the car. Both Rifleman Perry and Mr. Allison are recovering.

Traffic Toll Grim, Heavy Over Holidays

Victorians smashed, banged and crashed into one another during the holiday weekend, killing two persons and sending 16 others to hospital.

Five of the injured are still in hospital including a city policeman.

The policeman is Constable Tom Anthony, a motorcycle patrol officer who broke his leg when he fell off his cycle while escorting the Victoria Day parade.

He is in good condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital. The accident occurred at 11:20 a.m. as he was turning, at very low speed, from Quadra to Cloverdale. Police don't know why his cycle keeled over but it fell on his leg.

In only fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital is Mrs. Ida Sam of Brentwood Bay. She suffered internal injuries in an accident on Interurban Road Monday afternoon.

The car she was in was driven by Moses Sam, also of Brentwood Bay. Two passengers, Ricky Sam, 9, and Leonard Paul, 38, were discharged from hospital after treatment.

Seven persons were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital after a three-car pile-up at Cook and Haultain shortly before 9:30 Monday morning.

Police said a car driven by Augustine Doiron, 2215 Florence, was in collision with one driven by Jock Froud, 2310 Quadra. After the impact Froud's car went out of control, crossed the street and hit a third vehicle, driven by Jack Manson, 990 Hampshire.

Taken to hospital and later discharged after treatment were Mrs. Augustine Doiron, Mrs. Thelma Yalloway, 2183 Epworth, Carol Yalloway, 17, and Thomas Yalloway, 9; Mr. Manson, Margaret Sampson, 17, of 3450 Cedar Hill Road, and Mr. Froud.

In fair condition is Vicki Wright, 18, of 3287 Whittier, who was a passenger on a motorcycle that was in collision with a car. Driver of the bicycle was Robert Alexander, 22, of 4121 San Ardo, and the car driver was Charles Palliser of Mesachie Lake.

Miss Wright broke a leg and received head injuries in the crash on Trans-Canada Highway Sunday afternoon. Mr. Alexander is in good condition with a leg injury.

CAR DIDN'T STOP

Clayton Thompson, 36, of 2396 Estevan, is in fair condition after a near collision with a sports car that failed to stop Saturday afternoon.

He told police he swerved his motorbike to avoid a collision with a TRS, went out of control and fell. The occupants of the car drove on.

Mr. Thompson was admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital with ankle, head and shoulder injuries.

A student nurse at Royal Jubilee Hospital was treated there as a patient after being hurt in a three-car collision at Market and Rose Monday shortly after noon. Mary Stevens, Nurse's Residence, was discharged after treatment.

Drivers of the cars involved were John C. Johnston, 2553 Vancouver, and Thor Jacobsen, 203 St. Andrews. The Johnson vehicle then was in collision with a stopped car driven by James Cooper, 2673 Foul Bay Road.

Hydro Lineman Rescues Bird From High Wire Predicament

By JIM BIGSBY

"There's a gruesome thing going on out here," said the voice on the telephone.

And that started one of those strange exercises in compassion when several humans take time to go to the rescue of a small bird.

The Times notified B.C. Hydro and soon line patrolman Tom Musgrave had received a radio call and was heading towards the corner of Lombard and Tavanne in Metchosin.

Dangling from a 6,900-volt power line was a starling, a piece of string knotted around its leg and securely entangled on the wire.

For over an hour the bird had struggled, the string shortening each time it went around.

It now hung with wings outspread like a miniature crucifix.

Scrambling up a pole Mr. Musgrave cut the wire and gradually slacked it off until this reporter could catch and hold the frightened bird.

It remained still and quiet as cotton string, apparently a rudimentary snare, was removed from its leg.

Then it slipped free and flew off, its right leg hanging slightly as if damaged.

"I only wish the children responsible for that string could have seen this," said one bystander.

Boys Survive Cold Dip Off Esquimalt

Two teenage boys clung to a small, swamped boat for more than an hour Monday evening before they were rescued off Saxe Point, Esquimalt.

Douglas Alger, 14, of 1112 Bewdley, and Dennis McMillan, 13, of 1134 Wychbury, were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for exposure and shock.

Both are back home and healthy today.

They were in a flat-bottomed boat near Brothers Island when a heavy wave swamped the craft, say Esquimalt police.

TRIPLE RESCUE

Two bystanders—an RCN lieutenant-commander and a skin diver—made independent rescue attempts, and converged on the submerged boat just as Esquimalt police got there too.

Lt.-Cmdr. Paul Roggeveen, 421 Campbell, pulled the two chilled youngsters into a small boat he had commandeered on the beach.

William Gerry, 432 Grafton, had swum towards them wearing a wet suit and floating on a paddle board.

Esquimalt policemen Cons. E. M. Taylor and Cpl. Robert Duncan, who also went out in a boat, towed the boys' boat and the paddle board back to shore.

CRIES UNHEARD

When found, the boys and their boat were about halfway between Saxe Point and Brothers Island, say police.

DOCUMENTARY news cameraman Robert Cohen appears here Friday and Saturday with carte blanche film of Castro's Cuba as a special offering of Greater Victoria school district's adult education division. Cohen, an American, made film and interviewed Castro last year, using argument that if government had nothing to hide it had nothing to fear by exposure. Oak Bay Junior Secondary School.

RADIO STATION APPROVED FOR DUNCAN

Permission to build a new AM radio station at Duncan was given by the Board of Broadcast Governors at Ottawa today.

The application, by William R. Jeffcott, was the fourth presented to the board, which recommends approval or denial of a broadcast licence to privately-owned companies in Canada.

Mr. Jeffcott apparently satisfied the board on his last bid as to details of financial structure and personnel for the proposed outlet.

He said there are 30,000 potential listeners in the Cowichan Valley market area.

His application was opposed by one Victoria and one Nanaimo radio station.

SITE STILL SECRET

New Liquor Stores For Saanich, City

New liquor stores are being planned for Victoria and Saanich, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today.

Mr. Bonner said construction of a long-sought store in Saanich is due to begin this summer.

A site has been chosen, but negotiations to acquire it are still under way, he said.

Mr. Bonner declined to give the location until the negotiations are completed, but said it is not at the Town and Country Shopping Centre, as sought in a Saanich residents' petition last year.

ROYAL OAK?

However, the government was previously investigating sites at Royal Oak and on McKenzie Avenue.

The new Victoria store will eventually replace the one on Johnson Street.

Mr. Bonner said it will start as a separate division of the main store, dealing in "specialty" wines and spirits.

It will be similar to the Vancouver specialty division which sells what Mr. Bonner described as "the more exotic—and expensive" drinks.

MOVE OLD STORE

The Johnson Street store is overcrowded and surrounded by heavy traffic, Mr. Bonner said.

"In time we will move the whole store," he added.

The Liquor Control Board is currently seeking a site for the Victoria store, he said.

Dump Is Menace Lab Experts Say

By LESLIE MILLIN

Resident-hired experts say the Hartland Road Dump is contaminating Prospect Lake, and ratepayers are again demanding the garbage dump be permantly closed.

A letter from the Prospect Lake and District Community Association addressed to Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy quotes independent authority to shoot down chief health officer Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread's opinion that the dump does not menace health.

Enclosed with the letter are reports from the Victoria engineering firm of Willis and Cunliffe Ltd., and Wood Laboratory of Vancouver.

The reports say:

Hartland Road dump drains into the Prospect Lake-Killarney Lake watershed;

Toxic chemicals may get into the water;

Water draining from the dump has a very high bacteria count.

COUNCIL REPROACHED

And the association's letter takes a strng swipe at Saanich council, pointing out this advice had to be paid for by residents of the Prospect Lake area, and:

"It is a distressing and shocking situation that a community . . must raise money among its residents, many of whom are pensioners, in order to hire engineering advice because elected and appointed officials either do not want to do are lax in seeking out the facts."

Association president G. A. C. Denford told the Times that the consultants will be paid from "a dollar here and a dollar there" raised by subscription among residents.

Referring to the experts' reports, the letter directly refutes two statements of Dr. Whitbread's in connection with the dump.

He said topography of the land made drainage flow away from, not towards Prospect Lake.

And he also said—in a letter to Saanich—"It is our opinion that the Hartland Road Dump does not constitute a public health menace."

The Willis and Cunliffe study indicates the dump does drain into the lake, says Mr. Denford.

And the laboratory report says in part:

"The continued evidence of such contamination in any water flowing into the Killarney-Prospect Lake system should receive your serious attention."

Mr. Denford said this morning he has nothing to add to what the association said in its letter.

"It speaks for itself," he said.

Copies of the letter have also been sent to Victoria's Mayor R. B. Wilson and provincial Health Minister Eric Martin.

The, Hartland Road dump used by both the city and Saanich, has been a storm centre since the community association first charged a year ago it was a public health menace.

City Tug Off To Save Ship Adrift at Sea

The nationalist Chinese freighter Taih Sing is drifting helplessly in the North Pacific about 1,700 miles west of here as a Victoria tug heads towards it.

Captain Harley Blagborne, aboard Island Tug and Barge's deep-sea salvage tug Sudbury II, reported that he was "rolling along" at 13 knots towards the stricken vessel.

Contact is expected to be established Friday morning.

The 9,000-ton freighter lost her propeller in heavy seas Saturday about 500 miles south of the Aleutian Islands.

She was not in any immediate danger and her crew was reported safe.

The Sudbury will attempt to put a line aboard the vessel and tow it to Portland, Oregon.

The Taih Sing was headed in ballast for Portland when she lost her propeller.

Yukon Ceremony

The new sternwheel vessels, Yukon Queen and Yukon Belle, will be commissioned at 10 a.m. on Saturday at the Yukon Queen Tours Ltd. dock on the Causeway in front of the Empress Hotel.

THE FATHERS OF CONFEDERATION

W. A. Henry

William Alexander Henry married two wives and two political parties.

The first 16 years of his political life were spent in the ranks of the Liberal party.

But in 1857 he switched sides and joined the ranks of the Tories.

Henry was born at Halifax Dec. 30, 1816. He was educated at Halifax high school and eventually became a lawyer, being called to the Nova Scotia bar in 1840. The following year he got married for the first time—to Sophia McDonald—and was elected to the Nova Scotia Assembly, representing Antigonish as a Liberal. He stayed in that party until 1857 when he made his switch of political allegiance. In the meantime his first wife had died in 1845 and he had remarried in 1850—to Christiana McDonald.

After the London Confederation conference in 1866, Henry was credited with being one of the two men who drew up the actual wording of the British North America Act. On his return to Canada, he was defeated in the general election of 1867—largely because of his pro-Confederation work—and he returned to his law practice. Eventually, however, in 1875, he was named to the Supreme Court of Canada and held the post until he died at Halifax May 3, 1888.

84 ROAD DEATHS, 200 RIOTERS JAILED

Violence Rocks U.K. on Holiday

LONDON (AP) — Britons went back to work today from the three-day Whitsun weekend with 84 dead on the crowded roads and 200 arrested for teen-age violence.

The traffic deaths were twice last year's figure. The teen-age battles were the worst the country has seen.

Thousands of youngsters in the garb of Mods and Rockers, rival cults, battled on the beaches of resorts along the southern coast.

RESORT FIGHTS BACK

Reinforced police arrested them by the dozen. At Bournemouth, a resort normally inhabited by retired colonels and aged widows, more than 40 were arrested.

Thus was celebrated the Festival of Pentecost, commemorating the descent of the Holy Spirit on the apostles.

The Rockers ride powerful motorbikes and wear leather packets, jeans and cowboy boots. The Mods, aggressors in every battle this weekend, dress expensively and ride motor scooters.

Many male Mods use eyebrow pencil, eye shadow, transparent lipstick and even rouge. Hair-styles change every week.

On weekend they get "purped up" on purple heart tablets, an amphetamine stimulant which enables them to go without food and sleep. The government is drafting a law to outlaw possession of the pills without a prescription.

The first Mods versus Rockers battle broke out, largely by accident, at Clacton, an east coast resort, at Easter.

This time the word went round London's teen-age grapevine that Margate was to be the scene.

Margate police got tough and arrested 50 youngsters. The main battleground shifted to Brighton, where 76 were jailed Monday night.

"slow" gin:

What it is, and what it isn't.

"Slow" gin is a London Dry Gin—not a Sloe Gin. Most unlike Sloe Gin—which is flavoured with sloes instead of juniper berries—our "slow" gin is very, very dry.

Its listed name is Burnett's Sterling. We call it "slow" because we make it slowly.

Most gins on the market are mass-produced. They run from modern, mammoth stills in oceans. But our Sterling is distilled in small, unhurried batches. What limits the amount—and sets the pace—is our little old copper Pot Stills.

The one you see on the right is more than 100 years old. We brought it from England in the 1920s—when we imported Burnett's complete distillery.

By today's standards, our old Pot Stills are miniatures—and slowpokes. But the men who mind them know them as a good cook knows her seasoned pots and pans. Watching, sipping, tasting, they let Sterling take its time. They believe that nothing excellent was ever turned out in a hurry.

We'd save money, of course, by switching to mass-producing equipment. But our Sterling Gin would cease to be a "slow" gin.

And it wouldn't taste the same.

On Friday he told the House in referring to the design with blue bars:

"I certainly would not wish to take any responsibility, either personally or on behalf of the government for some of the designs that have been appearing or indeed for the drawing that appeared in the newspaper this morning.

HANKERED FOR BARS

But in a press conference Monday, Mr. Pearson said he had a "hankering" for the design with blue bars.

His press conference followed the rough treatment he received Sunday night at the Royal Canadian Legion convention in Winnipeg.

Entering cabinet today, Mr. Pearson said it was the first time the cabinet as such had debated the flag issue but cabinet members attended previous party discussions of the matter.

He was asked about the Legion's proposal for a flag referendum.

"I don't think that decision would be very practical," he replied.

Mr. Pearson noted that when the Legion changed its own official badge, the executive drew up a design, then submitted it to a convention. The convention approved it.

The inference was that the government, as the executive, would follow the same course in Parliament.

don't like the Union Jack or Red Ensign but in the interests of the unity of our country.

BEST SOLUTION

"I think we've reached the stage in our development as a country where a flag that is symbolic of Canada is perhaps the best solution."

Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy said he personally would prefer to keep the Red Ensign "because it is the only flag I'm familiar with."

Oak Bay Reeve Allan Cox said he hasn't seen the mooted new design embodying three red maple leaves with a single stem on a white background and has not yet made up his own mind on the question.

But he did point out that the Red Ensign (a copy of the British merchant marine symbol) was not a Canadian flag as such "but that doesn't mean I would be against making it the Canadian flag."

NOSTALGIC LIKING

"I have a nostalgic liking for the Red Ensign," said Chamber of Commerce president E. E. Pearlman. "But if the powers-that-be can come up with a design that is satisfactory to all of Canada then certainly I would not say no—I would support any design that helped achieve unity."

Mr. Pearlman added that most comment he has heard among acquaintances here "definitely" favors the Red Ensign.

Victoria Labor Council secretary-manager Ald. A. W. Toone said his personal preference was for the Red Ensign, possibly with the addition of a maple leaf in the fly.

"It's the flag under which Canada was built and, indeed, under which Canadians fought and were buried."

NOT MUCH TALK

However, he said he had not noticed much talk about the flag issue among unionists.

The same is true for students, according to the estimate of Mrs. Olivia Barr, president of the Alma Mater Society and Students Council at the University of Victoria.

"I haven't heard much discussion of the topic among students," she said. "We have other things that we feel strongly about—the need for more scholarships for instance.

"Strictly as my own opinion, I think this glag issue is a great deal of bother about something that doesn't need it.

"Our flag is perfectly all right and I don't see any reason to get excited about a new design. It's just a political issue."

Kaslo, died in the crash Saturday night. John Ernest Drummond-Cox, 20, of Nelson, died Sunday in hospital.

Two more youths were killed and a third injured Monday when the car in which they were riding slammed into a bridge near Falkland, 40 miles east of Kamloops. Police withheld names.

Dr. Evelyn McConnel Lofflar, 47, died Saturday in a two-car collision on the Trans-Canada Highway near Lytton.

Darrel Crawford, 19, was killed Saturday when his car hit a soft shoulder, sheared off a power pole and landed on its roof in a field.

Gerald Edward Mahoney, 60, of Prince George, died in the wreckage of his car after it left the Cariboo Highway 18 miles south of the city and rolled over.

YOUNG RACER HIT

A father watched in horror as his son Ronald New, 12, Prince George, was killed by a pickup truck on the Hart Highway. The youngster lost control of the soap box racer and drove in front of the truck.

Alan Collins of Vancouver died Sunday of injuries suffered when his car hit a utility pole in the city.

A skindiver, Jack Grant Denny, 28, of North Kamloops, drowned in Adams Lake, 35 miles northeast of Kamloops, and Keith King, 10, of Chilliwack, died in a slough near his home.

John Kazza of Penticton was burned to death in a bunkhouse fire Saturday near Spences Bridge.

PARKSVILLE OUT

Gov't Won't Budge On Jail Decision

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the government has not changed its mind about rejecting Parksville as a new jail site.

Parksville residents protested last week when the government decided to build the jail between Victoria and Nanaimo instead of at the resort town.

Mr. Bonner said he spoke to a delegation from Parksville last week.

There were two reasons for rejecting Parksville, he said.

One was that a prison would harm the reputation of the popular resort area.

The other reason—the main one, Mr. Bonner said—was that Parksville would be an inconvenient site from an administrative point of view.

He said the town is too far from the courts in Victoria and Nanaimo which will handle most of the prisoners sent to the new jail.

HONOLULU (AP)—An unidentified crew member is under lock and key aboard ship and police say he is a suspect in the axe killing of the Norwegian skipper of a Liberian flag freighter with an international crew.

With flags at half mast, and Capt. Jacob Natvig, 51, lying dead in his cabin, the 10,500-ton freighter Pomona arrived in Honolulu Monday.

Natvig's body was discovered last Friday as the 443-foot-long vessel steamed 600 miles east of Hawaii en route from Los Angeles to Formosa with a cargo of 9,500 tons of scrap metal. Natvig was from Lillensand, Norway.

Honolulu police, who were asked by Norwegian Consul Torkel Westly to investigate the killing, said first mate Alf Olsen, 35, found the body and ordered the ship diverted to Hawaii.

Olsen said Natvig's office next to his quarters was a shambles. A desk chair was overturned and papers were scattered about. Olsen said the captain had been chopped behind the right ear by an axe apparently taken from the bulkhead just outside the eabin.

Police said the crew of 25 men include Norwegians, Spaniards, Finns, Swedes, Columbians, a Dutchman and an Argentinian.

SMALL GIRL, big strut—even the littlest majorettes pounded the hard pavement for miles without showing signs of fatigue, twirling all the way in Victoria Day parade here Monday.

CONGO REBELS CUT OFF COMMANDOS

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — UN aircraft airlifted ammunition today to two Congolese commando companies cut off by Communist-backed rebels rampaging through Kiwilu Province.

Rebel warriors led by Pierre Mulele, Peking-trained former Congo education minister, besieged the commandos south of Gungu and burned more than 100 houses in Idiofa, both centres of bitter fighting when the revolt broke out last January.

The Congolese army claimed it ahd driven the rebels from Idiofa and killed 30 of them.

Mulele has the support of a "national liberation committee" of exiled Congolese politicians based in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo.

PULVERIZED CAR at right was one in which Della Mae Hoegi, 19, of 3016 Donald, was killed early Sunday on Douglas. It was driven by her boy friend, Walter Allison, 22, of 631 Kenneth, and was going left on to Kenneth when it was in collision with vehicle at left. Driver of the other car in the head-on collision was Leslie Perry of Queen's Own Rifles, Work Point Baracks. Right side of death car was ripped off and it was pushed back 50 feet into a ditch. Both Miss Hoegi and Mr. Allison had seat belts but they were not buckled and police said it likely would have made little difference if they had been. Seats from their car were found 12 feet from the wreck although both passengers remained inside the car. Both Rifleman Perry and Mr. Allison are recovering.

Traffic Toll Grim, Heavy Over Holidays

Victorians smashed, banged and crashed into one another during the holiday weekend, killing two persons and sending 16 others to hospital.

Five of the injured are still in hospital including a city policeman.

The policeman is Constable Tom Anthony, a motorcycle patrol officer who broke his leg when he fell off his cycle while escorting the Victoria Day parade.

He is in good condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital. The accident occurred at 11:20 a.m. as he was turning, at very low speed, from Quadra to Cloverdale. Police don't know why his cycle keeled over but it fell on his leg.

In only fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital is Mrs. Ida Sam of Brentwood Bay. She suffered internal injuries in an accident on Interurban Road Monday afternoon.

The car she was in was driven by Moses Sam, also Brentwood Bay. Two passengers, Ricky Sam, 9, and Leonard Paul, 38, were discharged from hospital after treatment.

Seven persons were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital after a three-car pile-up at Cook and Haultain shortly before 9:30 Monday morning.

Police said a car driven by Augustine Doiron, 2215 Florence, was in collision with one driven by Jock Froud, 2310 Quadra. After the impact Froud's car went out of control, crossed the street and hit a third vehicle, driven by Jack Manson, 990 Hampshire.

Taken to hospital and later discharged after treatment were Mrs. Augustine Doiron, Mrs. Thelma Yalloway, 2183 Epworth, Carol Yalloway, 17, and Thomas Yalloway, 9; Mr. Manson, Margaret Sampson, 17, of 3450 Cedar Hill Road, and Mr. Froud.

In fair condition is Vicki Wright, 18, of 3287 Whittier, who was a passenger on a motorcycle that was in collision with a car. Driver of the bicycle was Robert Alexander, 22, of 4121 San Ardo, and the car driver was Charles Palliser of Mesachie Lake.

Miss Wright broke a leg and received head injuries in the crash on Trans-Canada Highway Sunday afternoon. Mr. Alexander is in good condition with a leg injury.

CAR DIDN'T STOP

Clayton Thompson, 36, of 2396 Estevan, is in fair condition after a near collision with a sports car that failed to stop Saturday afternoon.

He told police he swerved his motorbike to avoid a collision with a TRS, went out of control and fell. The occupants of the car drove on.

Mr. Thompson was admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital with ankle, head and shoulder injuries.

A student nurse at Royal Jubilee Hospital was treated there as a patient after being hurt in a three-car collision at Market and Rose Monday shortly after noon. Mary Stevens, Nurse's Residence, was discharged after treatment.

Drivers of the cars involved were John C. Johnston, 2553 Vancouver, and Thor Jacobsen, 203 St. Andrews. The Johnson vehicle then was in collision with a stopped car driven by James Cooper, 2673 Foul Bay Road.

Hydro Lineman Rescues Bird From High Wire Predicament

By JIM BIGSBY

"There's a gruesome thing going on out here," said the voice on the telephone.

And that started one of those strange exercises in compassion when several humans take time to go to the rescue of a small bird.

The Times notified B.C. Hydro and soon line patrolman Tom Musgrave had received a radio call and was heading towards the corner of Lombard and Tavanne in Metchosin.

Dangling from a 6,900-volt power line was a starling, a piece of string knotted around its leg and securely entangled on the wire.

For over an hour the bird had struggled, the string shortening each time it went around.

It now hung with wings outspread like a miniature crucifix.

Scrambling up a pole Mr. Musgrave cut the wire and gradually slacked it off until this reporter could catch and hold the frightened bird.

It remained still and quiet as cotton string, apparently a rudimentary snare, was removed from its leg.

Then it slipped free and flew off, its right leg hanging slightly as if damaged.

"I only wish the children responsible for that string could have seen this," said one bystander.

Boys Survive Cold Dip Off Esquimalt

Two teenage boys clung to a small, swamped boat for more than an hour Monday evening before they were rescued off Saxe Point, Esquimalt.

Douglas Alger, 14, of 1112 Bewdley, and Dennis McMillan, 13, of 1134 Wychbury, were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for exposure and shock.

Both are back home and healthy today.

They were in a flat-bottomed boat near Brothers Island when a heavy wave swamped the craft, say Esquimalt police.

TRIPLE RESCUE

Two bystanders—an RCN lieutenant-commander and a skin diver—made independent rescue attempts, and converged on the submerged boat just as Esquimalt police got there too.

Lt.-Cmdr. Paul Roggeveen, 421 Campbell, pulled the two chilled youngsters into a small boat he had commandeered on the beach.

William Gerry, 432 Grafton, had swum towards them wearing a wet suit and floating on a paddle board.

Esquimalt policemen Cons. E. M. Taylor and Cpl. Robert Duncan, who also went out in a boat, towed the boys' boat and the paddle board back to shore.

CRIES UNHEARD

When found, the boys and their boat were about halfway between Saxe Point and Brothers Island, say police.

RADIO STATION APPROVED FOR DUNCAN

Permission to build a new AM radio station at Duncan was given by the Board of Broadcast Governors at Ottawa today.

The application, by William R. Jeffcott, was the fourth presented to the board, which recommends approval or denial of a broadcast licence to privately-owned companies in Canada.

Mr. Jeffcott apparently satisfied the board on his last bid as to details of financial structure and personnel for the proposed outlet.

He said there are 30,000 potential listeners in the Cowichan Valley market area.

His application was opposed by one Victoria and one Nanaimo radio station.

SITE STILL SECRET

New Liquor Stores For Saanich, City

New liquor stores are being planned for Victoria and Saanich, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today.

Mr. Bonner said construction of a long-sought store in Saanich is due to begin this summer.

A site has been chosen, but negotiations to acquire it are still under way, he said.

Mr. Bonner declined to give the location until the negotiations are completed, but said it is not at the Town and Country Shopping Centre, as sought in a Saanich residents' petition last year.

ROYAL OAK?

However, the government was previously investigating sites at Royal Oak and on McKenzie Avenue.

The new Victoria store will eventually replace the one on Johnson Street.

Mr. Bonner said it will start as a separate division of the main store, dealing in "specialty" wines and spirits.

It will be similar to the Vancouver specialty division which sells what Mr. Bonner described as "the more exotic—and expensive" drinks.

MOVE OLD STORE

The Johnson Street store is overcrowded and surrounded by heavy traffic, Mr. Bonner said.

"In time we will move the whole store," he added.

The Liquor Control Board is currently seeking a site for the Victoria store, he said.

Dump Is Menace Lab Experts Say

Whitbread's Report Comes Under Attack

By LESLIE MILLIN

Resident-hired experts say the Hartland Road Dump is contaminating Prospect Lake, and ratepayers are again demanding the garbage dump be permanently closed.

A letter from the Prospect Lake and District Community Association addressed to Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy quotes independent authority to shoot down chief health officer Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread's opinion that the dump does not menace health.

Enclosed with the letter are reports from the Victoria engineering firm of Willis and Cunliffe Ltd., and Wood Laboratory of Vancouver.

The reports say:

Hartland Road dump drains into the Prospect Lake-Killarney Lake watershed;

Toxic chemicals may get into the water;

Water draining from the dump has a very high bacteria count.

COUNCIL REPROACHED

And the association's letter takes a strong swipe at Saanich council, pointing out this advice had to be paid for by residents of the Prospect Lake area, and:

"It is a distressing and shocking situation that a community ... must raise money among its residents, many of whom are pensioners, in order to hire engineering advice because elected and appointed officials either do not want to or are lax in seeking out the facts."

Association president G. A. C. Denford told the Times that the consultants will be paid from "a dollar here and a dollar there" raised by subscription among residents.

Referring to the experts' reports, the letter directly refutes two statements of Dr. Whitbread's in connection with the dump.

He said topography of the land made drainage flow away from, not towards Prospect Lake.

And he also said—in a letter to Saanich—"It is our opinion that the Hartland Road Dump does not constitute a public health menace."

The Willis and Cunliffe study indicates the dump does drain into the lake, says Mr. Denford.

And the laboratory report says in part:

"The continued evidence of such contamination in any water flowing into the Killarney-Prospect Lake system should receive your serious attention."

Mr. Denford said this morning he has nothing to add to what the association said in its letter.

"It speaks for itself," he said.

Copies of the letter have also been sent to Victoria's Mayor R. B. Wilson and provincial Health Minister Eric Martin.

The Hartland Road dump used by both the city and Saanich, has been a storm centre since the community association first charged a year ago it was a public health menace.

"It drew the largest crowd that I've ever seen gathered for this occasion and, although there were a few pauses, it seemed to have the best marshalling."

The mayor said the new route down Douglas Street may have made the difference—"but the weather certainly helped, too."

Teen-Ager, Tot Victims On Weekend

By DESMOND BILL

A teen-ager and a tot were killed on Greater Victoria streets over the Victoria Day holiday as thousands of other Victorians were enjoying the first long weekend of summer.

Dead are:

Terri Ann Verpe, 3, of 2534 Graham.

Della Mae Hoegi, 19, of 3016 Donald.

Terri was fatally injured Saturday afternoon when she ran across Kings Road in front of a car. It was her third birthday and her mother was frosting a cake at the time for a small family party to celebrate the event.

Terri had been playing in the garden of her home minutes before the accident. She left there to follow her 11-year-old sister, Denise, who had gone for a message to a nearby drug store.

When Mrs. Verpe noticed the child missing she went looking for her and saw a police ambulance at an accident scene. When she got there she found the victim was her own child. Mrs. Verpe rode with her daughter to the hospital.

Police said the little girl had darted out from the sidewalk into the path of a car driven by a 16-year-old boy.

The child clung to life through Saturday and Sunday and then died at 8.45 am., Monday.

Miss Hoegi was killed in what appears to have been an almost head-on collision on Douglas Street early Sunday morning. There were seat belts in the car in which she was riding but it appears she wasn't wearing them.

Miss Hoegi was at a wedding and reception Saturday night accompanied by her boy friend, Walter Allison, 22, of 631 Kenneth. The two had been going together 18 months and intended to become engaged, relatives said.

The accident occurred shortly after 1:30 a.m. as they drove north on Douglas and started

Deaths Total 15

By The Canadian Press

People died in near record numbers in British Columbia as they celebrated the first holiday weekend of the spring and summer season.

Traffic jams reaching record proportions heralded the end of the three-day weekend which saw at least 15 persons die—most of them on traffic-clogged highways, including two Victorians.

The highway death toll across Canada over the holiday was the highest on record. Sixty-four persons died, topping a record of 61 set in 1960. At least 94 persons were killed in all types of accidents.

The end of the weekend turned into a nightmare for traffic authorities and customs officials at Blaine, on the Washington-British Columbia border.

About 68,000 people crossed into the U.S. at Blaine during the weekend and most picked the same time Monday night to return. A customs official said the traffic, lined up as much as five miles at one point, was the worst in his memory.

KILLED IN CARS

The death count showed 12 persons killed in car crashes, two persons drowned and one burned to death.

The worst accident left three youths dead after their convertible plunged down a 50-foot cliff near Nelson. Alan James Nadeau, 19, of Nelson and Einar Anthony Lynn, 18, of

Strike Hits Pulp Mill At Alberni

PORT ALBERNI — An office workers' strike today threatened complete shutdown of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. pulp and paper operations here.

About 1,000 workers honored the picket lines of 60 office employees, including a number of women, who went on strike this morning.

The tie-up at MB & PR resulted from a stalemate in negotiating the first contract for Local 15 of the Office Employees International Union (CLC).

About 85 per cent of the pulp and paper operations is controlled by the pulp and sulphite union. Its members, together with another 200 workers of construction unions, refused to cross the picket lines.

The office employees, seeking what they called salary parity with pulp and paper mill workers in eastern Canada, are asking wage increases averaging $75. Existing salaries range between $205 and $450.

Earlier, the union rejected a majority conciliation board recommendation for a five-per-cent salary increase in a one-year contract.

BANDS PLAYED ON and on and on at the Victoria Day parade, all 31 of them, with nearly 2,000 musicians tootling and honking, and beating the drums. Pipe bands and school brass bands—like this one—were biggest crowd-pleasers. (Times Photos.)

MORE DOGS, MORE BANDS, MORE GAPS

100,000 Crowd Streets For Huge Holiday Parade

By LESLIE MILLIN

With a toot on the flute and a blang on the big bass drum, the Victoria Day grand parade showed 100,000 sidewalk-squatters Monday that this city can still get worked up about its namesake's birthday.

The 120-entry, 31-band parade was the climax to a week-end of sport, socializing and annual whooping it up.

Featuring a new only-two-turns route and some new faces, the parade also offered:

Better weather (mostly sunny) than expected;

Some shatteringly good precision marching;

More dogs than anyone ever expected;

More bands than anyone ever thought existed;

And more gaps than ever, despite the new route and the walkie-talkie system parade officials said would be used.

Sidewalks were lined hours before the parade was due to start, and police had the route from the Mayfair shopping centre to the Empress cleared off well in advance.

Stand Filled

By 9:30, the reviewing stand in front of the City Hall was filled—with Lieutenant Governor George Pearkes and his wife, some city aldermen, officials of RCMP, the navy, the army and a few others.

From a vantage point above the reviewing stand, this is the way the parade looked:

Clomping over the hill with ensigns fluttering, band playing at full bore and a flash of drawn swords came Commander Eugene Gosh, parade commander, and what looked like most of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Traditionally, they lead the parade.

Lieut.-Gov. Pearkes, immaculate in tails and grey Ascot top hat, sprang to his feet to take the first of many, many salutes.

Color party, band, color guard, two platoons of matelots—they all went thumping past.

As the last naval "eyes-front" was bawled, the newcomer Queen's Own Rifles could be seen stopping for a moment right behind.

Then with a bugle blast and rattling drums, they clipped past the reviewing stand in a close-formation quick march—obviously their secret weapon, because everyone stopped looking at the sailors.

Three platoons of them went past, followed quickly and rather shyly by the RCAF Station Comox band, which was being shouted down by the vigorous strains of the British Grenadiers delivered by the 5th Independent Medium Battery band in their white pith helmets.

They in their turn were drowned out by the skirl of pipes playing All the Blue Bonnets Are Over the Border—the Canadian Scottish were descending in force.

For the next half hour, in fact, the military rumbled past, with the reviewing stand occupants bouncing up and down like mad to keep up with the salutes.

Band followed band, bugle followed bagpipe, kilt followed skirt followed neatly-pressed pants as airmen, seamen, officers and assorted cadets turned their eyes right, then front, and marched away.

Leading off for the civilians was the Esquimalt Boys' Pipe Band, flanked by two small girls carrying two enormous naked swords, obviously a military influence from up front.

The Royal Canadian Legion color party went by—but no Red Ensign was in evidence—followed by Mayor R. B. Wilson in one open car, and J. D. Watts, Greater Victoria Celebrations Association chairman, in another.

Then came the greatest.

Bewilderingly enormous, dazzlingly arrayed, with the shiniest of instruments and the smilingest of majorettes, the Pasadena City College Lancer Band strode majestically by.

Some majorettes were waving flags, some were spinning batons, all were lovely—and the crowds just gasped.

While the spectators looked at the Lancers' retreating backs, Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt and reluctant Reeve Stanley Murphy of Saanich waved by in official cars.

$250,000 'Fair' Says Pearson

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government figures $250,000 is a fair sum to contribute toward relief of flood damage in the Alberni Valley of B.C., Prime Minister Pearson said today.

He was replying in the Commons to Tom Barnett (NDP—Comox-Alberni) who asked whether the government had reconsidered its previously announced intention of contributing $250,000.

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) —Nearly 3,000 British Columbia carpenters have voted in favor of strike action to back up demands for a 46-cent hourly wage increase.

Challenges House To Throw Him Out

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Prime Minister Pearson today invited the opposition to throw his minority government out of office in a Commons non-confidence vote next Monday if it didn't like the government's flag policy.

He issued the challenge in the House after nearly half an hour of cross-examination by opposition spokesmen who were demanding further details on flag policy following Mr. Pearson's Sunday night "Maple Leaf" flag speech to the Royal Canadian Legion.

After repeated questioning Mr. Pearson—who had offered explanations for each question—rose to say to the opposition that they would have an opportunity to offer a non-confidence motion on the flag issue next Monday, when the House would be presented with a government motion for supply.

On such motions, he told his critics, there was nothing to stop the opposition raising the flag issue. They would have a "full debate" on the matter then, and they would also be in a position to defeat the government.

Mr. Pearson made his comments as he was being peppered with questions about whether the government actually would permit a "free" vote of MPs when it finally presented its flag design to the House.

The prime minister earlier had replied that all members of his Liberal party knew they would "not be read out of the party" if they voted against the design presented by the government.

But the resolution to be presented by the government for a distinctive Canadian flag would contain full information about the design proposed, and the government would "stand or fall on it."

The government, Mr. Pearson pointed out in reply to his questioners, was committed to offer such a flag to parliament because it had gone through two election campaigns — the last one successfully — with the promise to bring in a distinctive Canadian flag.

Commons to See Three Designs

(See Also Page 5)

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said today his cabinet has decided to replace the Red Ensign with a flag designed with maple leaves and plans to place its choice of a specific design before Parliament on Thursday.

He told reporters after a three-hour cabinet meeting that the question of procedure on the flag issue has yet to be settled but he hopes the parliamentary debate would take place before the two Houses take a summer recess.

Mr. Pearson said the design discussions in cabinet today were all variations of the maple leaf. He indicated they were:

1. Three maple leaves on a white background.
2. Three maple leaves on a white background with blue bars at each end.
3. Three maple leaves on a light blue background.

The prime minister was asked what would become of the Red Ensign.

"We haven't got into that yet," he said.

However, the prime minister noted that the Liberal party platform has said that the Union Jack would be flown in Canada as the symbol of Canada's membership in the Commonwealth and its position under the Crown.

He mentioned that there is a "great deal" yet to be decided in procedure and protocol.

Mr. Pearson indicated that the government attaches high priority to its proposal for a distinctive Canadian flag. He said he hopes the legislation would be passed by parliament "as quickly as possible" to enable debate on other high priority government legislation.

On the question of whether the government will stand or fall on the issue, Mr. Pearson said a new flag has been part of Liberal policy for two years.

"It will be close to confidence in that sense," he said.

He said each member of the Liberal party in the Commons will vote as his conscience dictates.

He added that there would be no problem for the government in this respect because the Liberal party already is "practically unanimous."

'KNOW DETAILS'

Mr. Pearson said he would make an announcement to the House later on the procedure in dealing with the flag question.

After the cabinet reached its decision Thursday, a resolution would be placed on the Commons order paper as quickly as possible.

In this way MPs and the public would "know the details of the action we are going to recommend."

The resolution then would become a matter of priority legislation in the Commons.

Mr. Pearson noted that in listing other priority measures in the Commons last week he reserved the right to insert other important measures as they arose.

Victoria Majority Favors Red Ensign

By JOHN MIKA

Victoria lived up to its "little bit of olde England" image today—as far as waving the Union Jack is concerned anyway.

A small sampling of civic and community leaders showed most in favor of keeping the Red Ensign — or at the very least incorporating the Union Jack in any new version.

Only Mayor R. B. Wilson bucked the trend head-on and came out in favor of a distinctively Canadian flag — although some indicated they would go along with such a development if it won majority support across the nation.

Esquimalt Reve A. C. Wurtle was the most vehement defender of the traditional Red Ensign.

"This is my Canada and this is my flag and, God help me, I would be very disappointed if they took it away from me," he said.

He said he was reluctant to criticize Prime Minister Pearson's suggestion that the Red Ensign should be replaced by a new emblem "but I must admit he disappointed me very much.

"It was established by our forefathers and it is truly representative of our nation."

Mayor Wilson said it would be heart-wrenching to see the Red Ensign or Union Jack no longer used "but we must be realistic.

"I would favor a new and distinctive design, not because I

CAR "EXPLODED"

Allison's car was thrown back 50 feet from the point of impact and a policeman at the scene said it looked as if it had "exploded."

Pieces were scattered for 60 feet around. Both Allison and Miss Hoegi stayed in the car although their seats were thrown out and were picked up 12 feet from the wreck.

Perry was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital and later transferred to Naden Hospital. It was expected he would be discharged today. Allison is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Miss Hoegi graduated from Esquimalt High School. She was a native Victorian and for the past year had been employed as a clerk-typist at B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

Unemployment Total Well Down From '63 Level

OTTAWA (CP) — Persons claiming unemployment insurance benefits at March 31 totalled 597,300, down 10,000 from Feb. 28 and 88,000 below the March 29, 1963, figure of 685,300, the bureau of statistics said today.

The February-to-March decline occurred among regular claimants for unemployment insurance, a normal occurrence for this period of the year. The number of persons claiming seasonal benefits increased.

Males accounted for about 80 per cent of the March 31 total.

A total of 182,300 initial and renewal claims were filed in local offices of the Unemployment Insurance Commission during March, as against 171,600 in February and 195,000 in March, 1963. With claims by persons seeking re-establishment of credit excluded, the total of new cases in March is reduced to about 136,000.

TYPICAL of crowds that thronged to Victoria Day celebrations over the holiday weekend was this gathering on the steps of the Legislative Buildings to watch Mayor R. B. Wilson crown May Queen Linda Gower.

U.S. TAKES FIRM STAND

Laos Situation Critical

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman said today the United States is "not ruling out" any measures—possibly including military moves—which it may find necessary "to preserve the neutrality and independence of Laos."

That was the answer given when the state department's press officer was asked at a press conference whether the United States might send troops into Thailand as was done in a period of crisis in Laos two years ago.

Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said the latest reports to the state department show that Communist Pathet Lao attacks are continuing in the Plaine des Jarres against forces loyal to the neutralist government of Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

Other officials said the attacks could result in destroying the neutralist forces under Gen. Kong Le and wrecking the whole internationally agreed neutralization program in Laos.

BACKED BY REDS

McCloskey declared the Pathet Lao attacks, which officials say is supported by battle-hardened elements from Communist North Viet Nam "have seriously threatened Souvanna Phouma's government and the fabric of the Geneva agreement's neutralizing laos in 1962."

So far, McCloskey said, United States activity has been concentrated on diplomatic efforts to stop the fighting. The U.S. has asked its Southeast Asia Treaty Organization allies to be on alert, appealed to Britain and Russia for co-operation and asked Britain, France and Pakistan to intercede with Communist China.

Meanwhile in Laos Kong Le set up a command post at Ban Khong, six miles southwest of Muong Pahnh, his former headquarters, which he was forced to abandon when neuralist positions on the Plaine des Jarres in central Laos were overrun Sunday.

Reports here have said the Pathet Lao gave Kong Le until today to surrender.

300 DEAD

A western officer, who flew back from a visit to Ban Khong, said Le's headquarters reported that neuralist forces had to leave 300 dead and wounded behind in their retreat from the plain.

He also said he saw about 130 badly wounded soldiers at Bang Khong airstrip awaiting evacuation.

Member Of Russian Presidium Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — A new shift in the Soviet Union's top command likely will result from the death of Otto Kussinen, 82, Finnish member of the Communist party's 12-man presidium and one of the last old Bolsheviks.

Kussinen was appointed to the presidium at Premier Khrushchev's bidding after the ouster of Georgi Malenkov, Vyacheslav Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich in 1957. His death from cancer of the liver was announced Sunday.

He was one of the last direct links of the party leadership with Lenin.

It was not known whether Khrushchev would cut short his visit to Egypt to attend Kussinen's state funeral in Moscow Tuesday.

There was speculation, however, that Khrushchev would speed home to partake in the appointment of Kussinen's successor.

it's time dad had a phone of his own

For today's teenagers the telephone is an important part of growing up.

They are preparing to take over a world in which speed of communication will play a vital role in every aspect of living. But for the moment this fact doesn't console Dad too much when he wants to use the phone himself.

For Dad, it's sometimes like having a phone with a lock and chain round it.

Modern problems call for modern solutions. That's why second lines are becoming increasingly popular with so many of today's busy households. Once the family starts growing up, it's high time Dad had a phone of his own, with a separate connection to the outside world.

The cost is small in relation to the convenience and harmony it brings. And, of course, Dad gets his own individual listing in the telephone directory free of charge – another big advantage for the man who handles out-of-hours business calls at his home.

Call your nearest B.C. TEL Business Office this week and discover how easy it is to have a time-saving, temper-soothing second line installed in your home.
